Host Of New Faces In 1923 Wisconsin State Legislature

LaFollette and Blaine To Be In Complete Control As Voters Indorse Nearly All Of Their Candidates.

Madison—The 1923 Wisconsin legislature when it meets Jan. 10 will have but 29 out of 80 assemblymen outside of Milwaukee in attendance who were members of the 1921 session and but 16 out of 25 senators, Elmer S. Hall, secretary of state, announced Saturday on the basis of complete certification of members of the legislature in counties other than Milwaukee.

Of the 80 assemblymen included in the list announced by the secretary of state, 57 were indorsed by the LaFollette faction of the Republican party. Among the state senators 15 out of the 26 members of the upper house from counties other than Milwaukee, were indorsed by the LaFollette forces. This assures control of the legislature to Gov. J. J. Blaine.

Following are the members of the legislature, officially certified by the secretary of state, for all counties except Milwaukee:

PRESIDENT TO VETO SOLDIER BONUS BILL

Harding Will Send Message to House Tuesday, Advisors Declare

SENATE O. K.'S MEASURE

Fate of Compensation Now in Hands of Chief Executive

BULLETIN

Washington—President Harding has definitely decided to veto the soldiers' bonus bill and will send his message to the house Tuesday, according to some of his close advisers who have talked with him recently.

Washington—Fate of the soldiers' bonus bill rests with President Harding. The senate on Friday adopted the conference report on the measure and it now goes to the president for his approval or veto.

An extended parliamentary controversy followed by only a handful of senators occurred in the senate when Senator Harrison, Democrat, Mississippi, made a point of order against the conferees' action in striking out the Smith McNary land reclamation amendment. Senators Ashurst, Democrat, Arizona, and Harrison, contended that the conferees had exceeded their authority in striking out matter agreed to by both senate and house and sought to send the bill back to conference. The motion was defeated. A similar point of order in the house was overruled by Speaker Gillette.

WISCONSIN POTATO MARKET

Madison—Potatoes—carlot shipments from Wisconsin past 24 hours, 53 cars; total for the United States, 100 cars. Demand and movement good, market steady.

Other sections in Antigo section; moderate movement reported. Sacked and bulk round whites United States grade No. 1, best stock 90 cents to $1.20.

Madison—Demand and movement moderate, market steady; jobbing sales. United States grade No. 1, round white and Irish cobbles 1.40 to 1.60, early Ohio 1.20 to 1.40.

AMERICANS WIN

First, The Western Union Telegraph company has been granted a permanent license for the landing of its cable at Miami, Fla., which connects at Barbados with the British owned company's cable from Brazil.

The permit was granted as soon as the Brazilian government canceled the monopoly possessed by the British company so that now the All-American Cable company can land cables anywhere along the coast of Brazil and carry them from point to point.

Up to this time the All America company has had to stretch a separate cable from Argentina to two separate points in Brazil because the landing of cables from one Brazilian port to another was exclusively the privilege of the British company.

Second, The All America Cable company renounced its monopolies on the west coast of South America so the Western Union and its British ally in the cable business now can encircle South America. All monopolies are given up by everybody concerned. This action was the result of the influence of the department of state.

Third, The desire of the All America Cable company for a collecting agency has been realized. After years of negotiation during which it

STATE, FARMERS ENTER MILK WAR

Unfair Competition Is Charged Against Cooperative Company

By Associated Press

Madison—An action against the Milk Producers' Cooperative Marketing company, a cooperative association of 6,000 southern Wisconsin farmers, was commenced Saturday by the state department of markets. Unfair methods of competition on the part of the farmer members of the organization are charged by the department in its complaint.

Hearing on this litigation ever begun by the state against a farmers' cooperative association is set for Monday, Oct. 2 when the department of markets will determine whether the company shall be ordered to retract which it is now making with dealers.

Reach Men, 19 Days In Mine, Sunday, Hope

By Associated Press

Jackson, Calif.—The rescuers will break through Sunday into the Argonaut mine where 47 men have been imprisoned since Aug. 27, according to a unanimous statement made here at 10:30 Saturday by the government, state and mine officials.

Rescue crews with drills were boring through the final barrier of quartz and slate almost a mile down in the Argonaut gold workings.

Booyed by the knowledge that the end of their feverish, ceaseless labor was near at hand, rescue crews fell to work with a vigor that promised to bear out a prediction that the imprisoned men would be reached late Sunday or Monday.

'FIRE STRIKE BREAKERS' IS UNION DEMAND

Shopcraft Leaders On Northwestern Road Insist on Claims

Latest Hitch Will Not Prevent Men From Returning To Work, Say Officials

By Associated Press

Chicago—While several railroads Saturday were negotiating separate agreements with their shopcraft workers in accord with the union partial settlement plan, and others were preparing to meet representatives of their own employees outside the settlement plan, it was learned that some of the shopcraft leaders on the Chicago and Northwestern railroad were demanding the dismissal of men hired to fill the places of union men who went on a strike July 1.

The hitch will not prevent return of the men to work by Monday, officials of the road said. It was pointed out, however, that the unions settlement plan did not call for discharging of employees already at work.

MAKES OWN SETTLEMENT

The Chicago, Great Western and the Chicago and Alton railroads soon are expected to follow the lead of the Chicago, Burlington and Quincy which Friday reached an agreement with its own shopcraft workers by which skilled mechanical crafts were granted a wage rate ranging from 63 to 85 cents an hour in place of the railroad labor boards flat 70 cent rate.

The Burlington was one of the roads which flatly refused to enter the partial settlement agreement.

Sixteen railroads had signed separate agreements with their shopcraft unions Saturday through pre-war methods in vogue before the United States Labor board was created as arbiter of disputes between railways and their employees.

PRE-WAR BASIS

These settlements, however, according to Ben W. Hooper, chairman of the board do not repudiate the board but rather are "entirely in accord with the transportation act."

With court adjourned until Monday a full session of the government's injunction proceedings before Judge James H. Wilkerson.

Defense attorneys will open their fight on the injunction Monday Judge Wilkerson told the opposing lawyers that the restraining order will not be renewed when it expires Sept. 21 unless the injunction hearing is completed then.

FAIL TO AGREE

Washington—General chairman of striking shopcraft unions and officials of the Southern Railway and officials of the road failed Saturday to reach an agreement to settle the strike on the basis of Warfield-Willard-Jewell proposal adopted by the general policy committee of the shopcrafts.

PENNSYLVANIA SIGNS

Cleveland, O.—An agreement has been reached between general chairmen of the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen and the Order of Railway Conductors with officials of the Pennsylvania Railroad over wages and working conditions. W. G. Lee, president of the trainmen announced here Saturday upon his return from New York.

IMPEACHMENT PLAN LAX

Washington—Declination of Representative Keller, Republican, Minnesota, to present evidence Saturday in support of his impeachment charges against Attorney General Daugherty as the result of the strike injunction brought about an adjournment of the house judiciary committee after an hour's session at which it heard Mr. Keller present a general preliminary statement.

RICKENBACHER WEDS FORMER RIVAL'S WIFE

New York—Saptain Eddie Rickenbacker, American ace, was married Saturday at Sound Beach Presbyterian church, Greenwich, Conn., to Mrs. Adelaide F. Durant, divorced wife of a former rival of the American flyer in automobile racing. They sailed on the Majestic for a honeymoon in Europe.

PEACE MOVE HALTED

Madison—Railroad shopmen on the Chicago Milwaukee and St. Paul railway are to hold another meeting Saturday afternoon with J. S. MacDonald, division superintendent, before going back to work. Return to their jobs was halted Friday when orders were received by Mr. MacDonald instructing him to deal with only six out of the seven union crafts here. The men have decided not to go back until all are given their old jobs.

FLOCK TO DEPOT

Members of railroads had received notice to meet at the municipal playgrounds at 2:30 Friday afternoon. Headed by the band, 13 women and 156 men formed a parade and traversed the principal streets of the city.

WHERE ALL TROUBLE IS BREWING

MAP SHOWING THE TROUBLE AREA OF ASIA MINOR, WHERE TURKEY GAVE GREECE A DRUBBING.

BY WILLIAM PHILIP SIMMS

Washington—Too many of us are inclined to give the Greeks the laugh for having received a drubbing at the hands of the Turks in Asia Minor, then forget the thing.

Nothing could be a bigger mistake. The Greeks looked for trouble, certainly, and they found it. King Tino asked for a licking, and he got it. In all of which we concur. BUT—

The Turkish victory is not the end of a perfect day but only the beginning of an unpleasant one—or rather the continuation of one—just one more episode in the European tragedy now going on. The episode, however, may have stupendous repercussions later on.

Mustapha Kemal is friendly with Soviet Russia. Russia is now virtually the ally of Germany. Let us not forget that, nor that the Turkish victory over the Greeks will not go unnoticed anywhere in the Musselman world.

Europe is still a budding cauldron of opposing interests, of conflicting ambitions. Hatreds are still at the boiling point. Poverty and hunger are the driving forces of certain of the nations, and almost daily we are hearing open threats of this country making common cause with that country in the event another country attempts this and so.

The military "comeback" of Turkey in Asia Minor has set Constantinople mad with joy, according to the cables. Will Turkey long keep to herself the dissatisfaction she so keenly feels over her situation in Europe? England has opposed Turkey—Turkey has been England and India—What view will London now take of the matter?

France has been friendly with Turkey. What will Paris say? Turkey can make trouble for England in India and Egypt. Will she make demands on Great Britain?

Poetic justice maybe, but assuredly there is nothing to laugh over in the debacle. The reentry into the arena of a powerful fighting force—and no one save those who have never come in contact with the Turks deny they can be a powerful fighting force—merely serves to render an already grave situation more critical still.

DECIDE ON POLICY

Belgrade—Rumania and Jugo-Slavia have completed an exchange of views regarding the attitude they will adopt in the case the Bulgarians advance toward Saloniki, according to the newspaper Politika.

Greece, the newspaper adds, again has drawn the attention of the Belgrade government to the Bulgarian military preparations on the Greek frontier and has asked Jugo-Slavia to support the Greek viewpoint in regard to Thrace.

Jugo-Slovakian cabinet members have been recalled to the capital in view of the gravity of the situation. The government has decided to participate in the conference of powers to settle the Near Eastern question.

London—Succeeding dispatches from Constantinople, Athens and other centers of information in the Near East only tend to magnify the tale of the tragedy in Smyrna.

The greater part of the city is in ruins, laid waste by a conflagration of incendiary origin and the flames, according to latest account had reached the waterfront, where the quays were crowded with fear crazed Christian refugees who fled to the city as the nearest port of escape from the Turks.

Many have thrown themselves into the water rather than run the risk of being burned alive or facing Mustapha Kemal's soldiers, drunk with victory and fired with religious fanaticism.

Estimates of the number killed vary greatly, and the latest Athens despatch quotes an information in the Near East only tend to magnify the tale of the tragedy in Smyrna.

There had been 120,000 victims and it is thought that this figure may include wounded also as previous reports placed the number of dead at from 1,000 to 2,000.

Meanwhile the Turkish forces in the north have continued their advance, and almost simultaneously with the but in other classes of merchandise will be arrayed in the show windows of the interior of Appleton business houses. Stores will not be open for business, however, other than the stores that are usually open evenings.

Brilliant shades of early autumn and mellow hues of the fading season, soft amber lights and illumination of rainbow colors are only a few of the modes of decoration that are to be used to enhance the showing of the various displays.

The attractions for Monday evening include a parade featuring the 1923 automobile models and led by the Artillery band, an automobile exposition on Soldier square, and a free pavement dance on Morrison-st. near College-ave to the music of the Artillery band.

SOCIALISTS' EXECUTIVE BODY HOLDS MEETING

Philadelphia—The national executive committee of the Socialist party met here Saturday to discuss routine executive business and plan congressional campaigns in various states. Those present included Victor Berger of Milwaukee, Chairman Edmund T. Melms, Milwaukee, is absent, being engaged in a congressional campaign.

CALLED TO MEETING

Escanaba, Mich.—Chairman Fred C. Birk of the local federated shopcrafts on the Chicago and Northwestern Saturday received a telegram summoning him to a meeting of the shopcraft workers in Chicago Monday.

CONSTANTINOPLE—British headquarters announced that Field Marshal Viscount French, is expected to arrive here shortly.

Reports were current that the Allied warships were bombarding Smyrna but investigation showed that the cannonading was the work of the Kemalists coast batteries which were attacking the remainder of the Greek forces evacuating the Cheshire Peninsula.

CALL DENTISTS TO TESTIFY IN SAILSTAD SUIT

Height and Sex of Bones Form Principal Controversy

By Associated Press

Superior—Several local dentists were to be called to the witness stand in federal court here Saturday to support testimony given by expert on the Salsstad trial that the jawbone taken from the ruins of a Lake Nebagamon, Wis., cottage corresponds to an x-ray photograph taken of Edward J. Salsstad's jaw prior to his mysterious disappearance. Mrs. Leona Salsstad-Richardson claims her first husband perished in the cottage fire. For two days her attorneys have produced experts to give proof that the charred bones are those of Salsstad's, with a view to collecting $10,000 insurance on the missing Eau Claire manufacturer carried with the New York Life Insurance company.

Unsuccessful attempts were made by counsel for the defense to force Dr. W. E. Sullivan, professor of anatomy at the University of Wisconsin to state on the witness stand Friday that his authority for determining the height of the person whose bones were found in the 1923 cabin was not generally recognized. Dr. Sullivan who was on the stand most of the day was subjected to a lengthy cross examination about his qualifications to testify as an expert relative to the question of identifying the charred jaw bone.

During the discussion of technical points in connection with determining the height and sex of the person whose bones were removed from the cabin ruins, and the means of identifying the jaw bone, the jurors leaned forward in their seats and apparently vainly endeavoring to intelligently follow the proceedings.

WISCONSIN WOMAN, 100, HOLDS CELEBRATION

By Associated Press

Janesville—Mrs. Carl Eichstaedt, of Clarno Green county has just celebrated her one hundredth birthday. Up to the time she was 99 years old she has split the family wood, done the farm chores and mowed the lawn. She wore no glasses until an illness a year ago impaired her vision.

STYLE REVUE TO CONTINUE ALL THRU WEEK

Although special free attractions have been provided only for Monday evening, the Fall Fashion Revue promoted by the Appleton Advertising club will be in progress all next week.

From the time the lights are turned on and the show windows are unveiled at 7 o'clock Monday evening, there will be hundreds of beautiful things to see for all the members of the family. The event is expected to attract many local and out of town residents who are eager to inspect the newest fall creations.

Special imported goods from Europe and only in the wearing apparel line, but in other classes of merchandise will be arrayed in the show windows of the interior of Appleton business houses. Stores will not be open for business, however, other than the stores that are usually open evenings.

500 GREET PAIR FREED FROM JAIL

Kaukauna—Chicago and Northwestern train, No. 113, due at the north station at 3 o'clock steamed into town at 3:40 Friday afternoon to discharge two passengers. Amidst the ringing cheers of approximately 500 men and women and the strains of "Hail, Hail, the Gang's All Here" by the band, James Kromfust and Joseph Zink, railroad shopmen who were sentenced to 20 days in the house of correction in Milwaukee for alleged violation of the injunction act, stepped off the train and were greeted in royal fashion.

The men were arrested on complaint of James Flynn of Little Chute, charged with interfering with and preventing Mr. Flynn from going to his duties in the railroad shops during the strike. Mr. Kromfust is secretary of one of the local shop unions.

FORD CLOSES PLANT; 100,000 TO BE IDLE

Detroit—As a protest against paying what he believes to be exorbitant prices for coal and steel, Henry Ford Saturday began the process of closing up his huge industry. With the suspension complete when the last shift of workers leaves the various factories Saturday night approximately 100,000 men will have been rendered idle for an indefinite period.

More Homes Will Be Built This Fall if Loan Applications
Can Be Filled

So great have been the demands for loans for home building in Appleton, that the board of directors of the Appleton Building and Loan association, meeting in the Citizens bank Thursday evening laid plans for inaugurating another campaign for stock. Advance will be made for about $25,000. Applications for loans now at hand have reached the sum of $40,000. The building season was at first considered closed but now more homes are to be built this fall if the stock can be secured. The next meeting of the directors will be held at the city hall and will be open to the public.

END OF CABLE WAR BOOSTS RADIO ERA

seemed as if the Western Union would make an agreement with the All American Cable company to forward messages to South America by originating in this country through an American instead of a British concern. The Postal Telegraph company has been prevailed upon to act as the American collecting medium. This means that messages from the United States will go direct to South America. The Postal Telegraph company has been prevailed upon to act as the American collecting medium. This means that messages from the United States will go direct to South America.

IMPROVED SERVICE

Fourth the addition of the Miami cable means improved communication to South America because it has been all too obvious in the last two years that the All American Cable company could not handle all the business. The direct line from Florida to the Barbados and Brazil will mean quick service to Brazil and the Western Union is also making arrangements to reach points on the west coast of South America through at present the All American cable.

Fifth, the addition of the Postal Telegraph company to act for the American Radio corporation in the same collecting capacity that it is to act for the All American Cable company is a significant step forward in the development of world communication. For one reason or another, heretofore, the Western Union has declined to permit the sending of messages at interior points in the United States to mark a message for Europe via radio. The Western Union has accepted messages from shore to ship but not between the United States and Great Britain, for example, if the sender marked "via radio." The general supposition has been that the Western Union which has cable lines of its own across the Atlantic was not going to compete with itself by accepting messages for Europe that would be transmitted across the Atlantic by radio and thus be obliged to give a portion of the sender's fee to the radio company. Radio rates, furthermore, are cheaper in many instances than cable so it was felt that to furnish the American Radio corporation with a means of collecting messages throughout the United States by giving them the advantage of the thousands of Western Union offices might be an unwise business move.

Clarence H. Mackler, president of the Postal Telegraph and Cable company, which also has cables of its own, took a different view, however, of the transatlantic business. He felt that if radio could be used for many messages it would relieve congestion and make cable communication quicker and thus tempt business men to use the cables more frequently and to better advantage.

on their way to the depot to meet the returning brother members. The train was late and by the time it arrived the crowd about the depot grounds had grown to approximately 500 persons nearly all of whom joined in the line of march after the first greetings of the two men were over.

Kromfuss and Zink returned hundreds of handshakes and personal greetings and had not a member of the police department opened a path for the two men the rest of their reception would have been delayed considerably. Occupying a place of honor at the head of the returning parade, the two men were escorted through the streets to the playgrounds.

A mass meeting followed with talks by Mayor C. E. Raught, city attorney Joseph Lefevre and A. R. McDonough. The speakers outlined the injunction which caused the arrest of the two men and declared that their return home marked the end of a period of sentence unjustly given. They were lauded for their loyalty to help their cause in attempting to induce but not force men to help the cause of the strikers in staying away from the shops.

2 ACCIDENT VICTIMS IMPROVE AT HOSPITAL

Two recent accident victims who were seriously injured and taken to St. Elizabeth hospital are improving rapidly, although it is not certain when they will be removed to their homes. One is Fred Lietz, the Post-Crescent carrier boy whose skull was fractured on Friday, Sept. 8 during the storm. The other is Mrs. Stuyvenberg of Kimberly who was injured Saturday evening on College-ave. where both she and her husband were struck by Ralph Kolb.

FOUR GROCERS ELECTED CONVENTION DELEGATES

Peter Schaefer, H. Rademacher, William Becher and Walter Trettn were elected as delegates to the annual state convention of the Wisconsin Retail Grocers association at Milwaukee next month, at a meeting of Appleton Grocers association. As a pure food show is to be held in connection with the convention it is expected a large number of local grocers will attend.

'Y' DORMITORY TO BE ERECTED WHEN MONEY IS RAISED

Directors Defer Campaign Until Annual Drive for Members is Completed

The drive for funds with which to build the new dormitory addition of the Appleton Y. M. C. A. will not be undertaken until after the completion of the membership campaign, which will begin Oct. 6 it was decided definitely at a meeting of the board of directors Thursday afternoon. Twelve of the fifteen directors were present. It was also decided not to proceed with the erection of the addition until all funds have been secured. About 65 per cent of the necessary funds have already been received. The action of the board was in confirmation of the report submitted by the commission on the dormitory addition. It was felt that, much as the room is needed, it was best to wait until all funds have been collected. It is possible that the work may yet be under taken this winter.

Victor Jensen of Eau Claire a brother of A. P. Jensen, physical director, was engaged as office secretary. He went to Insinn, Wisconsin, to see the former held a similar position in the Eau Claire association.

All the outside woodwork and metal of the Y. M. C. A. building are to be repainted and a call will be issued for bids soon, the directors determined. It was at first felt that the work should wait until after the completion of the new dormitory addition but on reconsideration it was decided that the work was so necessary as to be done this fall.

A contract for more than 30 magazine subscriptions was awarded to an Appleton magazine agency. The directors also voted to replace all the magazine covers with flexible leather covers. The special discount rates on September membership renewals, as recommended by the commission, were approved. Reports of various departments were heard and received.

VIOLATE BEE LAWS; STATE CONVICTS

Campaign Against Diseased Bees Is Being Pushed Vigorously

Enforcement of the Wisconsin bee inspection laws is being vigorously carried out by the state apiculture division, the state department of agriculture made known Thursday.

Triple violation of the inspection laws was charged against George Zwartz of Fond du Lac early this week by the state department in a legal action brought against the man. He is alleged to have sold bees to two neighbors.

After a permit had been refused. It is charged also that he violated an order requiring him to apply remedial measures to cure his diseased bees.

The state law requires a permit of inspection certificate before bees or bee supplies can be moved or sold. This provision of the statutes is said to be the most effective preventative measure to head off spread of disease.

Edwin R. Zindais of Watertown was also fined recently for bringing diseased bees from Dodge county into an area which had been cleaned up after the honey crop. The county department announced Jefferson county apiculture in which bee diseases had been rampant for nearly 50 years were found practically all healthy this year as a result of a cleanup campaign, according to the department.

WON'T ENFORCE SPUD INSPECTION

Grading This Year Will Be Made by State Only on Request of Shipper

Compulsory carlot potato inspection will not be enforced by the state department of markets this year. B. E. Jones in charge of standardization and inspection for the department, announced Friday. Instead a cooperative voluntary service maintained by the state and federal government is to be instituted.

The change in the plan of potato inspection will do away with all but 25 of the 400 inspectors who were employed during the last season. Official

PASTOR FROM GERMANY TO SPEAK HERE SUNDAY

The Rev. M. Richter who is here from Germany, will preach the sermon Sunday morning at Emanuel Evangelical church. The Rev. Mr. Richter is in this country as a delegate to the general Evangelical conference which will be held in Detroit, Nov. 5.

Inspections hereafter will be made on application to the supervisor of the district in which the shipper does business, with a fee of $3 a car established.

Mr. Jones said the state grading rules will be enforced more strictly than ever before. Shippers are held responsible for carrying out grading regulations which if violated subject the guilty party to a $500 fine or imprisonment for six months. The department may also revoke the right of any violator to use the state grades.

Leonard Viestentz vs. August Viestentz and Louisa Viestentz and George Curtis vs. H. G. Price.

The September term of court opens Monday, Sept. 18, but the jury will not be called in until later, the exact date to be fixed by the court after the calendar has been called. The next naturalization hearing will be held Thursday, Nov. 9.

ASKS THAT SON'S BODY BE SENT HERE

Edward Abendroth of Grand Chute will make an attempt to have the body of his son, Henry Abendroth who was shot and killed in Montana Aug. 30, conveyed to a local cemetery, in spite of the fact that he has already been buried in a cemetery at Harding, Mont.

Word had been sent to Chief George T. Prim that the corpse was not in a condition to ship but the man's father has requested that it be exhumed and brought here. He has not yet received any information from the authorities as to the circumstances of the killing. The son was buried on Sept. 3 even before Mr. Abendroth knew he was dead.

The boy would have been 21 years of age last Monday, had he lived. He is survived by his father, two brothers Elmer Milwaukee and Arthur, Grand Chute and three sisters, Elsie, Esther and Dorothy. Grand Chute. The mother died three years ago.

COUNTY RECEIVES AUTO FEES CHECK

State Apportionment $20,892.57 as Share—More Than $4,000,000 Collected

Louis A. Peterson, county treasurer, received $20,892.57 from the state treasurer at Madison Friday, representing the apportionment due Outagamie county from the state for motor license fees.

A total of $4,085,845 was collected by the state in auto licenses during the fiscal year ending June 30. Administration of the law cost $178,706.62, leaving a total of $3,907,138.20.

Of this sum 25 per cent is apportioned to the counties for highway maintenance in proportion to the number of automobiles licensed in each county. The sum apportioned among the 73 counties of the state is $976,784.60.

The balance of the fund, or 75 per cent, is apportioned to the highways to be expended under state direction. This sum is $2,930,353.78.

According to the records compiled by the secretary of state as a basis of this apportionment, 33,754 automobiles, 24,214 trucks, 2,057 motorcycles and 4,813 dealers were operating in the state July 1.

MUST FILL OUT BLANK FOR HUNTING LICENSE

Hunting licenses cannot be issued by county clerks until the regular application form required by law is filled out, the conservation commission declared in a statement Thursday.

The only exception is where a man identified personally by the clerk brings in his license for the previous year, but in this case he must fill out and send in the application blank later.

County clerks are prohibited from issuing licenses to several members of a family upon the personal application of one member without the full number of proper applications being executed.

The deed in each transfer was recorded in the register of deeds of Rice Friday.

RIDE MANY MILES ON FOOL'S ERRAND

Officials from City in Michigan Confused Two Highway Celebrations

A party of tourists from Hancock Mich., came to Appleton on a fool's errand Friday morning. They were bound for Oshkosh with the intention of participating in the Greater Sheridan Road celebration that was to have taken place in Menominee park there Friday.

Although a single announcement appeared in the Associated Press papers stating that the celebration had been postponed on account of the Milwaukee Sentinel celebration of the opening of highway 15 no letters had been sent to the officials in cities on the route which had been invited. It is believed that other Michigan cities had sent delegations that returned when they learned of the postponement of the celebration.

The Hancock party consisted of

OPENING HIGHWAY 15

The formal opening of Highway 15, which completes the ribbon of concrete that joins St. Louis, Missouri, with Green Bay, is an event of importance, to three states, and incidentally to the great Mississippi Valley.

Wisconsin's investment in this progressive enterprise, that has created one of the finest and best known highways in all America, is approximately $4,000,000.

We doubt if the people of this commonwealth have ever applied a similar sum to a better public purpose, schools excepted.

Less than ten years ago Wisconsin was notorious for its bad roads. Today it stands in the front ranks of the states which possess the best highways.

Route 15 is perhaps the best of all our trunk highways, but we have scores of others that with their laterals, are the equal of any roads in the country.

This investment by Wisconsin of millions in good roads is one of the chief guarantees of our future as a state. It will have as much to do with the happiness, contentment and prosperity of our people as any one activity in which it can engage.

The formal opening of Highway 15 signifies the completion of permanently improved roads throughout the state as rapidly as they can be built. It means we are going to make Wisconsin 100 per cent good roads.

DRESSING WOMEN

Paul Poiret, famous creator of styles, says Parisian fashions will be driven out of America by the new tariff with its 90 per cent duty on imported feminine garments. Poiret predicts that prohibition of beautiful clothes is to follow prohibition of liquor. This, of course, is talk. A tariff might stop the importation of finished garments. But nothing can stop the spread and copying of styles. That is, nothing except common sense.

The tariff, says Poiret, "may even keep away the trailing skirts of the Italian Renaissance which are the approaching Paris fashion." If the tariff can prevent a return of sidewalk-sweeping germ-collecting skirts, it should be given a rising vote of thanks, especially by babies crawling about their mothers' feet. A trailing skirt can carry more disease than an army of rats.

Nine months ago the manikins employed by M. Poiret paraded in Parisian hoop-skirts, trying to resurrect that style. Poiret overlooked the fact that the hoop-skirt is a physical impossibility in modern America. "It couldn't be gotten through the door of an average apartment, let alone a street car, auto or theatre seat. The only possible way in which a hoop-skirt could be used now would be in a farm-field or for transporting a few cases of liquor under cover.

Some things Parisian are good in the United States. If the tariff will help to keep out those that are not it may find some friends after all.

MOUNT VERNON

In the past fiscal year 236,000 persons visited Washington's home at Mt. Vernon, about sixteen miles from the nation's capital. Would you say that this is a good showing for the people of this land? We do not think it is. Many who visit the capital, ride about town and see the buildings and principal places of interest. Yet, there is a large number who do not ride out to Mt. Vernon. Distinguished foreigners never fail to pay their respects to the great man whose indomitable will won independence and instituted modern republicanism.

The Washington guest at Mt. Vernon.

consists of more than Washington's home. In the grounds is the tomb of one of the most magnificent figures in history. It should be every American's desire to visit Mt. Vernon. And everybody who goes to the capital should regard it as a personal duty to pay homage to Washington in the place where he lived and where his body is at rest.

TIN SOLDIER IN THE SCRAPHEAP

This is interesting news which Vice Consul Schrenfelt writes from Berlin to Secretary of Commerce Hoover. "Militarism has disappeared from the German toy industry," he says. "The army corps of metal soldiers formerly manufactured in the Nuremberg factories have been suspended, and the changes in the toy trade since the close of the war constitute a miniature revolution."

The importance of this news is emphasized by the recollection that militarism was popularized in Germany by the tin soldier. The babe just able to walk learned militarism before learning its prayers, and it liked the tin soldier as much as it did father and mother. The child learned militarism in the home, and it was the same to him as home.

The German boy and girl, and the boys and girls of other nations, can count on more and greater happiness with the Nuremberg toy factories turning out other playthings than army corps. The children will think of the arts of peace.

AN EVIDENT MORAL IN TAXATION

In eighteen cities in widely scattered localities of the United States the average per capita annual municipal expense increased from $25.12 in 1918 to $39.79 three years later in 1921, according to the United States census bulletins. This nearly sixty per cent increase outclasses all previous records in the cities selected of municipal extravagance. The gross debt of 146 cities increased from $1,959,162,993 in 1909 to $5,688,100,000 in 1922. Nearly two-thirds of this increase was added in the last four years. This bonded indebtedness was represented, and largely invited, by tax-free securities.

Secretary Hoover has given it as his opinion that one of the chief reasons why railroads are unable to finance themselves is because they cannot market their securities in competition with those that are tax-free. The president of the American Farm Bureau federation says that farm taxes are increasing because of billions invested in tax-free bonds.

We are issuing tax-free bonds at the rate of more than a billion dollars annually. With this piling up of such securities it will not be many years until they relieve the larger incomes from taxation and throw back on the consumer and productive business the war burdens and the ever-mounting cost of government, for tax free bonds eventually go into the hands of those with surplus revenue. And we are constantly making it more advantageous for them to do this than to put it into producing enterprise. The late Benjamin Harrison once said that "this country cannot exist half taxed and half free." The moral is evident when we consider the problem raised by tax-free securities.

DIAPHRAGMATIC BREATHING

The diaphragm is a very busy, interesting and important muscle, voluntary up to a certain degree, yet automatic in control. It works while you sleep, while you eat, and even while you hold your breath. It is shaped like a circus tent and is stretched across the torso, dividing the chest cavity from the abdominal cavity, with its anchorage or guy lines attached to the lower ribs, spine and lower end of the sternum or breast bone. When the diaphragm contracts it flattens down, pressing the stomach and liver and other organs down, and incidentally increasing the capacity of the chest for air.

Diaphragmatic breathing is the natural and best way to breathe. It is the way we breathe when asleep or unconscious. It is the way a savage, man or woman, breathes. It is the way a civilized man breathes if he has not acquired bad breathing habits by false physical culture practices. But civilized woman with her belly restrained or splinted or put out of action by corsets and tight waistbands, breathes largely with the upper chest, in the manner called thoracic breathing, because her diaphragm is embarrassed by her clothing. And civilized woman pays dearly for this interference with nature, suffering with all sorts of disorders of the abdominal and pelvic organs. Inside weakness of her sex, but if there is any inherent weakness it is due entirely to her pathological mode of dress. Women are getting some sense nowadays and slowly but surely are graduating from abdominal splints and orthopedic support to freedom, self support and better health along with a less morbid and more wholesome state of mind. As intelligence permeates the mind of the more credulous sex the absurdity of attributing ill health of any kind to a woman's age or sex becomes more and more apparent.

Cultivate diaphragmatic breathing as a health habit, no matter about your age or sex. Here is the way to get the habit, if you have learned to breathe wrongly.

Lie on your back with both knees flexed. Place your right hand on your belly. Imagine the respiratory movement begins in the toes of your right foot and travels gradually upward to the middle of your body on the right side, across to the left side, and then gradually down to the toes of the left foot. Follow each inspiration this way up to the middle of the body and down the other side as you expire. At the same time try how high, without force, the hand is lifted as the belly bulges or expands with inspiration and how low the hand sinks as the belly falls or contracts with each expiration. Repeat some 20 times, slowly and evenly, every night and every morning. This simple exercise has cured many functional disorders of young women.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Lettuce and Lettuce

Is lettuce wholesome food when put up in fruit jars the same as spinach, etc. for winter use?—Mrs. J. H. R.

Answer.—I have no knowledge of its palatability but it would be quite as wholesome as canned spinach or other vegetable. Couldn't head lettuce be kept as cabbage is kept for winter?

Bad Case

Please tell me what excessive Cardiac Arrhythmia is and how it can be cured.—M. S. C.

Answer.—Cardiac means lack of rhythm or to the heart. Arrhythmia means lack of rhythm or absence of rhythm. It sounds like a $60 way of saying irregular heart action. What the cause or cure of that may be of course, I have no idea, not having examined the patient.

The Sleepy Ace

My daughter is 14 years of age. How many hours of sleep does she need? How many pounds should she weigh?—Mrs. M. J.

Answer.—Ten hours. One hundred pounds, or at any rate that is the average weight for girls aged 14, 60 inches tall.

Farsighted

I am 23, have worn glasses 10 years for far sightedness. Can I still be fitted with glasses when I grow old? I wear pretty heavy glasses now. Is there danger of children going blind? I had scarlet fever when a child—could that have left my eyes weak? No others of our family wear glasses.—Mrs. L. F.

Answer.—No particular danger of going blind. You should have your eyes examined at such intervals as your oculist suggests. By wearing the proper glasses you can save your eyesight. The scarlet fever probably had nothing to do with it.

Daily Editorial Digest

(Title Reg. U. S. Pat. Off.)

Resume of American and Foreign Newspaper Opinion

SWEDEN ON WAY TO JOIN THE UNITED STATES.

The close result of the recent liquor election in Sweden rather emphasizes the growth of the prohibition sentiment in the world, the editors who have analyzed the result seem to think. They point out that the liquor consumption has been regulated there for fifty years and that the vote cast in favor of abolition was at least a surprise.

The vote "is not binding upon the Parliament," the Willsboro RECORD points out and the large dry vote was the result of profound emphasis upon the moral issue in liquor. If a prohibition referendum were to be taken in the United States a wet majority might be the result, but we believe that nine out of ten wets would vote solely because of personal craving for liquor—of personal slavery. The individual appetite, a diseased condition of body and mind, is the greatest obstacle in the way of effective enforcement in the United States." The Saginaw NEWS COURIER also would like to know "just how much, if any, effect was had by the French protest, unofficially conveyed. It is understood that France caused it to be known that if Sweden went dry then all business relations between the two countries would be at an end, and Sweden sells quite a quantity of goods of one kind or another to France." The Boston TRANSCRIPT interprets the result as "a victory for sane and moderate prohibition. Sweden is determined to proceed sanely along the road to prohibition. If liquor is to be banished, it will be done only after a referendum has made it certain that the people will uphold and obey the parliamentary statute prescribing prohibition as the law of the land."

The St. Paul hints, the New York GLOBE says, that prohibition is not a sign of American narrowness and "the prohibition movement, arising from a recognition of the social evil of drunkenness, society assumes the right to prevent any of its members from committing acts that will render them dangerous to others or which are likely to make them public charges. This argument with commendable force is advanced by the Scandinavian conception of the right of society to regulate the individual for the general good as it will to Americans. The principle of social control of alcohol is probably coming to stay, not only in the United States but throughout all of the highly industrial countries." There also is little connection, as the Milwaukee SENTINEL sees it, between the Swedish result and this country, although "the net result is a technical victory for the wets." The local surprise feature was the women's vote, which is said to have followed very closely that of the men, only a slightly larger proportion of women than men voting for the prohibition amendment." But the principle of the amendment was a sane and fair one, the New York WORLD insists, and "the American method of putting off prohibition by legislative hook or crook makes a poor showing by contrast with Sweden's appeal to the referendum in advancing its statutory action on a question so vitally affecting national habits." The vote simply continues, the Brooklyn EAGLE adds, "the Gothenburg plan of liquor regulation with the modification which fifty years of experience have suggested. Prohibitionists complained that Sweden was being transformed into a country of moderate drinkers. They have been a hot campaign since. They have been told that 'not so overwhelmingly' as to end their so-called prohibition issue is still possible in Swedish politics."

The New York TRIBUNE, discussing the prohibitionists, says that "as in America they were well organized and brought every kind of pressure to bear for complete prohibition. The fruit of their efforts is shown in the closeness of the vote. On the other hand reports from Sweden indicate that their opponents were unorganized. The present indications are that the rationing system is of great interest in the result. This country is due, the Ad. TELEGRAM believes, to the fact "the election was fought out largely on the basis of American experience, the operation of prohibition in this country furnishing most of the campaign arguments for wets and dries. This will continue to be true, so the future of prohibition in Sweden will depend largely on its success in this country. The wets here and there tussle on this question and dry campaign here and there in various countries for many years to come." It also should be remembered the Boston TRAVELER suggests that "the Swedes are accustomed to liquor, they like it, and, they seemingly are more successful than some other nations in avoiding the abuse of liquor. Who knows but we should study the lesson that the Swedes have learned in this country if the sale of alcohol in this country is to be controlled in the future. The country—if our people had taken their place sitting at tables in cafes and restaurants, where the drink was incidental, instead of standing at a counter where emptying and refilling were the main object. It was the saloon, beyond all else, that hastened prohibition in the United States. It is the theatre of all the evils and it is attendant evils will follow if the American example slowly if at all."

The margin was so close that the fight will be a long one. The Duluth NEWS TRIBUNE insists, and "Sweden will of course continue to be a desirable field for the professional dry agitator. Just as soon as funds are available the east side of the Scandinavian peninsula will once more be the theatre of a struggle to make prohibition effective." In the opinion of the Vancouver PROVINCE "the people are not to be charged with indifference as the vote polled is equal to one-half the total population." The Asbury Park PRESS points out that "no close vote might easily wipe out the margin and line up Sweden with the growing list of dry nations."

Added various local victories for prohibition sentiment in Germany, this is all the more impressive. Some observers insist that Germany as a whole is headed for prohibition. If Germany and Sweden go dry the reformers certainly will have some ground for prophesying a dry world."

The light wine and beer policy of Sweden has not "made for sobriety and says, and 'assuming that those are the objects of good government, the verdict upon beer and light wines in Sweden does not encourage the adoption of such a policy in other countries. Whatever individuals may think about light wines and beer in this country it is a significant fact that neither of the two major political parties will favor a movement to endorse the same." The Louisville POST advises the Swedish prohibitionists to wait before pressing for another vote pointing out the "the wisdom of bringing prohibition in a country where public opinion is so closely balanced as seems now to be the case in Sweden may be gravely doubted. It takes something more than a bare majority to make such a great change effective. But Sweden is on the way toward prohibition; no other conclusion is possible from the vote."

POINCARÉ AS ST. PAUL.
Paris—Writing in L'Ouvrier Robert de Jouvenal likens Poincaré to St. Paul, being a mixture of two men, on the one side the Stubbard Lorrain lawyer, and on the other, the man who is beginning to realize the great part that France might play in an international understanding between peoples. He says:

"M. Poincaré is a man of St. Paul's type; there are two men in him. They both expressed themselves recently in his speech on the Meuse."

"The old Poincaré inveighed against the Communists and the Bolsheviks; he proclaimed once again that France had the right to have an exclusively French policy; he declared he was going to force solutions on Germany and even on England; he declared he was going to have the Versailles treaty carried out at all costs."

"But at the same time the new Poincaré, the one who has made his appearance since the London conference, made much more conciliatory propositions."

"This convert declared that 'the desire for power sometimes called nationalism, sometimes imperialism,' no less dangerous than communism and bolshevism." He pointed out that the Versailles treaty, to which he is generally so attached, was absurd and did not do and at our frontiers and that our national policy must be reconciled to a European policy."

"We were not alone fighting Germany in 1914 and England did not come in alone into this huge conflict; it is absurd then to imagine that we can organize peace with England, or even with Germany alone."

"As a matter of fact, the only men who have had any influence on the destinies of the world since the armistice are those who have to organize a collaboration of peoples."

"Think of Wilson's universal popularity when he laid the foundations of a League of Nations, which he unfortunately was unable to build up. Think of the hopes that were set on Lloyd George, less than six months ago, who wanted to reconstruct Europe at Genoa. Lloyd George was just as Wilson did; he did not bring to Genoa the plan of reconstruction either of Russia, which was his great idea, nor of the devastated regions, on which everything else depended, nor of Austria, who is desperately appealing to him and to all nations."

"So now M. Poincaré is beginning to realize rather late that France ought to have played from the very beginning this part of reconstruction, from the heights of which Wilson fell and Lloyd George slipped."

"He mentions timidly that the task tempts him, but at the same moment the dream blinds him. And after all nothing specifies him for this great effort, neither his past, nor his courage, nor his shoulders."

"Two men spoke recently at the Meuse by the mouth of Poincaré: a Lorrain lawyer, stubborn, pettifogging, revenged, and a man who had realized the international solidarity of peoples."

"How is it possible that these two men can understand each other?"

EARLY MARRIAGES IN LONDON.
London.—"There is an extraordinary increase in the number of marriages taking place between minors," said a registrar to a "Daily Express" representative.

"It is not uncommon for me to receive three or four notices in a week in which the contracting parties are under twenty-one."

"The law allows a boy to take up to himself a wife at the tender age of fourteen, and a girl may be married when she attains the ripe age of twelve."

To what causes can this increase in youthful alliances be attributed?

"As far as I can see it is accounted for to a very great extent by the continuation of the emotional and exciting effects of the war," said Dr. Bernard Hollander, the eminent psychologist, yesterday.

"Perhaps home life is not made as attractive enough nowadays, and young people, left to their own devices, free to visit the picture palaces, theatres, dance halls, or anywhere where they can see 'life'—make up their minds to escape by getting married."

Rum-Hounds Too "Easy"

Bootleggers rejoice. Some genius has discovered how to manufacture artificial cobwebs.

A stock of new wine, bottled with mildewed counterfeit labels, is planted in the cellar of "a wealthy family," now out of town, who want to dispose of their wine cellar.

A few handiwork of dust, a little artistic draping with the phony cobwebs, and another rum-hound is ready to be parted from his bankroll. Bar none was right.

In San Francisco a retired army officer gets the Distinguished Service Cross for an act of heroism nearly a fourth of a century ago.

He is Andrew S. Rowan, the man who "carried the message to Garcia." War had broken out between America and Spain. President McKinley wanted to get a letter to Garcia. Cuban rebel leader, address unknown. Rowan didn't ask any questions, but tackled and overcame terrific obstacles and "delivered the goods."

He was the original "go-getter." His fame has been sung in over 20 languages—an universal admission that stalling on the job is a certain road to failure. We all know the price of success. Few are willing to pay it.

Cigarette smoking, after a long and steady slump, is coming back strongly. American factories now are turning out packaged "cuffin-nails" at the rate of 60,000,000 a year, or nearly two-thirds more than last February.

One reason is lower prices brought by the price-war.

Nerves also have something to do with it. Is a man nervous because he smokes, or does he smoke because he's nervous? Doctors disagree.

Ben Franklin's great-granddaughter, Mrs. Ellen Duane Davis, runs for Congress on the Democratic ticket, in Pennsylvania.

If she is anything like old Ben—and she looks as sensible, in her picture—she should be elected. What this country needs most is a few horseless leaders of the caliber of Ben Franklin and Thomas Jefferson. They weren't fire-eaters or shadow-boxers.

As tight shoes and higher heels come back in the east, shoe store clerks discover that loose and easy flapper styles have made women's feet fat.

The job now is to get a quart-fout into a pint-shoe. It will be done. Fashion stops at nothing in its long-range tendency to keep women clad as uncomfortably as possible.

The return of wasp-waists is not many years off.

C. W. Barron, leading Wall Street editor, says: "I wouldn't give Henry Ford $10 a week as a financial reporter, but I would agree to get him a job at any time at more than $1,000,000 a year as a factory manager."

For each man there is some one job for which he is better fitted than anyone else. People are forever being told to "work hard." More important is to find the work for which they are best fitted. Unless they find it, they can never hope for spectacular success any more than squawps will fit into round holes.

THE QUESTION BOX

Q. Of what nationalities are most of the criminals in this country? K. F.

A. The 1920 census figures on this subject are not yet available. According to a recent survey made in several large cities, for crimes of personal violence, Lithuanians, Slovians, and Italians, head the American negroes, American whites and Russians lead. In both cases, Chinese come at the end of the list.

Q. Which was used first, the pin or the needle? O. R. T.

A. Probably the pin in its primitive form of spike, thorn, or fish-bone, was used to hold a garment together long before the earliest needle and thread was known. The brass wire pin was known. The first drill-eyed needles were made by using a stamping machine.

Q. Was Edgar Allan Poe ever a soldier? R. H.

A. He enlisted as a private in the United States Army at the age of 18. He served two years and was honorably discharged. He entered West Point in 1830, but was dismissed from the Academy at the end of six months.

Q. Who said that Sunday was made for man and not man for Sunday? T. E. S.

A. The words, "The Sabbath was made for man, and not man for the Sabbath," are from the New Testament, Mark II, 27.

Q. What is the "load" of electric machinery?

A. The load is the output of or demand upon a machine, usually measured either in terms of current delivered or of power delivered. A load may be light, heavy, normal, full, or excessive, etc., according to the output of the machine at the time considered.

Q. How many cars does the Pullman Company own? K. D.

A. At the end of 1921 the company owned 1826 cars, and leased or otherwise acquired, 26.

Put Polish On "Bandit" Play For Next Week

The general rehearsal of "Blue Bandits," the comic opera which is being sponsored by Oney Johnston post of the American legion will take place in Lawrence Memorial chapel on Saturday evening. The dress rehearsal will take place on Monday evening and the first of the two performances on Tuesday evening.

The musical numbers sung by the leading characters and the choruses are working out well and have that "pep" which the average audience demands as well as rhythm and harmony. The parts sung by Miss Lucille Muesel and Miss Maude Harwood are exceptionally well done. Carl McKee, who takes the part of Caspard, has some very good numbers with the chorus and with other members of the cast and sings them with his usual ability.

J. T. McDonough, author and director of the production, has been lavish with his praise of the quality of talent which has been furnished him in Appleton. He has had considerable experience in producing "Blue Bandits," which he says is entirely different from other comic amateur performances.

WEDDINGS

Miss Abigail Clason, daughter of Congressman and Mrs. D. G. Clason of Oconto formerly of Appleton, was married in New York city to Duane Lange at Trinity church. The bride attended Lawrence college for one year, after which she studied secretarial work in New York city, and at the time of her marriage was employed as a private secretary in that city. Mr. and Mrs. Lange will make their home in the east.

DEER CREEK MAN HURT IN RUNAWAY MAY NOT RECOVER

Two Runaways Occur in Week—Suring Man Buys Collard Cheese Factory

Maple Creek—A deal was closed on Tuesday whereby William Kraus of Suring became the owner of the cheese factory formerly owned by Edward Collard. It will be known as the Arthur Dorow Cheese factory. This is the second time it has changed hands within a year. Carl Lindemeyer has been operating it the last few months. Mr. and Mrs. Collard and family will return to Suring their former home on the first of next week. An accident which might have proved serious took place Wednesday evening when Carl Lindemeyer, who drives a Studebaker car was returning from Deer Creek, colliding with Elwin Finger who was returning from filling silo at one of the neighbors. Both were going in the same direction. Mr. Finger driving over a bridge that is considerably higher than the road. The lights of the driver's car did not shine upon the vehicle and thus it made it impossible for Mr. Lindemeyer to stop or avoid the collision. The horses took fright throwing Mr. Finger from the wagon and ran to the home two miles away. The wagon was completely smashed and Mr. Lindemeyer's car needs a new radiator, lamps and fenders. No one was hurt.

Mr. Burdick, a resident of Deer Creek was seriously injured Monday when his team of horses ran away throwing him in such a manner that the wagon passed over him breaking several ribs and crushing his chest. The attending physician is doubtful as to his recovery.

Herman Betsworth was taken to Appleton Thursday, where he will undergo an operation.

Mrs. Herman Pieper returned from several months' visit in California. She is spending a few days with her sister, Mrs. Robert Pribernow.

Miss Prunty of Bear Creek opened her school at "Golden Hill" on Monday with an enrollment of 40 pupils.

Miss Agnes Collard of Green Bay is spending a few days with her parents Mr. and Mrs. Edward Collard.

W. C. T. U. TENDERS FAREWELL RECEPTION

(Special to Post-Crescent)

Black Creek—Mrs. John Hawthorne entertained the members of the Women's Christian Temperance union at a party Tuesday night in honor of Mrs. Richardson. Mr. Richardson, who was station agent on the Soo road has accepted a position at Harless, Minn. Wednesday morning Mrs. Richardson went to Harless to spend a few days with relatives after which she will join her husband at Harless. Their son Gordon will remain here this winter and attend school at Shiocton.

MAN INJURED IN AUTO WRECK TAKEN TO HOME

Kaukauna—George Leunartz, deputy sheriff of Janesville, who was injured at McCarthy crossing Thursday evening when his car overturned, was taken to his home by train Friday evening after having received medical treatment in the office of a local physician. Leunartz, in company with Jack Tipton, was returning from the Green Bay reformatory where he had taken a young man. Although the man was painfully injured, his condition at the time was critical. Both occupants of the car were pinned underneath it and were released when another automobile arrived at the crossing a short time later.

INITIATE TWO APPLETON BOYS IN DEMOLITION ORDER

Kaukauna—Electric City chapter, Order of Demolition, started the winter season at a meeting Thursday evening when four candidates were initiated into the order. The first degree was conferred. Two of the candidates were Appleton young men.

Plans for a big business and social meeting to be held next Thursday were made. Officers will be elected to replace those who are leaving next week to attend the University of Wisconsin. Applications for membership also will be considered. Regular meetings will be held every week from now on at 7 o'clock.

KAUKAUNA PERSONALS

Kaukauna—Mr. and Mrs. Louis Crevier and family and Mrs. E. Landskron of Neenah, left Saturday afternoon for Manitowish to attend the funeral of Mrs. Lawrence Scheinoh.

Miss Helen Hall, teacher in the high school, will spend the weekend at her home in Green Bay.

READY FOR FIRST BATTLE OF SERIES

Local Team Plays Game in Purse Tourney at Fondy Sunday Afternoon

Kaukauna—The interest of baseball fans is being centered about the tournament which is to be conducted between teams of the State Valley league. Kaukauna is set to play at Fond du Lac Sunday afternoon. The teams are required to use the same lineup with which they finished the regular season.

Local fans are pinning their hopes on Higgins, who was recently acquired by Brautigan from Water town, S. D. Higgins has been shown pitching ability in this league. He won two out of three games for Kaukauna. Errors and poor support lost his first game.

Standard and Weidell, two other additions to the fold, will take their positions at second base and in center field respectively. Both men have made good showings and have helped put across winning runs.

On Sunday, September 24, Oshkosh Indians will play here. The following Sunday the team will play at Sheboygan. With its present lineup, Kaukauna has a good chance to capture first money in the tournament. It is believed, and the players are out after it.

CONCERT DRAWS MANY ADMIRERS

Kimberly Band to Give One More Outdoor Program—Will Continue in Winter

Kimberly—Another large crowd enjoyed the concert given by Cecilian band in the park Thursday evening. There will be only one more concert outdoors this season but it is expected the band will continue its outdoor concerts in Layendecker hall during the winter the same as in previous years.

The regular meeting of the Ladies Aid society was held Thursday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Charles Werth. Plans are being made for the annual sale to be held this fall at the dining hall. The next meeting will be held in two weeks.

Mrs. James Demarest is visiting friends and relatives at Waupaca. He travels about 7 miles every morning and takes regular exercises guaranteed to take off surplus being acquired during a summer of inactivity. The young boxer will soon be scouring the city for sparring partners in order to get the rust worked off so that he will be in pink shape by the end of the month.

The first fight on Zwick's card for this season comes off at the Ice Gardens at Milwaukee on Monday, Sept. 25 when he is scheduled to fight an 8-round semi-final with Jack Schoendorf of the Cream City. Jack has been scheduled to meet the Milwaukee lad before but Nature intervened by means of the severe ice storm last February and the bout was called off.

KAUKAUNA BOXER SCHEDULED TO FIGHT SCHOENDORF IN MILWAUKEE SEPT. 25

Kaukauna—Here's some more food for winter sport fans. The fistic knights of the arena are again warming up and getting into form. Among the aspirants for honors in the sport world in Jack Zwick, local young man, who packs a mean mitt and who uses it to advantage against an opponent in the ring.

Zwick has started his preparations for this season by taking heavy road work daily. He travels about 7 miles every morning and takes regular exercises guaranteed to take off surplus being acquired during a summer of inactivity. The young boxer will soon be scouring the city for sparring partners in order to get the rust worked off so that he will be in pink shape by the end of the month.

Don't plant crops blindfolded

WHEN you buy seeds you know it is wise to specify the kind by name. And to keep your eyes on them to see what kinds give the best results.

How do you buy your automobile tires? Do you know what tire will give you the most mileage at the lowest cost?

Make this test:

Put a Miller Tire on your car opposite any tire you like, regardless of cost. Watch it mile after mile for thousands of miles. It will prove to you—as other Millers have proved to hundreds of thousands of motorists—that Miller Tires will give you the greatest mileage at the lowest cost on your car, or any car.

Don't buy tires blindfolded. Make sure your next tire is the original Miller Geared-to-the-Road Tire—the money and trouble saver.

"Y" PHYSICAL FALL PROGRAM OPENS MONDAY

Special Stress Paid To Arrangements For Business Men's Classes

With the cool weather here and vacations over, Y. M. C. A. members are looking forward to their "keeping fit" program. The regular program of the physical department will be resumed Monday.

It was arranged to organize the gymnasium classes before the regular membership campaign. This does away with the hurried organization that usually follows such a campaign and gives the new members better attention. With this plan in effect, all the old members will have been established in their schedule by the time the new members are received and will also be enabled to give new members some assistance.

JENSEN OPTIMISTIC

A. P. Jensen, physical director, is optimistic over the coming season and promises the members a program that will be worth while. Cooperation of the membership is all that is needed.

The accompanying gymnasium schedule provides a regular system of exercises for at least the first 15 minutes of each period. After the exercise period members will enjoy a period of recreation and games. Business men who realize the splendid results derived from a few minutes of wholesome settling-up exercises before the volleyball games will appreciate this arrangement.

TWO MEN'S PERIODS

The business men's period has been set for 5:15 every day. This was done to provide two divisions for the large number of men who desire to come at this time.

The swimming pool will be open from 9:30 in the morning to 9:30 in the evening. It will be available for all members of the men's department except at those periods when used by the boys. Boys will be given a 20 minute period in the pool following each gymnasium class.

THE SCHEDULE

Following is the gymnasium schedule for the coming season.

Business men "A"—Monday, Wednesday and Friday, 5:15 to 6:15.

Business men "B"—Thursday and Saturday, 5:15 to 6:15.

Noon business men—Monday, Wednesday and Friday, 12:15 to 1:15.

College men (informal period)—Monday, Wednesday and Friday, 2 to 4 o'clock.

Evening business men—Monday, Wednesday and Saturday, 8:15 to 9:30.

Young men "A"—Monday, Wednesday and Friday, 6:15 to 7:15.

Young men "B"—Monday, Thursday and Saturday, 7:15 to 8:15.

Mill men special—Tuesday and Thursday, 10 to 11, and 3 to 4.

Employed boys (part time)—Tuesday and Friday, 7:15 to 8:15, with extra swim period on Thursday, 7:15 to 7:45.

Boys 16 to 18 years.

Junior employed boys (12 to 15 years)—Tuesday and Thursday, 6:15 to 7:15.

High school boys (16 to 18 years)—Monday and Thursday, 4:10 to 5, with extra swim period on Friday, 5:10 to 5:40.

Intermediates, (14 to 15 years)—Tuesday and Friday, 4:20 to 5:10.

Leaders' club—Saturday, 10:15 to 11:15.

Grade school (11 to 13 years)—Wednesday, 4 to 5; Saturday, 9:15 to 10:15.

SURVEY CITY FOR TELEPHONE NEEDS OF FUTURE YEARS

Experts Go Over Territory Block by Block—Anticipate Needed Extensions

How will the Appleton exchange of the Wisconsin Telephone company grow within the next 20 years? This is the problem which is facing a committee of the company's men which is making a survey in Appleton and the surrounding rural communities and neighboring cities at the present time. The value of the survey is its guidance in the matter of making extensions to the plant and equipment in view of the possible growth within the next two decades.

The committee will have to study each section in the city, block by block and determine what type of telephone service will be most needed as the city develops. The rental values of the property, the number of people in each family, the number of vacant lots in each block which will be utilized for buildings and the general nature of building in each section must be known to make the survey accurate.

The business and manufacturing sections will be studied separately from residential sections. Surveys in other cities have shown that the business sections grow in direct proportion to the increase of population, but that the manufacturing section cannot be readily measured, but is determined by several contributing factors. Studies made in recent years in other places have demonstrated the unmistakable value of the surveys in predicting the growth of cities.

H. M. Fellows, manager of the Appleton exchange will be glad to answer any questions concerning the survey.

CRAMPS, PAINS AND BACKACHE

St. Louis Woman Relieved by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

St. Louis, Mo. — "I was bothered with cramps and pains every month and had backache and had to go to bed as I could not work. My mother and my whole family always took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for such troubles and they induced me to try it and it has helped me very much. I don't have cramps any more, and I can do my housework all through the month. I recommend your Vegetable Compound to my friends for female troubles."—Mrs. DELLA SCHOLZ, 1412 Salisbury St., St. Louis, Mo.

Just think for a moment. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has been in use for nearly fifty years. It is prepared from medicinal plants, by the utmost pharmaceutical skill, and superior methods. The ingredients thus combined in the Compound correct the conditions which cause such annoying symptoms as had been troubling Mrs. Scholz. The Vegetable Compound exercises a restorative influence of the most desirable character, correcting the trouble in a gentle but efficient manner.

MOTHER GIVING BLOOD TO PROVIDE
SON'S SCHOOLINGRemarkable Demonstration of Sacrifice Concerns Woman in Chicago

BY ROY GIBBONS

Chicago—In order to give her son, Albert, 14, an education which she did not have herself, and thereby smooth the pathway of life for him in later years, Mrs. Henry Luther here, is selling her blood at $35 a pint, to pay for his high school tuition. During the past three years she has submitted to 14 transfusion operations, and her right arm, scarred from innumerable incisions where surgeons opened her veins, is scheduled to be bared 10 times more.

"Because Albert is going back to school again, and he'll need money for books and such things," Mrs. Luther says.

This mother's name and address is on file in half a dozen Chicago hospitals, to which she is called in time of emergency and whenever needed. Since she began selling her blood, more than 15 quarts, she says, have been drained from her body into the veins of people whom she has never seen before.

"It is I have to offer him," Mrs. Luther says, speaking of her son—"my boy"—as she calls him, with pride in her voice.

"And it is my duty—only my duty to him. A parent's obligation to his or her children ends only at death."

"Life is not too much to surrender if the child, through such sacrifice on a parent's part, will have the way made easier."

"That is the way in which I look at it. For my boy, my Albert, I would do anything."

"And if it takes every drop of blood in my heart, I'm going to give him an education."

"For he's—he's my boy, you see."

THE MARRIAGE SHIP

Chapter 13 — The Dangerous Game

By Zoe Beckley

Connie pressed her hand over the mouthpiece and turned to Fred, all the woman instinct in her steered against Hanna Fuller now, as when she saw her first. Why not see Fred at the Gypsy salerooms during business hours? Why choose Fred yet on the table—such a nice dessert, all fruity and whipped-creamy and made with lovingest care—

"Mr. Dale will come down in about 10 minutes," she spoke into the telephone. "We're almost through with dinner."

Fred made as though to interrupt, but passed. He was getting a glimmering of understanding of Connie's real Connie, underneath the pretty and gentle exterior.

"Gosh, Connie, Cunningham was right, all right! This house will pay the rent for you, you'll see."

Connie served the dessert without joining in Fred's enthusiasm. It might let a woman have her husband at least for dinner," she protested. But she dabbed an extra spoonful of cream on Fred's plate which, boy-like, he scraped to the last fragment.

Then he pushed back his chair and jumped to the mirror for a final review of hair and tie.

"Be back soon as business is over, Duckie," he said, kissing Connie on both dimples.

"I wonder if that doesn't depend on—what her business with you is," Connie murmured a little poutingly.

"Now don't get silly notions in your head! 'Bye—and kiss your old man as though you meant it!"

But he left Connie silent, standing by the window and staring out at nothing. Hurrying down the two flights, he rang the bell at the Fuller apartment. Hanna herself opened the door, a gorgeous human butterfly, the long floating sleeves of her georgette house gown giving the effect of wings. She smiled at Fred and shook his hand cordially.

"How nice of you to come!" Her three-room apartment she occupied alone—the nest of a bird of paradise. Silk hangings in the loveliest colors, soft lights tastefully arranged, divans and the gleam of mirrors. A quaint table inlaid richly with ivory and pearl stood under a rosy lamp, proffering bonbons, cigarettes in a Russian lacquer box, a pair of iridescent liquor bottles and some tiny glasses. A faint, curious perfume made the air delicious.

With deft fingers she lighted his cigaret, presented a tiny glass with something orange-tinted in it, and seated herself in a deep chair opposite Fred.

"And now," she smiled, "tell me about Gypsy."

Preparing Of
Her Vocation

Washington—Babies, deprived of their natural food, are notoriously cranky about what they eat. Baby bacteria are no exception to this rule. Either they've got to have just the kind of nourishment they like, or else they curl up and die. Some times they're entirely welcome to do so, but there are other times when they're not.

For instance, the Department of Agriculture has some billions of bacteria that it thinks a great deal of.

True, the department gets them—some of them from far away and at great expense—not from any love of them as germs, but to study their ways, in order to keep the various families of them under control; but to do this it must keep them well fed.

For these boards Mrs. Mary Schwarz is cook. It's a scientists' task to prepare bug-food—or "media," as it's technically known. Mrs. Schwarz is one of the greatest experts at it in the world.

YOUNG WOMEN OF
BULGARIA WON'T
BE GOOD GIRLSFemales Object to Donating Their Labors to National Government

Sofia, Bulgaria — When Premier Stamboulisky conceived the idea that it would be a good thing to compel every able-bodied man and woman in Bulgaria to work 10 days a year for the state, he probably expected the trouble which has ensued, for he is described as a far-sighted statesman with an active imagination. In any event he has entered the lists to defend the weak spots in his innovation, and his principal opponents are the young women of the land.

In the first place the young women of Bulgaria have refused point blank to do a thing. They cite the position given them in their homes by their religion, and refer the authorities to various groups of fathers and brothers armed with knives, pistols and rifles, who are violently opposed to their female relatives donating their labor to the state. The Premier has proposed they be deprived of their vote, and has threatened arrest. The women still resist passively. Now Stamboulisky says they will work for the government, or he will know the reason why.

September will be interesting, for then the 1922 class of women will be called to labor without pay in public buildings, gardens, etcetera. And the women other than those of the moslem faith say they will work when the moslem women do, in the meantime offering encouragement and support to their belligerent sisters.

There also have been called to the public gardens, as it were, professional men from the cities, men unused to hard labor whose soft hands daily attach white collars to silk shirts. In the beginning they went through the motions of work, but did virtually nothing. Why labor when one could soldier? Then the gang bosses gave piece work; each man could quit when his stint was done. As a result two hours often sufficed for what previously had not been completed in ten. But little by little the bosses increased the allotments, and now the inevitable reaction has set in. The bourgeoisie are daily complaining of sore backs, blistered hands, bad eyesight, sunstroke, hunger, thirst, and other handicaps.

It's used like this—"While the Gallic people do not give Herr Stinnes much credit for disinterestedness of motive in evolving his plan for the rehabilitation of devastated France, nevertheless, because of their respect for his business acumen, they are prepared to believe his scheme would work out all right in practice."

The Man-in-the-Moon

Now, of course, my dears, you'll wonder where on earth Mr. Fearabout was after he got pushed off the Moon.

Well, that's where he was—on earth. Not quite on it either, for after turning umpty-teen somersaults, the poor soul fell plump into the apple-tree in Old Orchard.

But by the time Nancy and Nick had reached the earth and begun to search for him he had gone again. So no wonder the people of Bright Meadowland and Whispering Forest and Ripple Creek and even Old Orchard itself hadn't seen him.

When the Moon-Man landed in the top branches of the apple-tree he was so shaken up and so breathless with his great fall he didn't move for a minute.

Then he sat up and rubbed his eyes, and felt over his bald head for bumps and looked to see if his clothes were torn. Then he had time to look about and see what sort of place he had landed in.

There in the treetop was a funny little house of old boards and in the doorway stood a queer little fellow with enormous top-boots and a spotted hanky on his head.

"Howdy," said the little fellow, "where did you come from?"

"Blow!" cried Fearabout indignantly. "What do you think I am—a dandelion? Or a soap-bubble? I'm Mr. Fearabout from the Moon!"

"Oh, then," said the other, "you're like the poem, aren't you—the one that says the Man-in-the-Moon came tumbling down and asked the way to Norwich?"

"Well, sir, I'm sorry. I don't know where Norwich is. My name's Buskins and I run this little elevator here up into the sky and back. I'm waiting for a passenger."

"Well, I guess I'm it," said Mr. Fearabout. "I don't wish to go to Norwich, I want to go back to the Moon."

The

COMING MEXICAN ELECTION CAUSES LIVELY INTEREST

Although Presidential Election is Two Years Off Political Pot Begins to Boil

By Associated Press
Mexico City — Although the next presidential election is more than two years distant, there have been various indications during the past few weeks that the political pot in Mexico is even now commencing to boil.

President Obregon has been called frequently to give official assurance that full guarantees will be given voters and, speaking with direct reference to the congressional elections to be held next August, the chief executive has stated repeatedly that an earnest attempt will be made to permit the voters of Mexico to express their sentiments without fear or hindrance.

The newspaper El Universal is now conducting a contest to discover its readers' choices for president and, according to its statements, a lively interest is being displayed. President Obregon described the contest as "one of the best jokes of the season" and in other official quarters there is the direct charge that Editor Palavicini of El Universal is taking this means to enhance his own chances to gain the presidential seat.

The first computation of votes as announced by El Universal gave Adolfo de la Huerta, present secretary of the treasury and former provisional president, first choice. Pascual Ortiz Rubio, former minister of communications and public works, was next and Senor Palavicini was third. These three men were closely grouped in the voting.

Among the political changes of the year may be mentioned certain developments in the case of the Partido Liberal Constitucionalista. This party at the time of Obregon's election claimed him as its nominal leader, but the chief executive as well as certain members of his cabinet who were also members, has kicked over the traces and, according to his own assertions, belongs to no party. In several contests for supremacy in the chamber of deputies, the Partido Liberal has been defeated and its opponents now declare that it has ceased to function as the dominant party. Succeeding it may be found a strong Partido Liberal Cooperativista and the numerous branches of the Socialist party. In addition, the have announced their determination to contest for every seat in the chamber. They will doubtless, as at the last election, name a candidate for president.

There are also obvious indications that President Obregon is keeping a weather eye out on political conditions in the states. In Puebla where Governor Jose Maria Sanchez was elected by his legislature, and in Morelos where Governor Francisco Murguía is on an indefinite leave of absence, their successors have been men who are beyond all question "right" with the government.

President Obregon, on the other hand, has taken serious steps to prevent interference in state politics by the central government and is especially vigorous in his attempts to prevent the army en bloc for a favored candidate must go, the President says and although he anticipates that the approaching elections may bring some minor disorders he optimistically declares that the voters will be given every facility for a free expression of their choice of candidates.

GOVERNMENT OF SWEDEN TRAINING DELINQUENT YOUTH

Schools Established to Meet Needs of Juvenile Delinquency Caused by War

(Special to Post-Crescent)
Stockholm—Sweden has eliminated one of the worst curses which the world war brought to neutrals and belligerents alike, the alarming increase in juvenile delinquency.

Not a country in Europe escaped the epidemic which continued to infect the youth after armed hostilities had ceased. Sweden took immediate steps to check the spread of youthful criminality which threatened to undermine the country's social structure. Fortunately, the country was prepared, having many years before the war established excellent institutions for the training of children that showed criminal tendencies.

Dr. David Lund, head of the Social Department of the Swedish Prison Board, and recognized as one of the foremost European authorities on criminality among youth, has now announced that the country has returned to normal in respect to juvenile crime.

Dr. Lund attributed Sweden's success in combating this evil to the excellent care taken of affected youngsters in special educational institutions whose inmates are given an exceptional opportunity of leading natural, healthy and active lives under the most wholesome influences and where they are given an opportunity to acquire not only some book learning but to master the fundamentals of useful occupations. Of these schools that of Hall, located near Stockholm, is the best known and probably the most successful. Here farming, gardening, stock raising and various handicrafts are taught and here the large numbers of youngsters seemingly predestined to criminal careers and prison life, have been redeemed with such success that during the past 19 years, only 10 per cent of the youth discharged from the institution have later been arrested and convicted of offenses against the law. Hall originally was privately endowed. It takes boys between the age of ten and fifteen.

The report of Sweden's reformatory system shows that 75 per cent of the youths discharged therefrom have proved to be entirely cured of their criminal tendencies, having turned into law-abiding citizens of regular habits. But Dr. Lund states that this percentage can be increased. He declares that he has found that only three per cent of the morally defective youth coming under his observation is irredeemable.

AMERICAN VETS WILL REVISIT SCENES OF WAR

New York—A pilgrimage to the battlefields on which they fought four years ago has been arranged for several hundred former service men by the American Legion. The tour is open to members of the legion and its auxiliaries, which comprise the wives, mothers, daughters and sisters of the men who served in the World War. The party will sail for France on the President Pierce August 5; will land at Cherbourg, and go directly to Paris where it will be officially welcomed by the French government. During the stay in Paris trips will be taken to the French battlefields and other points of interest.

According to the itinerary of the Legion the party will reach Brussels August 30. From Brussels it will go to Ostend and tour the battlefields of Flanders.

From Belgium the Legionnaires will go to London, where they will be the guests of the London Post American Legion and the British Legion. The party will return on the steamship Metagama, arriving at Montreal September 15.

Arrangements for the tour are in charge of John J. Wicker, Jr., of Richmond, Va., who as tour director his headquarters at the office of the American Legion Weekly, New York.

SOVIETS MIGHT CUT PRODUCTION OF INDUSTRIES

Moscow—Limitation of production and probably the closing down of several factories have been recommended by a special commission of experts in a report to the Council of Labor and Defense as a means of weathering the industrial crisis, which after a few months of revival of Russian trade, has again become acute. Since 1918 the Soviet government has many times been obliged to resort to limitation of industry due to shortage of fuel, raw materials or food, but the cause of the present stringency is different.

Limited sales, bad trade connections with the provinces, and the insolvency of working capital at the disposal of the various government trusts and syndicates all have contributed to the present situation. Since the inauguration of the new economic policy the various nationalized industries have been combined in trusts and syndicates and reorganized to work on a commercial basis. All such concerns have been deprived of government supplies and their employees no longer are rationed. Having begun with very small capital at a time when the Soviet Union was continuously depleting its purchasing power, the had to fall back upon their old stock and later they began to increase production in order to manufacture and export goods to obtain funds for future operations.

RESURRECTION ROCK

Little, Brown and Company

"My mother," Barney lips formed to himself. "Mother!"
Yet now he had to know beyond speculation. He saw that Mrs. Wain was just within the door, so he dropped back to her and turned to her in an appeal which she could not refuse. "She is my mother?"
"Your mother, sir," the housekeeper said. "If she calls you in her sleep, sir—or awake, if she says Dick, she means you, Dick—you understand?"
"I understand," Barney whispered. "You mean she has been asking for me?"
"When she did not know it, she asked for you. 'Dick, my baby, my boy—Dick,' she said this morning. That was why I brought you."

Barney's eyes dimmed.
"How long has she been ill?"
"Since the injury, sir, when the ship was torpedoed."

"What ship?"
"The ship that she was going back to France on, sir, last September to find you, 'The Gallant'."

"To find me?" Barney repeated dazedly.
"Yes, sir. You see, Mr. Dick, she'd just got track of you at last. All your life, for twenty years she's been searching for you, and then—Mrs. Wain stopped."

Late in the evening Barney went to Scott street and presented himself at the house which was his mother's and asked for Mrs. Wain. "Mrs. Wain," Barney said to her at once to quiet the alarm which his appearance at that hour had aroused. "She—he hesitated and then did not name his mother, but repeated—'She was gaining strength when I left. Of course, I understand much more than I did this morning, but of course I want to know everything—everything you can tell me.'"

"It's always been between her and him," the housekeeper iterated in coherently, "between her and him—"

"Her and—God?" Barney asked, bewildered.
"God?" the housekeeper repeated and laughed. "The Devil on earth himself, Mr. Lucas Cullen, Senior. Don't you see? She's fought him since she was a child, a little girl, sir, and he downed her; he disgraced her and—she lost you! Then she came here and beat him—beat him and his family all of them, she beat them all. But she couldn't find you and she couldn't—" the housekeeper stopped. "Listen," she appealed again, "steading herself. 'She found you last fall, I told you, then that happened.' And they thought she was dead, so she let them think she was dead, to beat them—beat them so they could never down her again. But he did it. He came here the other day, that day Ethel Carey left—remember?"

"I remember," Barney said.
"He thinks he's safe now, for he's beaten you both. But he's not beaten her. He thinks he has, for he thinks she is dead. But she's going to get well and fight him for you and for her. So she'll send for you soon; she'll tell you what she should, trust her and wait!"

At half-past seven on that same morning, Lucas Cullen, Senior, was at breakfast when his eyes struck an item headed, "Open Draw Claims Another Victim."

It was under that open draw heading and the paragraphs, when carefully read related how a new couple very recklessly driven, had dashed up the approach of the Rush street bridge and the driver, disregarding the danger signals, hurled his car through the barrier and into the river. The bodies were recovered, and there followed very fair descriptions of Miss Platt's husband and the girl who had been frequently seen with Kincheloe.

CHAPTER XVII
The English medium, Mrs. Brand, came to Chicago, "sitting" in private homes of several of the most prominent people of the city and demonstrating evidences of communication to the full satisfaction of the increasing groups of devotees, and daily convincing the skeptical of the reality of her powers to reach the world beyond.

She established, therefore, most ideal conditions for the trial of Lucas's plan to demonstrate the fact of Angus Cullen's presence in the realm of the dead.

Shortly after Lucas Cullen, Senior, had communicated to his family his decision to attend the "sittings" of Mrs. Brand at the Stanton Fielding's, Barney received by special messenger one of those cards which admitted the holder to Mrs. Stanton Fielding's drawingroom between four-thirty and five-thirty.

With the card came a note enjoining him to be present early, to occupy an inconspicuous position and particularly to avoid recognition by the Cullens but to closely observe them.

These directions were not signed, but Barney was sure that his mother had written them.
"You shall hear all—al!" she had promised him, when she last clasped him, "all in its proper time, my son. If I told you now, I would spend too much—too much of what I've kept within me for twenty years." And he understood that she did not mean solely her strength. "But it is almost time!"

Today Barney read in those lines of his mother's handwriting that occurrences at last favored her, she had sufficient strength to play her part and the time—her time and his and Lucas Cullen's—had come.

"I explain for the benefit of those who otherwise may find confusion," said Mrs. Brand when the seance opened, "that when in the trance I appear to be generally subject to a 'control' who styles himself Doctor Keppel, whose personality employs my material body for expression." Thereupon servants drew the window blinds and turned on the lights in the dining room.

Some profound transformation influenced Mrs. Brand's posture and her manner of utterance; and, when her lips next moved, her speech indicated the control of a markedly robust, abrupt and masculine seeming personality.

"What a cloud of witnesses are present! So many come here to meet you!"

"I would like to learn whether communication can be obtained," said a smooth, perfectly assured, feminine voice, and Barney saw, not by any motion of her own but by the attention of those seated about her, that Mrs. Lucas Cullen, Junior, was speaking. "From Mrs. Oliver Cullen—Agnes Cullen—who was lost last September on the Gallant and presumably is dead."

Barney's sinews seemed of them selves to draw taut. This demand plainly was part of the Cullen plan which his mother was there to counter, or rather, it had been part of Lucas Cullen's scheme.

"All the while a spirit has been beside you, a man, a fine-looking man, middle-aged, with dark hair and brows. He holds a book in his hand. It is the Book of Mormon."

Evidently the Voice was replying to Mrs. Lucas Cullen, Junior. Others in the room took this as answer to her, she understood it, beyond any doubt, Lucas Cullen at her right thus received it.

"He is showing Doctor Keppel an open space outdoors, about it is a big woods. He has cleared away the trees in the space. There is a woman there very young, and very strong. You walk into the shack. He is showing the inside now, it is very plain, no furniture just a bunk of boards a table, a bench of boards. On the table is a book, the Book of Mormon, you pick it up, you drop it down and kick it, you kick it out the door. Something happens. Doctor Keppel gets wonder what it is confused he cannot see. He feels passion strong anger, hate. Many men come—"

The "you" described by the Voice no longer was Mrs. Lucas Cullen, Junior. Clearly it was old Lucas Cullen, himself.
If any one had doubt, a glance at old Lucas was quite sufficient to find it confessed, he sat, attempting to appear unmoved, indifferent.

The Voice, which had halted, spoke on.
"Another stands near you. Now he shows a space with trees about, grove, trees, a forest, men cut some of the trees where is a stream of water and a mill. Doctor Keppel feels a vibrating and buzzing it is a lumber mill. Over the door is a sign. Doctor Keppel can read it all now. H. L. A. FLOOR. H. Laylor, it says. He nods, yes, that is it. It looks like along ago, everything new there, but many years ago. Now there is a mist. It must be smoke, yes he says it is smoke. Now Doctor Keppel feels like heat, flames, and much heat, roaring great flames, a forest fire approaching the mill. He is there and tries to save the mill. He does not try to get away, not till too late—"

The Voice—full, emphatic, reasonant—dominated the silent darkened room. The Voice which had all but materialized the presence of the departed loved ones to many others was ending—with all but materiality—phantoms of the past for Lucas Cullen.

"He knows," said the Voice, "he knows that all your life you wondered how much he suffered. When he came over long ago, he thought to try to punish before he died, he swore to, but over here he did not. He tried to help, instead, the ones who lived to suffer."

Bennet for a while had attempted indifference, but now he abandoned it, and reaching across his mother, he seized his grandfather's arm.
"You're sick," he said. "Come out with me."

"It's queer, he thinks," continued the Voice, "how all your life you wondered about him—how long he suffered and didn't think about the other at all, the other who didn't send the torch."

"Come!" Bennet commanded, almost loudly. Barney arose and stepped down the line of chairs.
"You're going to stay this out!" Lucas gaped up at him. "You here?"

Barney caught his breath and glanced toward the medium who was sitting silent in the big chair. "They have been asking," he said distinctly, "for communication with Mrs. Oliver Cullen; can you obtain it for them now?"

"I am here," slowly said a controlled, vibrant voice. "I am Agnes Cullen: I—"

'Y' MEMBERSHIP CAMPAIGN IS SET FOR OCT. 6 TO 9

T. E. Orbison is Campaign Chairman—Hettinger and Russell to Assist

The Y. M. C. A. membership campaign will open Oct. 6 and continue to Oct. 9, including Sunday, Oct. 8. Orbison will act as general campaign chairman, and John Hettinger and H. W. Russell as associate chairmen. Four division chairmen are now being selected, who in turn will select their captains.

No stone is being left unturned in perfecting a thorough organization. The seven captains who are to be appointed will each select seven men. With four districts, seven teams in each district and seven men in each team, the total personnel will consist of more than 200 men. Six of the teams in each district will be composed of members of the men's department, and one team of young men.

The captains will meet on Wednesday, Sept. 20 in order to select the material for their teams. This campaign will be in progress four days. It will open Friday evening, Oct. 6, with a banquet in the Y. M. C. A. building and close Monday evening, Oct. 9 with a supper. Reports will be made at a luncheon Saturday noon, and a devotional meeting will be held Sunday evening. The churches will be asked to set aside Sunday as Y. M. C. A. day and urge the members to participate in a sermon but in the announcements to support the association.

To aid the personnel in districting the city, John Neller is preparing a large map of Appleton, on which every member's name will appear at his respective address.

To stimulate competition among the members of the four districts, each district will sail under a special color. The colors are red, blue, orange and green. Each worker will wear a large button of the worker will wear a large button, and as soon as he has won a member, he will give a small button of the same color to the member he has gained.

THE STAGE

"The Dominos" Scored a Big Hit. Phil Dooley and his Domino Orchestra pleased two packed houses at Fischer's Appleton last night. Their clever rendition of musical synopses drew a continuous round of applause with each number. They will close their engaging tour tonight. Dorothy Dalton in the big feature production "The Woman Who Walked Alone" continues to command words of praise from those who have seen this picture.

Another top notch vaudeville program has been arranged for Sunday only. The bill includes Clyde McCue, "The Doctor" a laugh provoking skit; Felix Rice and Johnny, a clever composer with a clever kid singer; Hamilton Walton, in impersonations and stories that will split your sides; and The Alaska Duo, ice skaters.

Beginning Monday for three days

U. S. RED CROSS TO MEET IN CAPITAL

Policies of Organization for Future Will Be Mapped Out Next Month

Miss Anna Helm, secretary of the local chapter of the Red Cross, has received a letter from Walter Davidson, Chicago, manager of the central division of the Red Cross, which contains information concerning the annual convention to be held in Washington, D. C., Oct. 9, 10 and 11. Subjects of vital concern to the future developments of chapters, as well as matters relating to politics of the national organization, will be considered, he said.

General sessions of the convention will be devoted to the interests of the former service men, the foreign work of the Red Cross, which has just been closed, and the current activities of the national organization and of chapters. Speakers of national and international prominence will address the convention, among them President Warren G. Harding, Chairman John Barton Payne, General John G. Pershing and others.

Group conference have been arranged for discussions of civilian home service, public health nursing, home hygiene and care of sick courses, Junior Red Cross, and nutrition service. This convention is the annual gathering of representatives of the Red Cross chapters and is called for the purpose of considering policies and the program of the society. Charter changes, division of the membership dollar, representations of chapters of the central committee and similar matters will be subjects for discussion. General sessions will be held in Continental memorial hall and group sessions at national Red Cross.

Long M. E. Secretary. The Rev. A. M. Bennett of Wisconsin Rapids, who has just returned home from the Wisconsin conference of the Methodist Episcopal church at Oshkosh, has a long service record with the conference, having been re-elected secretary for the tenth consecutive year. Before being elected to his present position, he was assistant to the secretary for five years.

Goes West. Postmaster W. H. Fleveger of Kimberly has gone to San Francisco, Calif., to attend the annual convention of the National League Postmasters. He was elected a delegate for the third and fourth class postmasters at the state convention at Wausau.

beautiful Agnes Ayres in another big Paramount Picture "Borderland" Milton Sills is also in the cast. Madame Olga Petrova will be here in a big New York success "The White Peacock" on Oct. 4. She is bringing the entire production with original New York cast. Mail orders for seats will be filled in the order they are received. The prices will be announced next week, so those who are planning to see this splendid attraction should not hesitate in filing their ticket orders as soon as the scale of prices is advertised. John Drew and Mrs. Leslie Carter will be here in November with the entire original company in "The Circle" which has just opened in Chicago at a $5.00 top admission.

Gasoline Demon Levels Hills, Fills Up Ravines With 20th Century Speed

Engineering Feat Is Being Accomplished in Using Chasm on Highway 18 to Avoid Railroad Tracks and Retour.

Valleys are being exalted and the high places made low—in Outagamie county. He who does not believe it should go to a point about two miles east of Medina on state trunk highway 18 and see for himself. The Patriarch who had not traversed this piece of road for some time and who was made doubly curious by the forbidding detour, decided to learn what it was all about. And here he saw how it was possible to have faith strong enough to remove mountains.

He stood on the crest of what was once a steep hill and gazed long and thoughtfully upon the monster that was crawling serpent-like up and down the grades like those vehicles of destruction that broke through barbed wire entanglements and defied the shrapnel "over there" not so very long ago.

"WORLD DO MOVE" "The world sure do move," is what he said.

Although what he saw could have been done many times more quickly and thoroughly by old Vesuvius, it was enough to make Dobbin hang his head in shame. The usurper was doing the work of 20 Dobbins and of 15 Dobbins' masters.

Here was a big hollow about 1,400 feet long and nearly 30 feet deep at its lowest place, a hole that had been avoided by the old pioneers and probably by the Indians before them. To them that chasm was impassable. To the representative of federal and state highway interests it was like a tooth with a big cavity, useful if filled.

CUTS DISTANCE. When it was decided that the best concrete stretch of highway 18 in Outagamie county was to be completed, the yawning gap on this strip of road-way formed an important link of the relocated highway. It would cut distance and eliminate dangerous curves. But the work of filling it would be a difficult one if it were to be undertaken with the old-fashioned horse-drawn scraper.

Greinke Brothers Construction company of Appleton, which was awarded the roadbuilding contract, found an easy way to surmount the difficulty by pressing into service a 5-ton tractor drawing a train of three 1-cubic yard automatic scrapers. By this means they limited their crew on this job to four men. The men were skillfully operating the machine the day the Patriarch happened along.

RESEMBLES TANK. There was the "caterpillar" tractor resembling the tank of war days carrying three cubic yards of dirt and heavy loads a distance of 700 feet every seven minutes and dumping the contents into the ravine. The operator said that on an ordinary grade he could do the same work in four minutes. Every day he was digging as much as for the cellar of a moderate sized house.

The grade was an unusually steep one. At one place it was about 40 per cent and 50 per cent at another. This meant an incline of 45 degrees. The tractor was equipped with four speeds, three forward and one reverse. It climbed a moderate grade on "high", but used the intermediate speed in ascending the 40 per cent grade. Using the same speed for the 50 per cent grade, it stopped about half way up the hill, but a shift to "low" sent it up the hill with ease. The climb was made over loose dirt into which it sunk as if it were snow. It pulled through the soft, mushy mire at the foot of the hill with the same ease. The surprise of the hour was that the vehicle never tipped over. When it gained the top, the 51-foot train made a graceful turn in a 20-foot circle.

WORKS SWIFTLY. Without a pause for rest, it dashed down the hill again at the rate of six miles an hour, digging its three huge claws into the clay and rocks, picking them up automatically and released them at the bottom of the hill at the touch of the operator's hand on the lever.

A total more than 1,500 cubic feet of dirt had been hauled by them that day. At the same rate, they should complete the job in about 30 days.

The machine used was a Holt 5-ton caterpillar tractor with three 4-wheel automatic scrapers, weighing 2,310 pounds each.

Observe Mission Feast. The Rev. J. Stueck of Black River Falls, and the Rev. E. DeBahr of Dale, will be the speakers at the annual harvest home and mission festival at the Reformed church, Sunday afternoon. The Rev. Mr. Stueck will speak at the Reformed church, Sunday afternoon. The Rev. Mr. Stueck will speak about work among the Winnipeg Indians.

UGHT TO COMPEL ALL TO CAST VOTE

Edward Scofield, Former Wisconsin Governor, Deplores Situation in State

Edward Scofield, of Oconto, veteran governor of Wisconsin, was in Appleton Friday. The former governor has just passed his eightieth year, but he did not fail to vote in the September primaries. He has never passed a single election without voting, he said.

"If I had my way," he declared in an interview, "I would disfranchise every man and woman in America who neglects to vote. The ballot should be considered a sacred privilege as well as a duty. I don't like to talk about it, but the last primary election was a demonstration of how citizens of Wisconsin are undervaluing suffrage."

"A number of business men are disappointed in the outcome of the elections. They are themselves to blame. If they had gone out to the people begging for votes at the primary, they might have accomplished something. If the returns are correct, only one-third of the people of Milwaukee voted. But the radicals and the socialists were out in full force. The last election is not representative of the people of Wisconsin. Not half of them voted. Until it is made obligatory for every citizen to cast his ballot, we will not have a government of the people."

The former governor is not a strong believer in the primaries. He has taken no active interest in the recent political campaign. The recent elections show that there is neither a Republican or a Democratic party in the state, he said regretfully.

BANK IS PLAINTIFF IN SHEBOYGAN CASES

The calendar for the fall term of circuit court in Sheboygan county, presided over by Judge Kirwin contains four cases in which First National Bank of Appleton is plaintiff and Olga Zuffelt, Elva W. Seidemann and Cora M. Seidemann, Eliza Seidemann, and Frank A. Zuffelt respectively are the defendants. The cases are listed as facts for the jury.

Lake Level High

Due to excessive rainfall the level of Lake Winnebago is particularly high for this time of the year. Usually at this season sandbars are visible all along the shores. At present none is exposed and the recent heavy rains have brought the lake up about 14 inches.

ALMOST CRAZY WITH PIMPLES

On Face. Could Not Sleep. Cuticura Healed.

"Pimples broke out on my forehead and soon spread all over my face. They were hard, large and red and festered. The pimples itched and burned so that I was almost crazy at times. My face was disfigured, and at night I could not sleep on account of the irritation."

"I read an advertisement for Cuticura Soap and Ointment and sent for a free sample. They helped me so I purchased more, and after using four cakes of Cuticura Soap, with the Cuticura Ointment, I was healed."

Don't Build Blindly!

YOU would never put your money in a bank without first convincing yourself of its safety and security. Why invest your savings in a home without first investigating the relative costs of various types of construction over a period of years.

Have You Sent for These Books?

Facts vitally important for you to know before you build are brought out in these various books. They provide a most convenient way for you to get authentic information on costs, correct methods of handling the details of construction, and advantages offered by the different types. They also give you a great variety of charming home designs for which you can secure plans at nominal prices.

Investigation shows that the original cost of a Masonry-Built Home averages slightly more than for frame. But the carrying charges, which include interest, insurance, heating, upkeep, and depreciation, prove about 60% less, which during the first ten years alone far overbalances any small difference in original cost. You can not afford to neglect these facts if you plan to build.

QUALITY

Is So Well Known Here

That we refrain from discussing this phase of our store, for it is evident already to the hosts of people who have always made their jewelry purchases at Hyde's.

The Hyde Store is founded on quality, the foundation was laid during the first years of this establishment, and our unusually heavy selling today is the result.

Besides the Quality which is one result of our careful buying, the Price has ever been a matter of importance with us. The best for the most moderate price, is the keynote here.

From every standpoint it is to your advantage to trade at Appleton's "Store with the Selection."

The Truthful Trade-Mark of the Gulbransen

A baby's hand on a pedal of the Gulbransen causes it to play. The trade-mark tells a truthful story.

It is the exclusive Gulbransen features—the fine craftsmanship—the patented design—that make "easy to play" a fact.

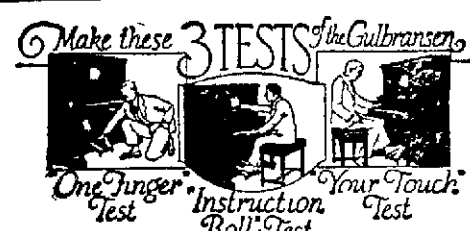

Naturally the results you obtain on the Gulbransen are far above the average. The instrument is flexible, responsive, simple. Even a novice, with the aid of Gulbransen Instruction Rolls—also an exclusive idea—quickly learns to play well.

When buying a Gulbransen, you are protected as to price. Mark this: no matter in what town or from what dealer you buy a Gulbransen, the price paid will be $700, $600, $495 or $365, according to the style selected. The retail selling figure is branded in the back of every Gulbransen at the factory. Its price is established—its value unquestioned.

The baby trade-mark stands for real music, easily played. It appears on more player-pianos each year than any other trade-mark or name. It is the emblem of Gulbransen ideals, ability, experience and policies.

Maybe some few folks don't quite realize yet that America is buying and selling at natural price levels and has been for quite a while--the only country in the world of which this can be said. Here's fresh proof of the fact. American tourists report that prices in France are still 300 to 400 per cent HIGHER than before the war--so that although the dollar today is worth twice as much as French money, it will buy LESS there than at home.

There's a lot of solid comfort in the thought that over here the balance is fairly well restored between the dollar and the things the dollar has to buy.

FALL CADILLAC SALES TO CENTER ON CLOSED MODELS

New Type Victoria Is Expected to Prove Most Popular of Smaller Cars

A national enclosed car week has been arranged for by Cadillac distributors and dealers in many cities in the United States and Canada for September 17-23. The new Cadillac Victoria and Five-passenger Coupe body styles will serve as the principal feature of novelty at the Auto Salons, which will be held by the Cadillac dealers.

The new Type 61 Victoria, the always popular four-passenger enclosed model, has been receiving enthusiastic praise from Cadillac dealers and from those Cadillac owners who have seen it.

Changes have been made which give the Victoria an impression of greater length and less height. It is considerably enlarged, providing more room for the occupants. All seats have been made wider and deeper, and the driver's seat is now so placed as to be directly behind the steering wheel. The Victoria auxiliary folding seat, which is beside the driver's seat, is so arranged that it gives more room for the person occupying it.

IMPROVE INTERIOR

Interior appointments have been enhanced in the use of new pull-to-handles on the doors and other design of fittings which are beautifully in keeping with the atmosphere of the car.

The Five-passenger Coupe also has been considerably improved by providing more roominess.

One of the outstanding refinements is the use of the folding seat beside the driver's seat. This new arrangement replaces a tilting seat formerly used in the popular Five-passenger Coupe model.

"In advancing the idea of the national enclosed car week," says Mr. H. H. Rice, president of the Cadillac Motor Car Company, "we indicate our faith in the future which lies ahead of enclosed car sales."

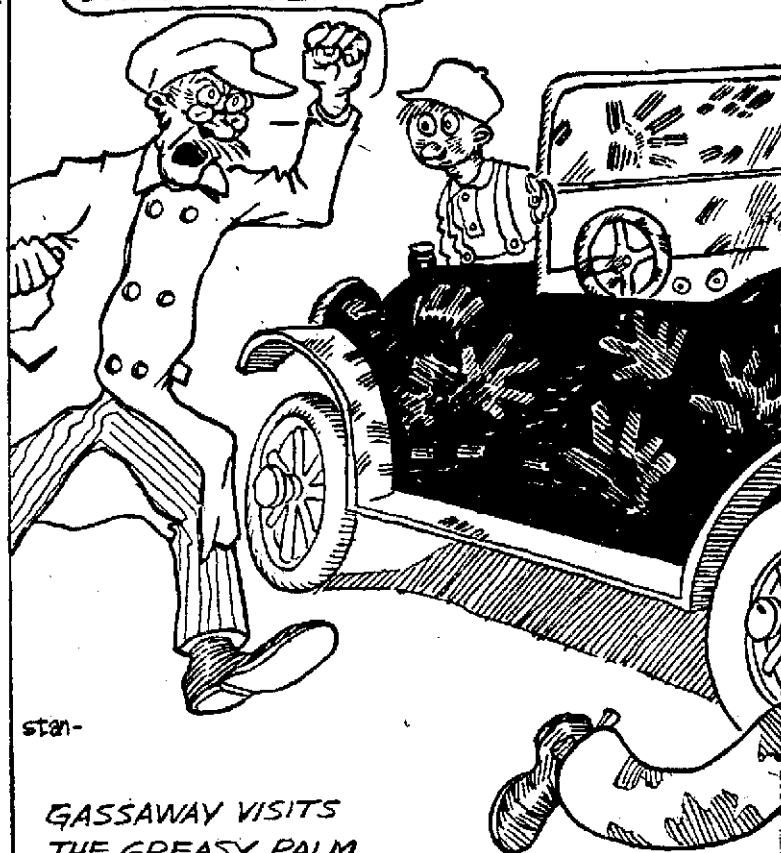

Especially at this time of year, with the approach of winter, and with about one month of the touring season left, the prospective purchaser is naturally inclined to favor an all-season model.

The week of September 15 to 23 has been decided upon as the one for the Enclosed Car Salon of most of the Cadillac representatives.

STEEL BODIES ON NEW DODGE MODELS ADD TO DURABILITY

Many Disadvantages of Wooden Tonneau Are Overcome by Notable Change

Dodge brothers announce new business—sedan and coupe—

The user can now get closed car comfort and protection for less money, and will have years of extra service for a lower initial investment, because—

The steel body goes through production in approximately five days, whereas approximately 30 days are required for the wood body. This increases the turnover of materials, and makes possible a much larger production for less money.

Eighteen hand-rubbing and painting operations are required on the wood body. All these are eliminated by the use of steel.

Due to careful selection of materials and the enormous number of different shapes and sizes of the cuts, there is a tremendous waste in wood body construction. It is estimated that the cost of the scrapped wood is almost equal to that of the wood actually used. There is little waste in steel body construction. Moreover, it is usually possible to get the most desirable steel in any quantity, while it is exceedingly difficult to procure the fine ash lumber needed for the de luxe Sedan.

With steel it is possible to finish the exterior in the famous oven-baked enamel which has contributed so much to the reputation of Dodge Brothers open cars. This finish is exceedingly lustrous and durable. It is much less sensitive than paint and will therefore withstand long, rough usage.

There is also leather upholstery which is more durable and more easily cleaned.

Although the steel body weighs no more, it has tremendous strength. The steel body may bend but will not collapse under sudden great pressure.
There is, therefore, a very important element of increased safety in the steel
Sedan. It is as nearly like the all-steel Pullman coach as it is possible to build a motor car.

Steel pillars are used throughout in the Business Sedan. They are obviously stronger than pillars of wood. Even when only the finest ash is employed, the wood pillars sometimes warp. It is unavoidable. Steel pillars will not warp. They always remain in perfect alignment. They are installed with unfailing accuracy—and they stand as they are installed.

In the wooden body the framework is reinforced with drop-forged angle irons, and these irons are screwed into the wooden sills. Long wear sometimes loosens the screws and brings on a spreading and weaving of the body, with a resultant tendency toward squeaks and rattles. In steel body construction the stanchions and pillars are reinforced with stampings, and these are riveted and welded permanently into place. There is no possibility of their working loose. They are there to stay throughout the life of the car. While the stampings are much more satisfactory than the screwed-in-angle irons, they are less costly.

The durability of the new steel construction is emphasized even in the Sedan doors. In the wood body the striker plate is fixed in place by screws. These screws occasionally work loose, making it hard to open and close the doors and causing annoying rattles. In the steel Sedan, the striker plate is bolted on and made absolutely secure. Its position is unalterable, except by deliberate removal, and as a result the door is free from rattles and always easily opened. Similarly, the door lock is held in place by machine screws instead of the ordinary wood screws.

In wood body construction, the door glass groove, or run, is always built by hand. It is impossible to attain the perfect accuracy necessary to the elimination of all door troubles. A certain play usually develops sooner or later and the result is an incessant rattling of the window. In steel construction these window grooves are made of metal stampings. There is no possibility of error. The precision is unvarying—and window-rattling is practically done away with.

The non-rumble type of fabric roof serves its own special and well-defined purpose. It is built to absorb vibration. It is superior to any type of steel roof that might be devised.

Although the Business Sedan has been made more rugged by reason of its steel body, it has been made no heavier and has lost none of its characteristic beauty.

Low first cost, good appearance and great strength is combined in the Business Sedan of steel which is offered to a wide market.

Closed Car Utility---Open Car Cost

Most motorists find the Hudson Coach fully meets their require-

It has the new Hudson motor, which has created such enthusiastic

LEADS WAY THRU SNOWDRIFTS TO YOSEMITE PARK

Studebaker Car Defies All Obstacles in Record Tour in Big Contest

After three days of bucking the snow drifts and dynamiting fallen trees that blocked the roads, Hart L. Weaver with three passengers in a Studebaker Big Six, led the way into the Yosemite Valley, thereby winning the Yosemite National Park Company's cup for the first car in 1922 to make its way over any of the three roads that lead into the Valley from the Pacific Coast.

The feat of the Big Six is all the more striking from the fact that last year another Studebaker was the first to penetrate the Valley, and also because the second car, this year, was also a Studebaker—a Light Six driven by Wm J Silva of Modesto, California.

The Yosemite National Park Company awards this trophy to the first car of the season that breaks its way into the Valley under touring conditions. Every car must come in absolutely under its own power without the use of block or tackle or any towing assistance.

The start was made from Modesto, California, at midnight on Thursday, May 4, and the Big Six crew reached Wawona at 5 o'clock Friday morning. A few miles beyond Wawona the party met their first obstruction, a tree five feet in diameter that had fallen across the road. So deeply was it lodged that it took four separate charges of dynamite to clear the way.

From this point on, the car charged snow drifts and the crew dynamited trees until they arrived in the Valley or the afternoon of May 7, after continuous day and night traveling. At Bishop Creek snow between five and six feet deep was encountered. Here as in other places it was necessary for the crew to shovel a path for the car. At no time did the party resort to rope, block or tackle, for by the rules of the award it was necessary to cover the entire distance under the car's own power.

Following the two Studebaker cars into the Valley by various routes were seven other automobiles. The return trip was almost as difficult as the one going in as a two-foot snow had fallen again blocking the road. The trip at this season of the year always has its thrills and perils and is a test of the power of cars and the endurance of drivers alike. Many that try it each year are forced to turn back. One of the greatest difficulties is to find the trail over the snow covered roads.

ITALY TRYING TO GET CONCESSIONS FROM ALBANIANS

League of Nations is Interested in Protectorate for Balkan Country

By Associated Press
Belgrade, Jugoslavia—Italians continue to control a part of Albania commercially, and the last word has not been heard from either Italy or Jugoslavia on the subject of Albania, this is the opinion of Americans here familiar with conditions in Albania.

Political significance is attached to the fact that General Ali Riza Coloni, in company with some dozen other Albanians attended the recent wedding of King Alexander and showed himself friendly to the Serbs. During his visit Coloni concluded a commercial agreement with Jugoslavia, he said also that he would return here as

STUDEBAKER SETS RECORD FOR EASE ON STEEP GRADES

Light Six Model Is First Car to Reach Summit of Tillsbury Knob

A Studebaker Light Six has just added new laurels to its many records for power and endurance, by being the first car ever to reach the summit of Tillsbury Knob, near Nanticoke, Pa.

For years the residents of Nanticoke and vicinity have looked toward Tillsbury Knob, one of the highest mountains in Luzerne County, convinced that its heights could never be scaled by any vehicle, either motor or horse drawn.

The car that finally succeeded was driven by J. Williams of Nanticoke, and the feat proved a test not only of the sturdiness of the car but also the ability of the driver. The ascent was made over a mere foot path, for no road leads to the summit. Boulders, undergrowth and even trees furnished obstacles in climbing this mountain of shale and rock, but the car man everted its way upward until the summit was reached.

As an indication of the sharp grades encountered during the ascent, the mountain rises to a height of 700 feet in the course of the one mile trip from base to summit. The Light Six which made this unprecedented climb under its own power had previously been driven over 30,000 miles and still retained the original front tires that came with the car.

Mr. Williams started up the mountainside with an ordinary pair of automobile tire chains on the rear wheels, but the rough stones and boulders soon broke them to pieces and a set of heavy half-inch chains had to be attached.

On reaching the summit of the precipice, the car reposed there for one week. The headlights were turned on each night and the record-making Light Six could be seen for miles around. At the end of a week, the job of driving down the mountain was tackled and proved almost as thrilling and difficult as the ascent.

Chief of legation, representing the Albanian government of Tirana.

Those watching the Albanian situation insist there is a struggle going on between Italy and Jugoslavia to control Albania, with the Italians still unwilling to abandon their old hopes of commercially improving the country. Italians, among other things are interested in securing waterpower concessions near Tirana and drawing off the electric current to Italy by a submarine cable. French and English capital is said to be interested with Italian money in this project.

The League of Nations is interested in the development of Albania. At the request of the Albanian government the council of the league at its last session decided upon a virtual protectorate for Albania, financial, economic and constitutional with legal experts to be appointed by the league to advise Albania as to the best means of establishing herself on an independent basis.

A league advisor will also sit with the Albanian government council. It is thought that the league's appointees will include both an Italian and a Jugoslavian.

HAYNES MEETING SPORT MODEL CRAZE WITH FOUR TYPES

All the "Trimmings" That Go
With Nicest Cars on Road
Are Included

Marking a full step in advance, and at the same time, meeting the trend of service on the part of the motoring public, The Haynes Automobile Company, Kokomo, Indiana, announces a complete new series of fully equipped sport models in both the open and enclosed body styles which have been designated as the new 1923 Haynes 55 sport models. The new 1923 series comprises the following models: The five-passenger sport Touring Car; the two-passenger sport Roadster; the three-passenger sport Coupelet; the five-passenger sport Sedan.

Each of the new 1923 Haynes 55 sport models is fully equipped with the most modern and approved accessories, while the cars themselves are made more beautiful and attractive with de luxe super-appointments, such as six disc wheels, with six tires and tubes, the two extra wheels being mounted on the sides of the body at the front; polished protection bars at the back of the body; a smart-looking trunk that conforms to the shape of the body, mounted on a sturdy, new design trunk rack; a nickel-plated radiator, ornamental radiator cap and headlights; Boyce motorometer; special Haynes design sun and vision visor; latest style windshield wings on the sport Touring Car and sport Roadster. The open cars are trimmed in beautiful brown Spanish leather. Handsome bumpers are standard equipment, both front and rear, on all of the new 1923 Haynes 55 sport models. The attractive, clear vision top for the sport Touring Car and sport Roadster is furnished in either black or rubberized khaki as standard equipment. A clock strap adds to the completeness of the appointments.

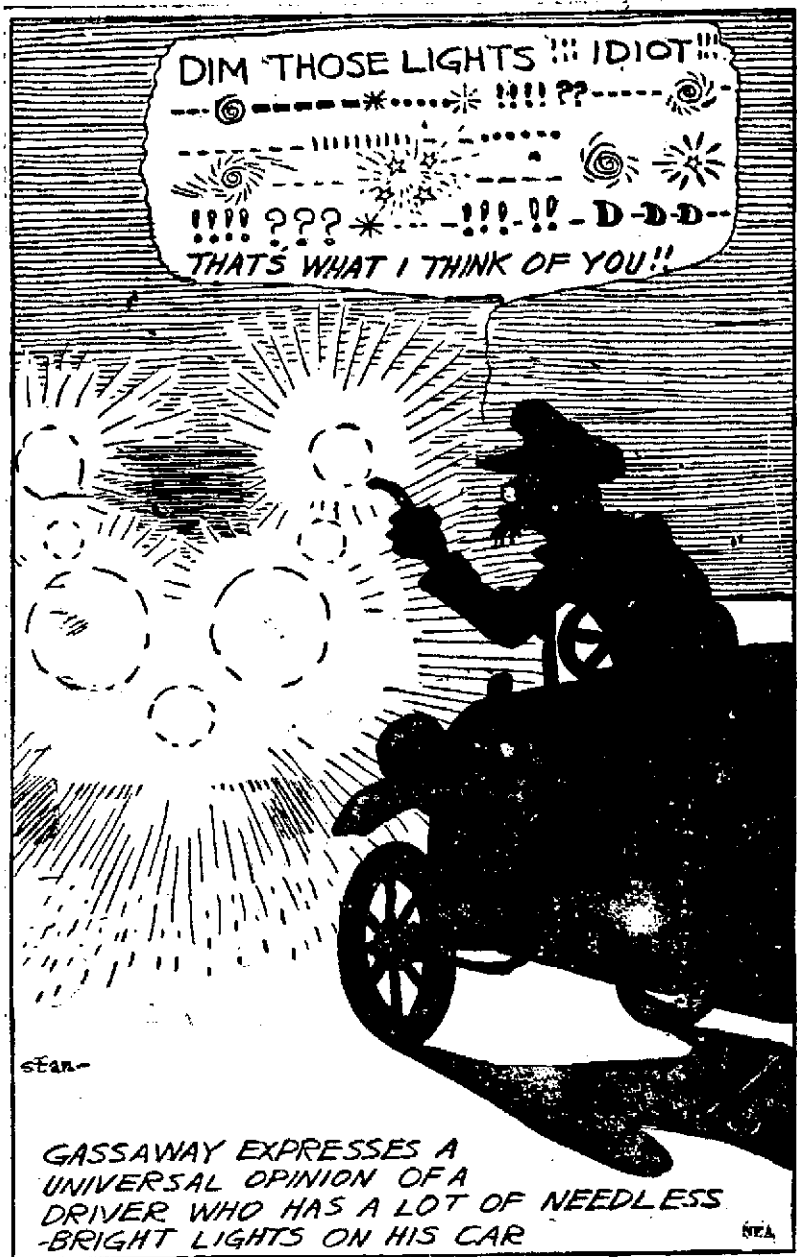

All of the new 1923 sport models are mounted on a 121-inch wheel base chassis, and are finished in a beautiful deep maroon color. Six cord tires, 32x4 1/2 inches, are standard equipment.

Among the notable features of each of these 1923 sport models are the new, individual steps of a highly artistic design. The steps are exceptionally wide and have a high, protective flare on each side. The new crown fenders lend a pleasingly finished appearance to the entire car.

"Although the step we have taken in furnishing such a completely equipped car to the motoring public is more or less radical in the history of the automobile industry, yet there is nothing extreme in the appearance of the new

Chevrolet Car Gave Kentucky Town Its Name

In recognition of the remarkable performance of a Chevrolet car in making its way over perilous roads in Harlan county, Ky., to the coal mining town of Bee Bee, and also because it was the first automobile ever to make the trip, that hamlet is now officially called Chevrolet, Ky.

Up to the time Frank Eaton, local superintendent for the Williams By-Products Company, bought his 490 touring car, no automobile had ever been seen on the streets of Bee Bee. Only one or two cars had ever attempted to negotiate any of the trails in the county, in fact. The country

LOW BIRTH RATE GIVES FRENCH A CAUSE FOR FEAR

German Population is Increasing Twice As Fast as French

Paris — Ask any well-informed Frenchman why he fears German revenge and he will probably show you a table like this:

	France	Germany
Births per 1000	20.7	26.1
Deaths per 1000	17.7	14.8
Births over deaths per 1000	3.0	11.3
Absolute increase in population	117,000	693,000

Now let's translate these dry statistics into terms of human flesh. Go with me to Loches, that old medieval fortress and chateau city of Touraine where Louis XI planned and plotted.

Near the castle is a little estaminet or saloon. It is run by a widow. Her eldest son, Louis Bertrand, about nine, is "tending bar" for her.

"What is your military class, Louis?"

"Nineteen thirty-three, sir."

The answer comes prompt as a shot. It's the answer every boy in France gives at once, only the date varies. It means the year he will be called up to the colors to serve his term in the French army. Louis knows he will be called ten years from now. All his plans of life and study will be modified by his knowledge.

The thing that troubles France is that the way things are now going there will only be about 60,000 additional Louis Bertrands in 1940-41 while in Germany there will be 350,000. In other words, for every additional soldier France can give to her armies, as a result of increase in births over deaths, Germany can add six.

Official figures for the last two years have filled the French governing class with fear. Not only did the births in 1921 show a decrease compared with 1920, but the deaths show an increase. And furthermore, the number of marriages in 1921 sank to 456,221 as compared with 623,550 in 1920. It is feared the annual number of marriages may fall to the low level of 1913, when only 312,036 couples were married.

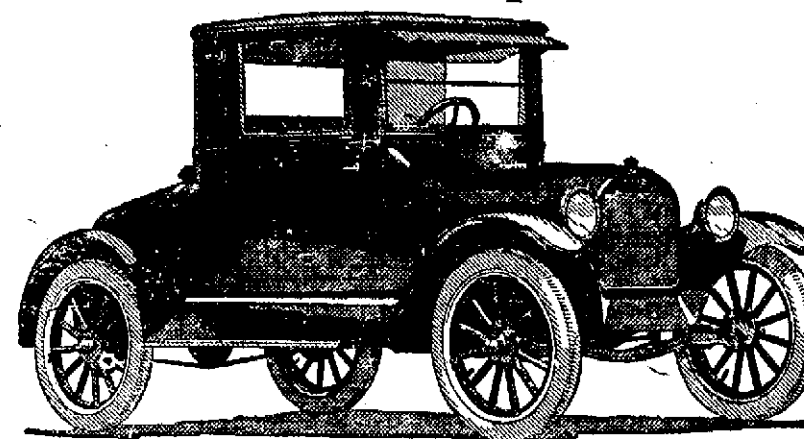

is mountainous and the trails, like Topsy, have "just grown."

However, Mr. Eaton was so impressed with the ability of the little Chevrolet that he bought one and proceeded to take it home to Bee Bee with him.

It was shortly after his unprecedented feat that application was made to the postoffice department at Washington to have the name changed from Bee Bee to Chevrolet. Confirmation of the change was soon made.

KING OF SPAIN IS ONE OF CHANDLER'S NOTED CUSTOMERS

Royal Dispatch Model Captivated Ruler as Soon as It Was Put on Market

When the smart, new Royal Dispatch was brought out by The Chandler Motor Car Company, it was at once apparent that its captivating style and sparkling performance would hold attraction for those who appreciate quality and snappy appearance.

There was no thought of building a car with an appeal to royalty but one of the early purchasers of the Royal Dispatch was no less a personage than His Majesty, King Alfonso of Spain. When Mariano Sancho, Chandler Dealer in Madrid, Spain, got his first glimpse of the Royal Dispatch it occurred to him that here was a car that was "fit for a king." There was only one answer and that was to sell a Royal Dispatch to the king, which he straightaway did.

King Alfonso is fond of driving and frequently takes the wheel himself, as will be noted by the accompanying illustration. The Royal Dispatch has attracted unusually favorable comment and the manner in which this has been followed up by increasing sales of this modish model has been most gratifying. It is evidence of the growing demand for style as well as dependability.

The Royal Dispatch commands the appreciation of those who are young and those who wish to keep young.

A dapper touch has been achieved by the location of the auxiliary wire wheels on either side of the car. A serviceable trunk rack at the rear with its vertical aluminum bars is one of the attractive features of this smart four-passenger car.

Outstanding quality and smartness, the classy look of a custom built car, these are characteristics of the latest Chandler.

The Royal Dispatch is a distinguished newcomer in a family of admitted beauty.

The lines are low and sweeping from the side view—sleek and slender from the front.

Distinctive aluminum steps, too, add to its attractiveness.

An altogether fascinating front view includes a happy combination of the nickel radiator shell and motorometer, with classy barrel-type head and park lamps and beveled glass wind wings.

Driving up to the club porch, or the portico of the exclusive hotel, the snappy Royal Dispatch becomes the cynosure of admiring eyes.

After a round on the golf links, or a match on the tennis courts, luxurious relaxation is afforded by the superlative comfort of the deep seats and smooth spring action of this new Chandler creation.

Aside from being a joyous, buoyant, dominating car in appearance, the new Royal Dispatch is a brawny, sinewy automobile. It has the stamina of an all-round athlete; it is capable of both fleet motion and dogged endurance.

The luxurious body is mounted on the sturdy new improved and perfected Chandler chassis. The surging power comes from the marvelous Chandler motor.

The Royal Dispatch is a useful car—made to order for the keen-eyed, go-getter, optimistic type of person who seeks to be constantly and unmistakably abreast of the times.

Standard finish Chandler twilight gray; optional finish Chandler maroon. Six wire wheels and four oversize non-skid tires regular equipment. Spare tires and covers extra.

CLEVELAND'S TAKE NEEDS OF WOMEN INTO NEW MODELS

Sedan and Coupe to Make Women's Sphere of Activity Broader

Notable, indeed, are Cleveland closed cars for the wider range of advantages they afford to all women. With either of these two styles the woman who has many interests outside her home is able to increase the field of her activities—to get more places in less time and with greater comfort. It conserves her mental and physical energy and helps her to accomplish more without sacrificing domestic responsibilities.

These closed models do away with the most unpleasant phase of shopping—the getting to and from stores in inclement weather. Shops can be visited and a wider selection made in every purchase.

Women praise the ease of handling the Cleveland Six. Clutch and brakes grip instantly and yet an easy push of the foot seats or releases them. Physical shift at a touch and mesh without a sound. The Cleveland Six can be turned in a very small radius. This is a decided advantage in congested districts.

The sedan and coupe have proven particularly adaptable for feminine requirements, in driving comfort as practical convenience. By eliminating all the disagreeable effects of travel and furnishing every refinement in personal equipage, they satisfy the ideals of feminine taste, they make women independent of every other means of conveyance and then permanent protection enables her to enjoy all the beauties of individual transportation for all occasions and in any weather or climate.

The seats in both models are wide, and deeply cushioned. Throughout, the interior color scheme is gray to harmonize with seat covering of beautiful rich plush. Windows are adjusted by endless chain to any position. A dome light, centrally located, gives forth a soft, mellow glow, which serves to create an atmosphere in accord with the surrounding richness.

Older women particularly appreciate the comforts of Cleveland closed cars. They are the ideal means of taking children to school and on their daily outings. They enable women at every age to see more of their friends more often, to keep in more intimate touch with the world about her, to keep refreshed by interesting trips of any desired length. Every woman owner of a Cleveland sedan or coupe is continually discovering new advantages that contribute to the complete satisfaction afforded by these closed cars.

The attractiveness of a motor car is largely dependent upon the fit of its top. When an automobile is new the top may appear snug and trim, but

Rural Purchases Show Marked Trend Toward Closed Car As Most Popular

"Dort closed cars have so far been shown at more than one hundred and fifty state, county, and District Fairs and the result has been an astounding influx of orders from rural communities for the closed types of automobiles," says John D. Mansfield, General Sales Manager of the Dort Motor Car Company. Mr. Mansfield added that scores of Dort dealers have arranged to exhibit closed cars at coming September and October Fairs.

"This development proves that people of all classes have awakened to the superior utility of the closed car," continued Mr. Mansfield. "In past years the arguments in favor of this type failed to being a large volume because of the great difference in price. Dort decided that the best way to create sufficient volume to make possible a much lower price was to first set the price. This has proved itself a wise decision."

"People living in the country need closed cars even more than those who dwell in the big cities. In winter they need not dread a trip to town, no matter how cold or stormy the weather may be, and in summer they appreciate protection from dust, wind and rain just as much as their city cousins."

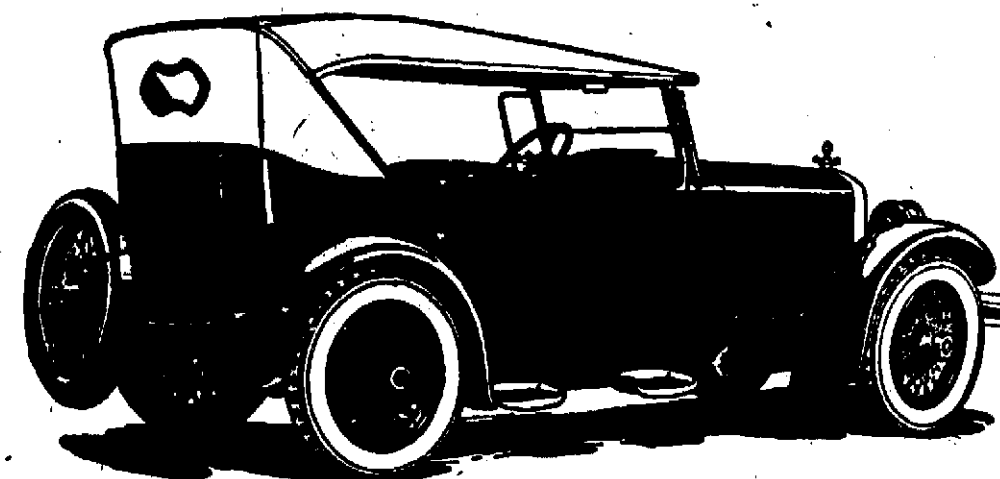

"The really marvelous output of closed cars this year is an augury that cannot be disregarded in the production plans for 1923."

will it remain so after several seasons of hard service? It should, if the top has received the proper attention when it was built.

Many manufacturers in the light car field follow out the practice of building their top and curtains to a form or buck in the shape of a body, instead of individually to each car. The top and curtains are then fit, as best they can be fit, to the car as it goes through production. This procedure is bound to produce inaccuracies in top and curtain building which are impossible to eliminate when this method is employed.

The reason that Cleveland Six tops and curtains fit so perfectly is due to the fact that they are individually tailored to each car. After the top and curtains have been cut and sewed to specifications, they are passed on to the top and curtain makers who build them right on the production line to the job for which they are intended.

This method of top building coupled with the fact that the material used is the finest "Neverleek" material, gives every assurance to the ultimate Cleveland owner, that just as much care has been exercised in building the top and curtains of the Cleveland Six as any other element of the car's construction.

NORTHERN BOILER & STRUCTURAL IRON WORKS

BUICKS NEARING AUTOIST'S IDEAL OF PERFECT CAR

All 14 of 1923 Models Are Given Class "A" Rating —Engine Is Improved

No single season in recent years has seen so many improvements in Buick cars as the present one; and never has the Buick line been so complete.

The engine, for example, is fitted with longer pistons and connecting rods, adding to the smoothness and long wear for which the Buick engine has always been noted. A new rear spring suspension has been devised which is undoubtedly the highest development of the cantilever type yet achieved. The frame, the transmission, the rear axle, the brakes, the bodies and their equipment, each shows the hand of the skilled designer by some new and valuable features.

The insurance companies have rated all fourteen models as Class "A" fire risks, because of the safety of their electrical and gasoline systems and have materially reduced the theft insurance rates. This means a big saving in insurance premiums over cars not so rated; it also indicates the close attention to detail that has been paid to these Buick cars for the season of 1923.

As in the case of the six-cylinder models, the Buick four-cylinder cars have been designed this season, not merely in the sense of giving them a new appearance, but with the object of making them better and more efficient automobiles in every department of motoring service.

These changes begin with the frame, which has been entirely redesigned, and continue through the important mechanical units of the car, from an easier and simpler method of oiling the rocker arms to an improved method of driving the speedometer.

The body is larger and roomier, with lower lines and added grace of appearance. There are new and improved fenders, top, windshield, headlights, side curtains.

There is an improved spring suspension, new upholstery, improved dash equipment, new arrangement of seats, longer and lower steering column, and a number of other features that add materially to riding and driving comfort.

There is a transmission lock to prevent theft, which reduces insurance rates materially. Other improvements place the Buick Fours in Class "A" as fire insurance risks, securing for the owner lower insurance rates.

These are part, and only part, of the changes that apply to all four-cylinder models. Each model has its own special improvements, because each has been redesigned as a unit.

CLOSER RELATION FOR SWEDEN AND AMERICA, IS PLAN

Swedish Students Come to U. S. and Americans Go To Sweden for Research

By Associated Press
Stockholm—The conscious drive to develop closer and more friendly relations between Sweden and the United States was emphasized at the celebration here of the anniversary of the Sweden-American Foundation when 200 Americans and Swedes exchanged felicitations upon the progress made in this movement. Efforts to make Americans and Swedes better acquainted with one another have been in progress for three years and now are about to culminate in the establishment of the high-power radio station on the west coast of Sweden by which direct communication with America will be attained for the first time in history. The Sweden-American Foundation led the movement for the construction of this station but its main function is to promote the exchange of scholarships between the two countries.

To show how the two countries are being brought closer together it was pointed out at the celebration that 12 Swedish students will spend this academic year in American institutions of learning while 10 American students will study in Sweden.

Attention was also called to the increased accommodation for travel between Sweden and America which will be provided by the addition of another big passenger vessel to a line plying directly between Swedish and American ports.

AMERICAN MOVIES POPULAR
American motion pictures are more popular in Sweden than are those of any other country except Sweden itself while Swedish films which only a few years ago were unknown in the United States are now said to be gaining popularity there.

Swedish scientists of note, especially astronomers, are visiting the United States for original research and those who have returned gave unstinted praise to American educational institutions.

Professor Theodore Svedberg of Upsala University, a famous Swedish chemist is going to the University of Wisconsin this year to do research work with American scientists in the field of colloid chemistry.

One of America's religious leaders, the Rev. Dr. Fredrick Lynch, of New York, is delivering lectures in Sweden. Next year Archbishop Nathan Soderblom, head of the Swedish church, will visit America.

FORMER OFFICERS OF GERMAN ARMY FOUND GOING HARD

More Than 300,000 Men Were Thrown Out of Work When Armistice Was Signed

(Special to Post-Crescent)
Berlin—Fighting for a post-war existence in civilian life has proved more harassing than the fortunes of the battlefield to many of the thousands of German officers who survived the war. They numbered some 300,000 at the time of the armistice.

While the majority held only wartime commissions, there were a large number of veterans for whom the lifting smoke of the conflict revealed that they had suddenly been uprooted from their chosen careers and were forced to begin afresh in new fields. It was especially difficult for the aged officers, who were no longer vigorous and adaptable enough to battle effectively in an economic maelstrom already burdened with keen competition.

The German army and navy in peace times included an active officers' corps of 55,760, of whom 50,960 were in the military forces. When the war broke out, this list was augmented by 270,000 of those who were retired or on reserve. In addition, there was the commissioned staff of the medical branches numbering 33,406. The total loss in the corps amounted to about 55,000 killed and 96,213 wounded.

Since the Treaty of Versailles permitted the retention of but 4,000 officers in the Reichswehr, a vast majority of the war survivors became factors for absorption in civilian pursuits. Today they are to be found in nearly every walk of life, some having even resorted to the position of waiter and porter in order to gain a livelihood. Some were connected with trade, labor, or industry through family ties and thus found situations comparatively easily. Others returned to official positions, and a part enlisted in the newly-organized Security Police.

A considerable section of the former officers turned to university callings; particularly could they be seen at judicial and medical lectures and in polytechnic schools. In the first period of transmission, some worked in subordinate executive positions as assistants and some at manual labor, even as minors.

There are none of the larger banking and industrial concerns today in which former officers are not active. In some banks one runs across and occasional general. Former staff officers were in positions to receive tempting industrial offers because of their unusual preparation and their knowledge of languages. Already before the war, officers were in demand in the insurance field as inspectors and agents, and this number has been noticeably increased. The automobile industry, too, has attracted many. Detective agencies and warehouses have Rome—Moved by the belief that Italy and the United States should know each other better, resident Americans founded here since the war the Library for American Studies and the Italo-American Association.

Both organizations are prospering. The library, located in the Palazzo Salviati, contains between ten and fifteen thousand volumes on the United States, and a large number of American magazines and newspapers employed them in divers capacities.

In short, the huge network of Germany's trade, commerce and industry is fairly dotted with these former heads of companies, battalions, and other units in the old war-time armies. A summer course for Americans has been opened at the Rome University. The meetings are held in the Palazzo Salviati by ex-Ambassador Tittori, now minister of Public Instruction, and special lectures will be given during the course by professors Boni Venturi, Gentili, and other well-known men.

VALLEY M. C. CO. TAKES OVERLAND COMPANY AGENCY

New Representation in This Locality Is Arranged by Milwaukee Bureau

Valley Motor Car, company of Appleton and Menasha has taken over the agency for Overland automobiles for this locality and will have charge of all sales in addition to the handling of the Studebaker line of cars which the company has sold for several years.

The Valley company was chosen after the territory here and at Menasha had been surveyed carefully by the Milwaukee branch and an organization picked that could give the desired sales and garage service. The new models of all types soon will be shown in the display room.

AMERICA'S COMFORTABLE CAR
These are the needs of the day in personal transportation.

1. Economy. Economy in first cost plus economy in operating costs and economy in upkeep over a long period of use.

2. Comfort. And this means not alone the physical ease you have a right to demand from the motor car of your personal choice at any time on any sort of road, but the mental ease that can come only from the confidence the Overland immediately gives its construction.

3. Power, with light weight. The ability to go wherever business or the lure of the road calls, power as expressed in those ample reserves of speed and pull which merge into practically effortless motion.

4. Convenience. A car whose first cost provides you all the conveniences of equipment you need for immediate use.

Judged by these standards, Overland, at its remarkable new low price, is today the greatest automobile value in the world.

With all the advantage of the Overland there is no need to pay more—and certainly no advantage in paying less.

The Overland Touring Car is that ideal combination of rugged reliability, continuous economy and buoyant riding comfort the public has long sought in low-cost motoring.

Everywhere the fame of Overland increases. It is the most successful light car ever produced. It is a light car that remains the most economical car on the road in all sorts of owner service. Its upkeep is so small an item because it has been built so sturdily from steels that resist wear.

Overland owners average 25 miles and more to the gallon of gas. Your Overland comes completely equipped.

FOUR DOOR SEDAN

Here is the incomparable light-weight closed car. In its three years of increasing popular demand the Overland Sedan has met no rival in comfort, richness of finish, quality of performance—nor price.

The unequalled light-car riding comfort of the Overland comes from the Overland Triplex Springs. Because of this exclusive spring suspension, you get the actual riding ease of heavy expensive cars. Overland Sedan shows great economy in the use of gas and oil.

OVERLAND ROADSTER

In the Overland Roadster you are getting practically two cars for the one price. The trouble-back is quickly removed to permit the substitution of a box panel, or a light express flare-board body. These slip-on bodies fill a big need in the day's work of the merchant and the salesman.

An unusual value is provided this Overland roadster. For social purposes, for the farmer's quick trips to town, for the salesman who must cover a wide territory, there is no car in the market of greater endurance or greater economy.

OVERLAND COUPE

The all-around usefulness of the Overland Coupe has won for it a high popularity. It is a light, nimble, inexpensive personal car. It is particularly popular with physicians and surgeons, with business executives, lawyers and bankers because it provides them with convenience and swiftness of getting about anywhere in city traffic or on the country road and adds a dignity their calling requires. To the comfort, power and economy of the Overland Touring Car, the Overland Coupe adds the refinement of its closed-type coachwork in a roomy comfortable body. Back of the driver's seat is a convenient parcel compartment.

POWER AND ECONOMY

The Overland power plant is Overland-designed and completely Overland built. The motor is a model of simple design and efficiency. It turns up 27-horsepower on brake test.

It is a powerful, rugged motor with an efficiency that delivers more than the usual number of miles from a gallon of gasoline. Owners like its power on the hills and its spirited running on country roads or city streets.

Motor, clutch and transmission are a unit. These vital parts are completely enclosed and are thus protected from mud and dirt.

The transmission is of the selective, sliding-gear type—three speeds forward and reverse. The clutch is of an improved type, easy to operate and splendidly efficient. The clutch runs in a bath of oil.

NASH'S CLIMB TO FAME IS HELPING TO MARKET CARS

Manufacture of 93 Per Cent of Car Within Own Plant Holds Appeal

In the purchase of an automobile careful consideration should be given, not only the car in question, but the responsibility and standing of the manufacturer as well. The published financial statement of The Nash Motors Company at the end of 1921 showed that company to be in about the most liquid and healthy financial condition of any manufacturer in the automobile industry.

In five years Nash Motors has arisen from twenty-fourth to seventh place in volume of annual business among all motor car manufacturers. This rapid and sound growth is of significance to the automobile buyer because demand for a product is measured invariably by the value it represents at its price.

The Nash car is built almost in its entirety within the walls of the wonderfully equipped Nash plants. In point of exact fact, 93% of each Nash car is manufactured by The Nash Motors Company. From all facts the factory has been able to gather, the Nash car is more completely of its own manufacture than is the car of any other American builder.

This means much to the owner. It means first of all that the Nash Motors Company is in a position to absolutely govern the quality of its product. It means lower overhead cost in manufacture with the saving thus effected passed on to the buyer in the list price, for the Nash prices do not include the profits of parts makers.

No other car of the Nash class ever attained anything like the Nash volume of business in the first four and one half years of production. This speaks weightily for the value of the Nash car and is strong evidence of nationwide good will it has built up in so short a period. This good will is the result of careful manufacturing. Every Nash car has satisfied over 3000 inspection tests before it leaves the factory to be delivered to its owner.

OAKLAND OFFERS
FIFTEEN THOUSAND MILE GUARANTEE

Refinements in Engine of New Models Gives Basis of Performance

Because of the improvements and refinements made in the engine of the New Oakland Six, the most remarkable guarantee of engine performance ever written for an automobile is given by the Oakland Motor Car Company.

This 15,000 mile written guarantee is positive assurance to buyers of the New Oakland Six that excess oil will not get in the combustion chambers of the motor. No other company in America has ever given so broad a guarantee.

It is made possible because Oakland engineers, long experienced in the development of internal combustion engines, and with the laboratories of the General Motors Corporation at their disposal, for research work, have solved the difficult problem of eliminating "oil pumping."

By developing a new piston, utilizing a new piston ring and by means of a new process in finishing cylinders, excess "oil pumping" has been stopped. As a result the forming of carbon and the fouling of spark plugs has been reduced to the minimum.

The overhead-valve engine of the New Oakland Six gives the greatest power with the lowest fuel consumption and also gives a flexibility unknown to any other type of engine.

So flexible is this engine that it can be throttled down to ten miles an hour in high gear and quickly accelerated to racing speed in a very short distance. It is an economical engine and Oakland owners regularly report an 15 to 25 miles to the gallon of gasoline.

The Rev. W. A. Newing left Saturday for Janesville, where he will supply the pulpit of the Methodist church on Sunday. Janesville has one of the important churches of the conference which was left to be supplied.

SUNDAY'S GAMES
Manitowoc at Menasha.
Appleton at Green Bay.

The Wisconsin State league will complete its schedule with the close of the games this weekend.

The final round finds three out of the four teams in the circuit with equal chance to cop the pennant. Appleton, which had been playing in hard luck all season, is out of reach of the flag.

Manitowoc, entrenched in first place by a half a game, is scheduled to play Saturday's game at Green Bay instead of the home field. Jack Herzog was won over Friday to transfer the game to the Bay city where the pulling power is the biggest.

MANITOWOC DETERMINED

Determined to retain the bunting at any cost, Manager Herzog has obtained Bill Evans of the Simmons Bedmakers to hurl the game against Menasha on Sunday while in Saturday's game Bob Trentman was scheduled to toe the slab for the Shipbuilders against Green Bay.

In order to stand a chance to win the pennant, both Menasha and Green Bay must win their games. Manager Harold Leopold of the Falls has secured Tim Murchison and Jimmy Dodge as his pitcher in the crucial contests. Dodge is to throw the Manitowoc battle while Tim Murchison will work against Appleton on Saturday.

INDUSTRIAL CONTEST

Proceeding the Appleton-Menasha game will be a contest between the Whiting Paper company and Menasha Printing and Carbon company teams for the Industrial league honors of Menasha. So keen is the rivalry between these two teams that the management of the Menasha ball club induced Manager Harry Sylvester of Appleton to transfer his game to Menasha and thus be in the position to benefit from this additional drawing card.

Clarence Pocan was scheduled to do the twirling for Appleton against Menasha and on Sunday Stock will pitch against Green Bay. Stumpf will do the receiving both days. Other Paper City players are Sylvester, first; Gill, second; Bergerino, shortstop; Smith leftfield; Stack centerfield and Duran or Bayer rightfield.

Smithson and Williams are the Green Bay hurlers and it is unknown which of the two will hurl the ball against Sylvester's aggregation Sunday.

FISHING WATERS

I would rather have a light wind brooding the water in small waves any time than fish when the water is perfectly calm and quiet. When the surface is broken a trifle with just enough wind to keep your boat moving along slowly, then the fishing is usually its best. This applies particularly to casting for bass, and for muskellunge let me have quite a nice dash to the water with a few waves breaking here and there, for that is the time the old rough fighter likes to swim around feeding on the other fish which have a hard time keeping their sea legs and not much time to look out for the savage old barbarian who is out hunting them.

The bright sunny day is about the poorest fishing day and this is particularly so in July and August when the hot rays of the sun make the shore waters uncomfortable and the fish go down in the holes for a cooling off. When the day is cloudy, however, one can fish right along and fish at home in their usual haunts than when the sun is burning through one's shirt. In the early and late season, however, the game fish are just as actively on the feed when the sun is out as any other time, and in fact the warmth of the sun brings them to the shallows at that period. They probably realize at the tail end of the season that the warm weather is soon going to fade away and they like to sport around and feed in its warm rays that penetrate into the shallow water, and enjoy life a trifle before the ice sends them way down below for the winter.

When the surface of the water is broken by a light wind you will find that the fish do not see quite as clearly or quickly as when the water is still and for that reason the lighter colored lures are the best, and the pork rind or natural bait will be more effective in a spoon or spinner is used. On the dark cloudy days the white artificial is very effective and the nickel or silver spoons better than those of the duller copper or brass.

TIGERS BEAT MACKS, 8-2
Detroit — Detroit made a clean sweep of the series with Philadelphia, taking Friday's game, 8 to 2. The Tigers solved Harris for extra base blows at opportune times.

Batteries: O'Neill, Harris and Perkins; Ehmske and Bassler.

MARQUARD FORCES PITTSBURG TO LET GAME GO TO BOSTON

Brilliant Fielding Helps Braves Halt Rush of Buccaneers

Boston — Pittsburgh dropped its last Boston game of the season on Friday when Marquard pitched the home team to a 4 to 1 win. The annual inter-club series now completed, gives Pittsburgh a 12 to 10 advantage. Powell's hitting and outfielding was a big factor in the game. Brilliant plays were contributed by Ford, Maranville and Henry, Boston's new first sacker from New Orleans.

Batteries: Carlson, Glazner and Schmidt; Marquard and O'Neill.

PHILLIES TRIM CARDS

Philadelphia — Two home runs in succession by Henline and Lee in the ninth inning with none out gave Philadelphia a 10 to 9 victory over St. Louis in the final game of the series here on Friday. Henline had three home runs out of five times at bat. Rogers Hornsby hit his thirty-sixth and thirty-seventh circuit clouts, the latter tying him with Williams, the American leader. Hornsby ran his hitting streak to thirty games by getting a single in the first inning.

Batteries: Sherdell, North, Fertica, Dock, Sell and Clemons; Weinert, Winters, Ring and Henline.

GIANTS BEAT CUBS

New York — The New York Giants made it seven in a row and three straight from Chicago on Friday by winning the last game of the series 7 to 6. As Pittsburgh lost to Boston, the champions increased their lead to six full games over the Pirates. New York scored five runs off Osborne and then was held hitless by Stueland until the seventh, when two more were tallied off Cheeves. Carmen Hill, Indianapolis recruit, pitched well for the Cubs until the ninth, when the Cubs staged a rally that netted five runs. Scott relieved Hill and fanned for the last out.

Batteries: Cheeves, Stueland, Osborne and O'Farrell; Scott, Hill and Snyder and Smith.

DODGERS CLOUT CINC

Brooklyn — Brooklyn took the odd game of the series with Cincinnati 7 to 2 here on Friday. The Dodgers hit both Keck and Gillespie, while Cadore kept the Reds' hits well scattered. A sensational one handed running catch by Tommy Griffith which ended in a double play was the fielding feature. Manager Moran and five Red reserves were chased from the bench by Umpire Sentelle. The Brooklyn and Chicago clubs play a double header on Saturday.

Batteries: Gillespie, Keck and Hargrave; Cadore and DeBerry.

FRACTURES SKULL IN FIRST GRID ACCIDENT

Grinnell, Ia. — The first football accident of the season occurred here when Robert Cushman of Iowa Falls, a junior at Grinnell, suffered a fractured skull in collision with another player.

CLOSE PRELIMS FOR DEMETRAL-MYERS GO

Madison — John Evko, Chicago, contender for Strangler Lewis' heavyweight wrestling title, will meet Jack Romanoff, Detroit, the Russian bear, in the preliminary to the Jimmy Demetral-Johnny Meyers championship match at Monona park auditorium, Sept. 24.

Evko is going great around Chicago and has been challenging Lewis continually but has always been ignored by the champion. He is beginning a strenuous campaign to eliminate a mass of contenders and prove his right to a title match. Romanoff, a prominent grappler, has been wrestling top-notchers for several years.

Demetral is continuing his training but is already in good condition and is doing light work to prevent him from becoming stale. A record crowd is expected to attend the bout.

SUNDAY'S GAMES

Hortonville at Dale.
Freedom at Kimberly.
Black Creek at Interlakes.

As the standings are now, Kimberly and Hortonville are apparently firmly set in first and second place, respectively, but since these are the days of many strange events no one can tell how the figures will look next Sunday when the County players wind up the season.

In order to beat out Kimberly, Hortonville will have to win its next two games and of course Kimberly will have to lose all, including the postponed game with Dale. Kimberly has won six and lost only one for the last half of the season. Hortonville is five games to the good out of eight.

CLOSEST RACE

The race is closest between Black Creek and Dale. There is but a half game difference between them. Freedom invades Kimberly Sunday with Nelson as its leading hurler. Schommer will do the catching. Manager Behrend of Kimberly is making an effort to go through the season without any further losses and for this reason he is still hunting for a pitcher. He expects to have his new "star" signed sometime Saturday.

Hortonville will engage in a baseball argument Sunday at Dale. The regular lineup will be used by both teams. Remmel is the Hortonville pit tosser and Niles will throw for Dale.

PLAY HOME GAME

Interlakes will play its last home game Sunday with Black Creek as its guest. The Pulp Makers have high ambitions but unfortunately last week's game placed them fifth from the top. Manager Kessler is trying to finish up the season with the next

6 MORE DISTRICTS FOR H. S. CAGERS

Janesville — There will be sixteen districts this year to determine the high school basketball championship of Wisconsin. This was announced by Fred Holt, Edgerton, secretary of the Wisconsin Interscholastic Athletic association.

The six new districts will be added to the ten now in existence at the nine state normal schools and Stout institute. The purpose of the new plan is to provide a more adequate means of determining district champions and give a greater number of schools an opportunity to compete for the state title.

PLACES NOT ANNOUNCED
Selection of the six new districts will not be announced for several weeks. The association has practically concluded the new arrangements, but has a few minor details to complete before making the localities public.

The state meet will be held at the University of Wisconsin as last year. However, instead of ten teams competing, there will be sixteen.

At a hearing by the W. I. A. A. on the $25 fine laid upon Beloit college, for inhospitality and violation of the association rules, the association confirmed its previous action, says Holt. Findings were that the college failed to submit for approved names of officials to the Beloit college invitation basketball meet; that the college charged admission to the Beloit-Ripon basketball game after publicity went out that tournament players would be admitted free, and that teams were not met at trains upon their arrival, being left to find their own way to the college, and that proper guidance was not given to fraternity houses.

ENDS BELOIT MEETS
Beloit has not paid the fine, according to Secretary Holt. The association's action means that Beloit will not be able to conduct an invitation tournament this year with the approval of the W. I. A. A. It also predicates that no high school in the state will be permitted to compete in any athletic program under the auspices of Beloit college and any that does will be expelled by the state governing body.

CHICAGO CHEESE MARKET
Chicago — The cheese market continued firm Friday on all styles and dealers generally expressed much confidence and were holding firmly for their asking prices. The active inquiry Thursday developed into a good volume of business in some quarters while in others, trade was only fair. The majority of sales reported were at prices closer to outside than inside figures, and in some cases the smaller lots were bringing a slight premium.

WEEKLY BUTTER REPORT
Chicago—Cooler weather and heavier storage holdings combined to cause the butter market to lose strength, according to the weekly butter review of the federal bureau of agriculture economics issued Saturday. Fancy butter held steady but generally the quality of fresh butter was poor and wholesale prices on 92 score lost one-half cent, closing Friday at 35 1/2; gain of one-half cent.

for the week was reported at New York
Boston and Philadelphia closing prices were 40 cents. Some export inquiry tended a better feeling in the New York market. Under grades generally were slow to move. Unsatisfactory conditions in the fresh butter market led to increased use of storage goods as shown by decreased holdings, the report said.

Big Small-Home at Low Cost

Copyright, 1922, Architects Small House Service Bureau.

CEILING HEIGHT 8'4"

This three-room bungalow, though small and unusually simple in design, really possesses extraordinary merit in many ways. If you study the floor plans below and compare them with the perspective drawing you will see how perfectly this home meets every requirement of a modern small dwelling. Its compact design, convenience, splendid room arrangement and many comforts show the sort of expert planning that is seldom given to a three-room house.

This home should be reasonable to build, having an almost square plan, a simple type of pitch roof, and no waste space or materials. The beauty of the home depends upon its good lines, proportions and a few carefully studied details like the triple window in front, the pretty bay on the side, the dignified hooded entrance.

Stucco seems to be the logical material in which to carry out the design, although the house can be built of siding exterior if desired. The plan calls for frame construction with stucco on metal lath exterior, stucco chimney, and a shingle roof. The casement windows likewise maintain the spirit of the style. There is a ventilated attic space under the roof.

This house can be placed on a 38 foot lot. It is a bungalow type with all the rooms on one floor. The feature of the plan is the living room. It is unusually large with a brick fireplace corner cupboards, and the room has been so designed that the dining table can be set at one end. At the other end is a huge coat closet.

Though small, the kitchen has been specially designed to lighten kitchen work. It is supplied with plenty of cupboard space. The large, square bedroom has an ideal place for the double bed, a big closet and windows on two sides.

If extra sleeping accommodations are desired, an in-a-door-bed can be installed in the large closet off the living room.

Forecasting the Winter From A Fashionable Point of View

Fashions like events cash their shadows before them and the fashions for the winter of 1922 are casting most interesting silhouettes which indicate for the coming season a development of the lines of the season past and at the same time show departures from the fashions we have known.

The silhouette remains pretty much the same, straight of line, falling almost directly from the shoulder to the hem of the costume with merely an indication of the belt line. In spite of this similarity of silhouette there are several outstanding points of definite fashion interest about the new garment for the fall and winter.

The placing of the belt line and the length of the skirt are the two most striking differences. In the first place there is nothing literal about his present fashionable waist line for it is not placed by the up-to-date designer in the same anatomical position we once judged the place for it. We still refer to it as the "waist line" rather because it is a substitute of what we once knew as such. The real waist line is like the ear, it has not been shown for an age.

WINTER DRESSES GO TO BOTH EXTREMES

In this one feature the winter dresses go to both extremes and while some of the designers accentuate the long waist line and the low girdle by making them lower even than they have been, others seek variety and a new note by raising the girdle to an empire line and place it high under the bust.

In either case the girdle is pretty apt to be finished at the front or side front with a handsome and interesting ornament. Sometimes this ornament is lengthened by long tassels of beads or fringes of the same color and again it is accentuated by folds of the material falling in full draperies from it, to entirely encircle the figure.

All skirts are draped either entirely or in part. Some drape all their fullness to the side after wrapping them selves snugly about the hips others fall straight the entire length of the skirt and depend upon the overskirt for drapery.

In general the hemline is with the exception of a few, and this often reaches to the floor. Some evening gowns form a train. Skirts as they have been in the long as the designers and will hope to have.

They are also full. However is artfully concealed so arranged that the skirt falls as straight as did the tubular ones of another year.

PROMISES OF HEAVY BLACK SEASON

While some colors are shown, it promises to be a heavy black season and black combined with white will be very popular for early fall.

A new dress that has recently come over from Paris is made of the black and white satin successfully combined and embroidered with pearl beads and gold thread. Black is said to be the informal dinner dress and no wardrobe is complete without one on its list of dresses. One of a new crepe material known as "Trigodette" is shown with a round neck following the broad shoulder lines and the straight blouse falling from a fitted yoke to a beautifully draped skirt. The skirt is caught at the left side front with three long black silk tassels that fall to the bottom of the dress and at the other side appears the only contrasting note on the whole dress a handsome buckle of braunians from which hangs a long point that scarcely escapes the floor.

Another dinner dress that is very new in design is made of black lace and black chiffon. The front of the dress is of the chiffon accordion pleated which falls straight from the neck to the bottom of the gown. The back and sides of the blouse are cut in one and catch low under a fuchsia girdle of chiffon studded with steel nail heads. From this girdle falls a full circular skirt of the lace, the points of which come to the front and catch to the girdle. The sleeves grow wider as they reach the wrist and are banded with the fuchsia chiffon again studded with rows of the steel nail heads.

A dinner dress is distinctive for two interesting features. One is a latticed effect that forms the yoke about the shoulders and the lowplaced girdle on the skirt which is made of the same crepe fabric as the gown. The other is a cape of real hand made Chantilly that falls full across the back from the shoulders and grows to long points at either side which are caught about the wrists with more of the latticed crepe. This dress is shown in white with the lace of black in striking contrast.

STRAIGHT AND PLAIN BLOUSES
For the young ladies who make their bows to the world during the coming season, is a charming frock for informal occasions. It is made of white georgette trimmed about the skirt with many rows of narrow Valenciennes lace which finds its way round and round the skirt. The blouse is cut straight and plain to blouse just a bit over a girdle of self material which is held at the front by two large rings of pearls through which pass the ends of the girdle weighted at the ends with long pearl tassels.

A dress that has a style of its own and an individual way of attaining it is made of crepe Elizabeth and trimmed with silk braid. The waist is made with long sleeves that are wide at the waist itself at the top applique motifs of velvet and felts and many short scraps of fringes that lend themselves in a fascinating way to the most novel effects.

Fringes are only used in the shorter varieties and many tassels are still seen in bead and silk combinations either in the color of the dress or to introduce a note of contrast. These tassels are long some of them reaching the entire skirt length and while some are long straight strands of beads or silk caught under large and fancy knotlike tops, others length with cross bars or buckles to match those at the top of the tassel. Big heads in all the high Chinese colors are used as trappings for the tassels and serve as weights at the ends of many of them.

GIRDLES LOOSELY WRAPPED

Girdles are still shown on many of the most popular of the new models. They are made of beads of different colors combined to harmonize with the gown. Strands of beads loosely draped about the dress suggest rather than form a girdle of lace or net and the soft drapes of satin charmeuse crepe or velvet.

Girdles made of the same fabric as the gown are also shown, some of them loosely draped entirely about the figure others passing across the back flat enough to seem like the yoke of the skirt part of the dress, and then draped in fold at the front or hanging down either side in long ends leaving the front of the dress unbelted and hanging perfectly straight.

This straight line at the front of the dress is one of the most decided features of the winter mode and is accentuated by the fact that the back of the dresses are blouse over a low neckline. This is particularly true of street costumes which are unusually smart this year. They are made not unlike the coat dresses of last season in that they make appropriate costumes for street wear with a fur collar or they are equally suitable for later in the season, to be worn under the fur coat.

EMBROIDERY IS POPULAR

esting as to sleeves, inserted panels, and cape and panel effects. A cape coat dress is finished at the neck with a braided roll of padded tan crepe which ties at the shoulder in a bow. The same gown has loose panels that may be worn three different ways, either hanging straight, caught under the girdle or wrapped about the neck in scarf fashion in case the weather warrants it for warmth.

A street dress of navy twill might almost be a chemise dress were it not slit from the neck at the side front to the bottom of the skirt to disclose a panel of silk and gold brocade. This panel finishes at the bottom with a deep fringe in a new shade known as Coeur de France which matches the brocade and hangs almost to the floor. The dress is girdled with real amber and carved ivory Chinese beads and the girdle clasps at the front under a carved ivory buckle of Chinese design.

WORN THREE DIFFERENT WAYS
They are made of the twills and serges and are simple of line inter-suits are being shown for the fall before the weather becomes too severe for them to be comfortable. These will be shown in the soft duvetyns and similar materials with the skirts made straight and comfortably short. The coats will follow the long lines for the most part and will blouse about the hips and roll high about the head with collars of fur or of the material and cuffs to match the collar. Twills and whip cords will also be seen in the more severe models and they will be trimmed with stitching and other tailored effects. The most dressy models will be embroidered and braided with fur applied at the neck and wrists and additional bands placed according to the design of the coat.

An effort is being made to revive the circular effects in skirts and also in the lower part of the suit coats. This requires a nipped in tight fitting coat above the waist. Variations of it are sent over by the French designers, but American women seem to prefer the coats built on more box like lines.

CAPE AND COATS

Capes and coats still vie with one another for popularity but be it a coat or cape the new wrap must be full with sleeves so designed that the casual observer might mistake it for either.

In summing up the fashions for the coming winter it might be said that garments in general will be straight, but full, skirts will be longer, waist lines will be higher or lower but never normal, sleeves will still tend to the dress most of its individuality and its decorative interest and girdles of different kinds will appear during the coming season in as great numbers as in seasons past.

Black will predominate again, though many colors will also be seen, particularly in combination with black. The crepe silks and the soft as well as the tightly woven woolen materials will be used for the dresses and suits and fur, embroidery, braid and stitching, fagoting and other unique forms of trimming will be used for the day time dress, while lace, beads, garlands of flowers, buckles and other gayer, glistening trimmings will appear on the evening gowns.

For evening wear metallic laces, materials, and braids all will be shown for nothing lends a more festive effect to the evening party than the glistening of beads and metal. Draped effects are coming back in great numbers and such gowns are trimmed with fringes, tassels and very striking ornaments depending however on their own soft folds for the greater part of their charm.

Good Evening!

The Bride's Trousseau

Imagine, if you please, festoons of flowers—just a breath of them—and the wedding bell and the bower; imagine the bride's gown of white georgette, crepe de chine, Canton crepe or satin, beaded or embroidered, and trimmed with trills and trills of lace ("simplicity touched by the finger tips of genius"), with bodice caught into a corsage of orange blossoms. Imagine quaint, lacy sleeves, and tiny shirrings, and little rosebuds grouped like "Cupid wings"; imagine the bridesmaids' Frocks of daintiest material—and you will have a picture that should bring you to GlouDEMANS-GAGE Co., to see the picture itself—to see the exquisite Frocks in this glorious showing for brides.

The thought is, that everyone should make preparations here and now. Certainly you will not fail to remember that the smartest Bridal Frocks are at GlouDEMANS-GAGE Co., priced at 19.75 to 37.50.

Traveling Suits

Traveling Suits that are notable for correct originality, taste and refinement of design as well as for quality of workmanship and material.

Smart Blouses

Blouses of georgette or crepe de chine, materials so fine they might have been woven on a spider's loom—and the delicate shades, the styles, of such appeal in their refined, distinctive fashions—you'll love them at sight.

Silken Underwear

Silken Underwear, fresh and lovely, softly frilled or tucked, with sweet little ribbon bows—or delicate laces. Teddies, Knickers, Vests, Camisoles, Bloomers, Gowns, Hosiery, Gloves—everything so beautiful.

The Bride's Hat

There's a certain definite charm about these pretty Hats for Brides. For one thing, they're very becoming. They achieve the Parisian touch by new and clever innovations in styling. Fairest prices.

Veils for Brides

Veils of fairylike delicacy, ethereal in texture, and when draped artistically, will prove very becoming. Our Veils for Brides cast a halo of loveliness over the Bride and the occasion. Made to order, if desired.

New Wool Frocks, 9.75 to 39.75

In This Season's Most Favored Styles

The soft, rich materials of Poirer Twill, Wool Crepe and Tricotine express the graceful tendencies of the new mode. The new draped effects, fitted waists and skirts more full than in recent seasons, are very smart and becoming. Many are embellished with rich embroideries and braids. With or without collars; long or three-quarters length sleeves, finished with stylish cuffs. Sizes: 14 to 48.

It's Economy to be Well Shod

Over a million well dressed women have learned that these perfect-fitting shoes wear longer and retain that graceful shapeliness without which there is no real style.

And in addition, there is that luxurious "bare foot comfort" only the shoe which fits perfectly can give. If you would follow the wise example of these women your footwear choice will be the same as theirs—

Reviewing FASHIONS FOR FALL in Men's Clothing

While simplicity and conservatism continue to rule men's fashion there is a tendency to break away from some of the austere lines that have dominated the designs of the last few seasons.

Novelties will be pushed to the background, particularly in the apparel for the better dressed man, although the jazz and rah rah models which had a spurge this last Spring will be the main lines of some of the cheaper manufacturers.

All efforts to bring forth anything that is out of the ordinary have been rebuffed and the pendulum of style always swings back to the plainer and more dignified models. While women's clothes undergo radical changes from season to season men's apparel follow certain lines with almost religious fidelity.

STYLE CHANGES NOTED

Here are the most notable changes which will appear in the three important groups for men's clothing:

The first long trousers, commonly called high school or pep suit, running in sizes up to 37, show high waists, narrower coats, draped skirts; one and two button coats with peaked lapels. Some have slanting pockets; others have regular patch pockets in front.

The coats are high chested, with square shoulders. These are the stylish modifications of the extreme coats that have been prevalent earlier this year and are shown in both the double and single breasted styles.

The second group leans toward the regularly fitted models, with two and three button coats. Some have peaked lapels; others the notched lapels, with regular pockets. They follow more closely than any other group the lines of coats of the past season.

The third group promises to show the widest range of change and if advance information is correct is expected to be the most popular. The coats are of the looser type, with softer construction of fronts. They are made with three and four buttons and have regular pockets.

The three button coats are identical with the four, except for the wider spacing of the buttons. These coats carry a short roll lapel, short straight vent, and are worn much looser than other types. This style is an odd growth of the coats made popular by college men. Because of their construction they will demand a wider trouser, which may be worn with plain or cuffed bottoms.

As for prices, coats are practically stable. The manufacturer has passed through the period of readjustment and has placed his business in order. Unless the unexpected happens there will be no radical price changes for another year or two.

LIKE DOUBLE-BREASTEDS

The vogue of the double-breasted coat promises to be as popular as last year when there was a greater demand for such style than there had been for several previous seasons. Although they will not be featured with any decided emphasis they will receive more than their share of attention.

As for the trousers of most suits the style apparently has reached a happy medium. Neither the tight bottom nor bell-shaped trouser legs are to be worn extensively, but the general tendency will be styles that are straighter than heretofore. In some instances where no cuffs are worn the pant legs will break over the shoes.

The five-button vest will be with us again and the cut will be a trifle longer, particularly the points to conform to the new ideas.

DARKER COLORS THE VOGUE

As for colors there will be no partiality shown, although the darker shades naturally will have the call. But there promises to be more of the lighter tones shown than ever. Brown, which is as staple as sugar, as well as blue, will be as strong as ever. There will be an ample presentation of grays, greens and mixtures.

The stripe idea in patterns which has been favorably received in recent seasons will continue in popularity, but there will be a slight variation of this idea in which there will be a combination of checks with stripes. Most of these designs are small and dignified.

There also will be shown a choice variety of the new diamond weaves, which originally was used in Overcoatings, but, of course, in larger designs.

LOOSE RAGLAN EFFECTS

As for overcoats the style tendency is toward the loose raglan effects and the large English type ulsters, with half or full belts. Many will have the convertible collars and patch pockets; some are made with plain backs. Others will have yokes and inverted plaits.

The new things in young Men's Overcoats will be a full coat, forty-four inches long, with regular shoulders, small self collar and lapel. The sleeves are plain; there are three patch pockets and they have button through or fly fronts. This is the new type for college men who substitute an angora muffler for a storm collar.

Double-breasted models appear to be most favored, but some of the better makers are showing dapper single-breasted styles, particularly in the lighter weight coats.

You will not find many fur-trimmed models this coming season, but the detachable fur collar of beaver or other promises to come in stronger than ever. Such collars permit the wearer to make changes in a jiffy to fit climatic switches.

DETACHABLE COLLARS FAVORED

Fur-lined coats, of course, will be worn only in the coldest sort of weather and largely by motorists who are out a great deal. Since it appears that reduced prices of fur would make one believe that fur will be used more extensively than ever, the reverse is the condition, due largely to the trend of conservatism.

The practical idea is overcoat fabrics is back again. For several seasons the soft fluffy fabrics were the vogue and while they made up beautiful they failed to give the desired service. Now the makers are putting firmer cloth in their overcoats and this, of course, will result in greater satisfaction to the wearer.

TOPCOATS REGARDED ESSENTIAL

The topcoat, now regarded by most men as an essential part of their wardrobe, naturally is being worn more than ever. There is no radical changes in the styles, but the most important thing pertains to the tailoring, which after all makes the real style of the garment.

EVERY 4th MAN WHO WALKS IN THIS STORE IS A NEW CUSTOMER

To increase our business whether it deals in coal or cologne—matches or meats—the store must first of all keep its old customers and then add new ones.

We're going to increase our sales this Fall by 30%—therefore every 4th man who walks in these doors will have never been here before.

Now then: Our old customers know us—but if you do not—this adv. will tell you that we are the kind of people you'll like—the sort of folks who are out to win new faces by keeping our present family albums—intact.

The Clothes Men Will Wear This Fall

WALTMAN -TRETTIEN

Fall

Opening

AT THIS TIME, when the flying leaves of the waning summer proclaim a New Season, styles in the New Fall Apparel and Accessories are of great interest to every woman. All women will be enthusiastic over these costumes of the moment. Our Fall Opening is a showing of a charming array of new fashions and furnishings in a variety of styles, colors and materials. They have been assembled here from the foremost style centers for your inspection. Combined, with their beauty and our high standard of QUALITY, you will find our usual LOW PRICES. Come in and compare. You are cordially invited to view our new Fall Merchandise during "STYLE WEEK," Sept. 18-23.

Over Blouses

The smart overblouses are not only the latest and most desirable styles, but are also very attractive values. The trimmings are very attractive and exceedingly original, and the workmanship is of the best. Early buying insures you of a selection of styles that please you.

Fashions for Larger Women

There are no more distinctive costumes in the Fall Opening than those designed for larger women. Fashion originators have brought out Fall Suits whose straight lines forecast a smart appearance. Frocks are notable for panels that drop below the hemline achieving a fashionable and at the same time becoming silhouette. Indeed the height of fashion and the mold of form characterize these new costumes.

Milady's Lingerie

What goes beneath your fashionable frocks promises to be quite as lovely as the costumes themselves. An excellent display awaits you of silk and muslin garments, in plain and fancy weave, others adorned with fine laces and with ribbon bows and silk roses lurking in filmy folds.

Fabrics full of Inspiration

BOLTS and bolts of billowy crepes and of nappy Woolens present many possibilities for the woman who sews. Woolens and Silks were never more attractive than this Fall assortment. The rich texture of Satin faced Canton, Duvetyns, Chiffon, Velvets, etc., gives one an inspiration to transform them into Autumn wearables. TRIMMINGS, according to Dame Fashion will be very much in evidence this Fall. Costumes will be richly ornamented with peasant motifs, silk fringe, beaded cabochons, metallic ornaments and a variety of braids. SPANISH LACE FLOUNCING in black, navy or brown adds the finishing touch to an evening costume.

Smart Autumn Hats

Here you will find the most charming of Autumn styles to suit every type and for all occasions. Straight brims, rolling brims, chic off the face hats, smart side turns and large Gainsborough shapes characterize these new fall hats. Touches of silver are prominent in trimmings. In feather ornaments, coque, burnt goose, biot and feather Pom poms are in use.

Prices $4.50, $6.00, $9.00, $12.00 to $20.00

Draped Lines Lend Grace to FALL FROCKS

MANY NEW FROCKS will be necessary for the affairs planned for Autumn, if one is to enjoy the season. Our new collection of Fall Frocks has been assembled. They indicate, of course, fashion's latest whims and you will find them altogether charming.

CANTON CREPE and Satin Faced Canton still lead in silks. Black is the big color favorite with navy and wood brown trailing closely.

SIDE DRAPED STYLES, fastened with buckle or beaded fringe are very prominent. Look for the long waisted effects and those that are bloused. The straight lines are also good.

IN WOOL, Poirer Twill and Tricotine are the favorite materials. Embroidery and bead trimmings are good. Many panels are used giving the new long lines.

Prices $12.00, $15.00, $25.00, $50.00 up to $85.00

Furs and Embroidery Enrich THESE WRAPS

THE LARGE ROOMY SLEEVE still holds its own in fashion's favor, and though this season's coats are designed on wrappy lines, they are every bit as comfortable as they are different looking. Innovations in drape treatment greet the eye on every side.

YOU'LL LOVE TO SLIP INTO ONE, OF THEM drawing its rich fur collar snugly about your chin. You'll experience a luxurious sensation just from handling the velvety new pile fabrics, Gerona, Lustrola, Velverette, Fashona, Norman Glo, Marvella, Modetta, and Panvalam of which they are fashioned. Black, Navy, Japan, Sorrento, and wood brown are the leading colors. In Fur trimming we have Beaver, Wolf, Nutria, Raccoon, Krimmer, Caracul, etc.

Prices $15.00, $25.00, $37.50, $50.00 to $250.00

A Suit to Wear Immediately

Smartly tailored, handsomely lined and trimmed, these are indeed exceptional suits. Their slim straight lines are becoming to almost any type and their material is of an excellent wearing quality. They comprise a really unusual offering of Autumn Suits.

THE LOW PRICES on our New Suits will be a great help in selecting just the one you want for immediate wear.

Prices $15.00, $22.50, $35.00, $42.50 to $75.00

Furs of Exquisite Beauty

THERE is a regal luxuriousness about these handsome Furs that will tempt you to buy them. Chosen like jewels, for their flawless beauty and perfection of form and color, worn too like jewels to enhance the loveliness of woman, are the fur scarfs and luxurious coats. You will find many beautiful furs in our fall display, such as Coats, Capes, Stoles and a great assortment of smart Chokers.

THE LOGICAL TIME to select your furs is now while stocks are large and complete.

Fur Coat Prices—$35.00, $75.00, $125.00 up to $475.00

Colored Linen Handkerchiefs

These Linen Handkerchiefs are made of excellent quality and their high class finish makes them wonderfully attractive. With spoke hems and embroidered corners they are an extra good value at 50c each.

Autumn as the Younger Set Sees It

The younger set this Fall follows closely in the footsteps of the adult fashion world. Utility coats are manish in cut with breast and patch pockets, raglan sleeves and belted backs. The dress coats feature the soft piled fabrics with soft fur collars and embroidered bell sleeves. Even Frocks are like the grown-ups in their color combinations and stylish lines.

This season Children's apparel is practically styled in fabrics which stand the wear and tear of playtime. The low prices will please you.

The New Chateau Gloves

Chateau Gloves have the stylish appearance that gives the final touch to the smart Fall costumes. The gauntlet and two clasp styles are very popular. The colors, beaver, mole and mode will be worn for Fall. The Chateau Glove is an imported French Kid of the best quality and is famous for its perfect fitting. The prices are lower for this season.

Corsets

Your new Fall wardrobe really begins with the corset, since it is the corset that often determines the fit of the costume.

LOW TOP MODELS with the bones so placed as to give graceful support with very little restraint, furnish the perfect satisfaction you have a right to demand of your corset.

GOSSARD MODELS form a perfect foundation for the street costume or the dainty frock. They give that charming uncorseted effect that is the present vogue.

The New Neckwear

NET GUMPTES in an extensive assortment contain every style you would want including the new sleeveless. All are lace trimmed and some are hand embroidered in dots and puffs.

EYELET EMBROIDERED COLLARS in bramley style are made especially to use with sweaters. Special at only 59c and $1.00.

Fine Silk and Silk Wool Hosiery

YOUR HOSIERY completes the effect of your Fall costume. Fine Silk or silk and wool hose are a rare combination of beauty, quality and durability, the very things you demand of your hosiery. The all silks are plain or with fancy lace clox; the silk and wools are heathered or have the hand embroidered designs.

The New Valance Cretonne

GEENEN'S

Sturdier Clothes for Young America

by Chester Feitel

Cease lamenting you fond mammas who have regretted time and time again that your Johnny wasn't a Marv. "Cause there's a heap more fun dressing a girl."

What with Boy's Clothing smarter and more attractive every season, and girls patterning their after brothers, there's very little difference—unless it's that Boys' Clothes are better styled and tailored if anything!

Risking the displeasure of feminine style constituents, we're bold in quoting that "imitation is the sincerest flattery." Just notice the mannish coats, sheared locks and knickers girls are affecting, and you'll understand what we mean.

REVIEWING BOYS' FASHIONS
A general review of the Fall and Winter style for Boys impresses one with the colorful patterns and weaves of the woolen fabrics. These are noticeable in both Suits and Overcoats, but are particularly emphasized in the latter.

Black and white mixtures and shades of tan, brown and green are best liked. Some are developed for Overcoats in soft finished, fuzzy fabrics, but more hard finished woollens are observed this season than for quite a while. And they DO give much better wear.

COATS ARE LOOSE FITTING
Voluminous, loosely fitting Coats are much in demand—Klavacies and Raglans are very popular. Belts are inevitable, either at the back or completely encircling. Capacious patch pockets are noted on almost all Boys' Overcoats, but these are often combined with obliquely inserted breast pockets with very swaggy effect.

Collars are deep and full are comfortable and smart in all weathers but delightfully protecting in severe spells. In speaking of Overcoats, one must not overlook the plaid reverse sides many are showing.

INTERESTING SUIT DEVELOPMENTS

Boys' Suits show an extremely pleasing variety in styling. Pinch back models are much in demand for the older Youths—some are made with yokes and inverted plaits. Norfolks, too, are well liked. Patch pockets are a prominent feature—coats button high with short, stubby lapels, and produce an exceedingly jaunty effect.

Suit models for Juveniles are equally clever and distinctive. A Norfolk Suit that buttons all the way up through the neck is much favored. Middy and Sailor Blouse Suits hold their well established places—an innovation is the use of kimono sleeves on these.

One piece knitted Suits for the wee tottler are so cunningly picturesque and quaint with their pointed caps to match, that one's attention need hardly be directed to a vogue so universally indorsed. Eatons, Tommy Tuckers and Oliver Twists lend a pleasing diversity.

FURNISHINGS FOR YOUTHS
Furnishings for Youths, of course, reflect the style tendencies of their elders. Striped Cravats are much in evidence. Noticeable is the preference for solid colored Shirts of tans, grays, whites, etc. Those with collars attached, buttoned down models are favored.

At The FIRESIDE

In the beginning was the fire and then home was built around the hearth stone. The fire and its place was the center from which radiated all activity and comfort. Today modern equipment with all its efficiency has removed the necessity of having a fireplace in the home as it has also made unnecessary candle light, but modern improvements can never supplant the charm, cheerfulness and homeliness of a ruddy fire of glowing embers upon a cool autumn night. There is much conversation and good fellowship when the candles are lit and set above the mantle and a crackling log sizzles and sputters in flames.

ANDIRONS LEND CHARM

So andirons and fireplace fixtures are becoming more and more regarded as important to the well being and availability of a home as a havenport, an easy chair and a good reading lamp.

The andirons should carry out something of the general design of the house. If the place is a temporary abode one need not be put to much expense since small cast iron andirons in black would serve. One good thing about the black irons is that they can be easily kept, and need only be brightened up at times with a coat of paint.

Wrought iron andirons are more permanent in character and strength. They are not so likely to break by falling on the hearth nor will they burn out in the shanks. Wrought iron usually goes well with a red brick fireplace and oak woodwork. One would use wrought iron or cast iron in a home where its general appearance expressed the note of rusticity. Summer homes and cottages would naturally use the iron in preference to brass or bronze.

NATURAL GREY COLOR

Hand wrought irons can be had in the black finish or in the natural gray color of the metal. This gray color is particularly attractive since it makes the fireplace look a little brighter when not in use, instead of showing a sooty cavity which is often unsightly. If new wood is laid upon the shanks and the soot rubbed off from the fireclay and a wire screen set in front the fireplace, it can appear just as attractive as when in use.

If one's furnishings and woodwork are in the more delicate colorings such as French ivory or gray, or perhaps mahogany, brass andirons would be appropriate unless wrought iron of elaborate French or Italian design with a bit of polychrome is used. There are several kinds of brass which are offered. There is the plain polished brass which needs considerable elbow grease to keep in condition. Then there is the lemon or satin lacquered which needs no polishing except an occasional wiping off with an oil rag. The lacquered brass pieces should keep their finish two or three years before needing refinishing again.

One of the best finishes for brass is what is known as "burnt brass" or oxidized brass, appearing like dull bronze. This finish requires little care and even if the lacquer wears off the natural tendency of the metal is to imitate the general color of the and iron. The oxidized brass with cleaning such as one would give his furniture should last over a long period. Andirons of this color give that wholly desirable appearance of having been in the home for years.

ATTRACTIVE AND COMFORTABLE

A beautiful fireplace can be built by using a mantle in gray of Adam design. A good roomy opening would measure about thirty inches high by forty wide. Andirons in oxidized brass or a combination of wrought iron and a dull brass in Adam lines are suggested and they should stand about two thirds of the height of the opening. Then kindle a good fire. Have handy the trusty poker and tongs to play with, add a screen of ample height to protect the rug, and what more could one ask with which to spend a quiet evening with his books and comfy chair?

Stratford Clothes

The Style Clothes of America

Stratford style has long since represented all that good tailoring could accomplish. In Stratford Clothes, it is not only a matter of design, cutting, material, color and trim—it is the artistry with which all these various units are fabricated into style.

Stratford styles are recognized nationally as being authoritative and as setting the pace for fashions for men. Naturally a man who wears Stratford Clothes, is always confident of being dressed in accordance with the newest style dictates.

There is a quiet elegance about Stratford Clothes that bespeaks good taste and environment; and a custom finish that is attainable only, by a few of the leading tailors who have international reputations.

Fashions for Autumn Opening

IMAGINE the famous salons of Paris and the houses of noted American designers transplanted to our own apparel sections if you would have some inkling of how great a style mecca this Exposition has made this store.

MISSES APPAREL is a very important part of this opening. In fact to the girl who loves clever up-to-the-minute togs this is the one all-important sight.

Her frocks, her suit, her wrap, even her hat—all the things the young miss needs, and that is a good many, are shown now in their latest versions; just the advance styles that youth adores.

THE SUITS

THERE is no fashion law that rules the ways of Fall Tailleurs. That is why they're so attractive—their diversity of line and jacket length, of garniture and fabric hue makes them so.

THE WRAPS

RICHLY luxurious affairs they are—you'll feel very regal wrapping one about you—with their breadth of skirt and blousing back, their frequent flair for all-over embroidery, and their very effective introduction of fur.

THE FROCKS

THE thrill of a new Frock—there is always that but the biggest thrill comes now at the start of Autumn when there are the very latest fashion whims to choose from: the draped silhouette, the puckered crepes, the uniquely braided models.

MILLINERY

YOU'VE no idea what mysteries a visit to the Millinery Section will unfold. There are Scooped Brims and Metallic Fabric Hats. Oriental Toques and Ribbon Slashed Capelines. Hatters' Plush and Silk Velours compose crisply shaped Sailors and many Dressy Brimmed Hats boast a swirl of coq feathers or a sweep of ostrich.

WE'RE INTO THE FUR SEASON NOW

YOU can add no smarter accessory to your street costume this very day than a jaunty Choker of sable or stone marten, and you know that it won't be very long until you will be glad to snuggle down deeply into a Fur Coat. The Coats and Wraps from which you are invited to choose are exquisitely designed on the luxurious straightline silhouette established for the present season. Mink, kolinsky, caracul and fitch, all supple pelts that lend themselves to graceful manipulation are most used to interpret these new Fur fashions.

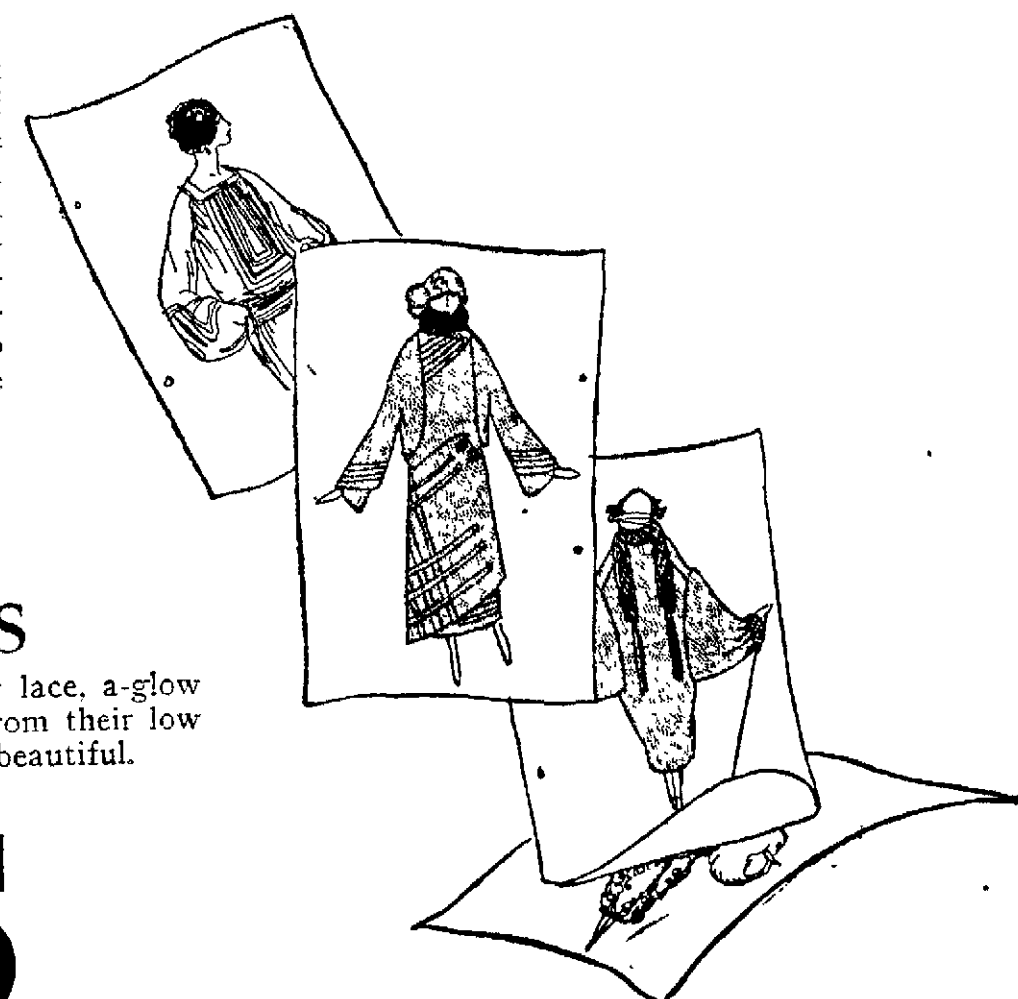

By having your Furs Remodeled by our expert furriers their style correctness for this Winter will be assured and their beauty greatly heightened.

EVENING GOWNS

A-GLITTER with metallic trimmings and silver lace, a-glow with luscious shades of silk, trailing panels from their low placed girdles these Formal Gowns are exquisitely beautiful.

What's Correct in MEN'S SHOES

by O.A. Engel

net are with us again, with almond, green and maize. For slippers there are offered many perfectly charming effects, combining straps and sandals generally in plain satin. Crystal cloth, silver and gold brocade appear now and then. But the jewels, oh, the entrancing jewels! All sorts of arrangements of rhinestones with colored stones, cut steel and little fringes, ah, these attract the feminine eye.

NOVELTY BUTTONS AND FRINGES

Buttons of cut steel with or without pendants seem to have it all over buckles. Then there is the cunning little fringe which is laid over a single strap. Sometimes it is of even length, then again the fringe is graduated. Possibly tiny pendants hang in the fringe. And Paris shows jeweled heels—in fact all sorts of fancy effects in heels, obtained from lacquer, embroidery or stitching.

For every day, shoes are low. One may choose from black or brown kid in oxfords, or patent leather. For some, there are gun metal calf oxfords and tailored effects combining bands and panels of oze in colors. In the strap patterns (almost never more than two straps) are found similar leathers. In popularity, patent arrives first, next comes black kid, and last of all medium tan calf.

MANY STRAPPED MODELS

Then if one cannot find exactly the right little boot among those mentioned, there are several combinations of leather from which to choose. Gray oze is trimmed with patent leather or gun metal, while black oze is similarly trimmed with patent and gun metal. Among the softer shoes for afternoon wear are many of the pretty leathers in strap patterns. Again patent leather comes first, then follows black satin and black kid. After that one may choose from delightful combinations.

Medium tan calf trims fawn or beige or perhaps it is supplanted by brown patent leather. Patent or black kid trims gray oze as in the case of the more severely tailored shoe.

And Paris, ever new, lets my lady wear the most charming little red heels, whenever her costume is scarlet trimmed.

SANDALS FOR FALL

Of course, Fall disapproves of the liberal use of sandals. But who could resist this patent leather sandal, with a gray oze quarter, to which a gray strap fastens itself with a single button? And all this firmly planted on a one-inch covered Cuban heel.

Then there is another pretty patent leather sandal with a two-button single strap all gayly stitched with white. Another of the smartly tailored boots has a wide pointed band of oze outlined in patent, firmly bound across the instep. Its quarter is patent, and oddest of all, its heel was covered with tan.

One sees some lattice effects in tan oze. After covering the instep these smartly lace up the side. There is an abundance of styles from which to make one's choice.

In the midst of so much oze, it is difficult to choose. For a patent leather strap May completely mar the map.

between the light tans and dark browns. Blacks, dull and gunmetal finishes will be worn by those who have never held colored footwear in esteem.

BUTTON SHOE FOR DRESS

The once popular button shoe will be restricted to formal or semi-formal dress. These will be found in the patent leather footwear with the cloth tops. For social functions the patent leather oxfords with light hand turned soles will be worn extensively.

Because of the increased use of oxford spats, will be worn more than ever, principally for the protection they afford, as well as style. The lighter shades of fawn, tan, pearl and beige are favored for dress occasions, while the dark grays, browns and black for every day wear.

MANY LIKE BLUCHER STYLES

Blucher styles are finding a more responsive cord than heretofore, for they afford better fitting qualities. While there is a class of young fellows who dote on style, even if the footwear is ill fitting, there is a greater following each year who turn to comfort as the deciding factor in the purchase of footwear. For the latter class the manufacturers are making what is known as the composite lasts, marked by the wide room ball and toes, narrow heel to keep the shoes from slipping and the narrow instep.

AUTUMN-Well Shod Steps Forward

By Marjorie Howe Dixon

In tracing the illusive shoe mode, one must first determine the dominating features of a smart woman's costume for Fall? What colors has she adopted? What skirt length does she favor? In which direction has she reacted from a brilliantly-hued Spring wardrobe?

As to this matter of skirts there is diversity of lengths. Morning and sports demand a short skirt, and as a result a low heeled shoe. Afternoon and evening wear finds dresses longer, about eight inches from the ground. For these occasions the heel is higher, while for an elaborate evening costume the heel, receives especial attention and is profusely decorated.

COLORS ARE SUBDUED

Then again there is in this question of colors. Fall demands a lower key this year, in color tones, most of the vivid colors favored by Spring having been laid aside. For street wear the browns are favorites, tobacco brown, and the various shades of castor and fawn. Deep notes in burgundy red, smoked grays, navy and twilight blue have appeared in many smart outfits.

For evening wear, more brilliant shades are favored, a lovely sea blue being one of these. Scarlet and garment are with us again, with almond, green and maize. For slippers there are offered many perfectly charming effects, combining straps and sandals generally in plain satin. Crystal cloth, silver and gold brocade appear now and then. But the jewels, oh, the entrancing jewels! All sorts of arrangements of rhinestones with colored stones, cut steel and little fringes, ah, these attract the feminine eye.

Refreshing Expressions of Fall Modes for Women and Misses

RADICAL changes are to be in vogue this fall;---changes that signify a determination to break away from the stereotyped modes of the past seasons and to give full play to individuality.

You will find here exclusive creations, embodying the very newest and most striking innovations in design and silhouette, waiting to lend their charm of line, grace and elegance.

Fashion has regained all the subtle lure of the half concealed charm, and the gracious effect of soft and flowing drapery. Delightful are the changes from the short knee-high to the ankle skirt; from the straight line to the more graceful curves, from short or absent sleeves to long sleeves with striking cuffs and individual design. Never within our recollection have the changes been so radical and revolutionary; entirely disdaining the whims of former years.

We are splendidly ready to serve you with the latest models that reflect whims of Dame Fashion. Whatever is new and good in fabrics, in designing, in trimming will be found in gratifying abundance in our store,—awaiting to rejoice your eye and serve your needs.

Our fall collection is ready for your inspection.

Do you believe in signs?

Well, that is a large question. Being of the times, one must observe and possibly believe in, and at present they are hopeful if not inspiring. The present lively interest in good furnishings for the home is one of the most important of these, and all sorts of agencies are busy at work producing and educating this interest. Lectures on home furnishing, good taste in arrangement, art in the home and so on, are well attended everywhere. And American women are getting on their inspirations as they receive them and remodeling and redecorating with energy.

FURNITURE IS SUBSTANTIAL.

The demand for substantial furniture, good colors and durability in coverings and drapes, attractive lighting, all these are being appreciated by the manufacturer and the demand is being intelligently met.

Among the woods that are much sought after are the two old favorites, mahogany and walnut. These are used all through the home, but in finish or polished sometimes carved sometimes polished. Good wood is coming into use for less expensive pieces, and is combined with rubber or used plain.

Color in home furnishing is now a subject of deep and continuous study. Gone are the days of dull and dismal rooms with their untidy depressing effect. Color is applied everywhere but with the restraint of good taste. It rejoices the heart but does not shout and clamor for recognition.

SOME INTERESTING EFFECTS.

Specific instances of the use of high color are found in the brilliant coverings of some of the large chairs. Important frames for these pieces are heavily carved. Their point and several such make elaborate patterns in rich color for upholstery. One at a time is the best rule for the use of these chairs, although an excellent hall arrangement combined two chairs set either side a hall table. Over the table hung an Italian mirror, while glass candlesticks stood prominently below, guarding a box of parchment flowers. And we must not forget the antique nails appearing as a reflection of earlier styles.

Color again declares itself in our furniture and the painted furniture used almost everywhere. Painted pieces are very popular for the bedroom and as for breakfast and sunparlor sets, why it is really only occasionally that one sees mahogany or walnut finish, in these suites so popular has the painted furniture become.

CRETON AND LIVEN COVERINGS.

Fibre furniture may be had plain or upholstered. Cretonnes and livens for coverings are brilliant as usual. Deeply cushioned as they are these pieces are exceedingly comfortable. Painted finishes are many and varied especially good blended effects having been produced. The better designs in wood furniture are being copied in fibre and there has been an adoption of period styles as well.

Breakfast suites, for instance, are following Italian lines.

For the living room taught can take the place of luxurious over-stuffed davenports and chairs. For suburban homes of size the larger pieces are in demand with pillow arms and spring cushions. But for apartments and smaller houses light pieces are wanted, senyover stuffed with carved bases and front legs.

PERIOD FURNITURE FASHION.

ABLE

the preference being given to Charles the Second Queen Anne and Chippendale. Among the lighter pieces one finds some cane furniture, but the demand for that is growing less.

Embroidered motives on plain tapestry appear on many upholstered chairs and sofas. Chenille edges their deep soft cushions. Damask appears on some of the lighter furniture while mohair is greatly in demand for the large pieces. In this latter fabric plain and figured patterns are used.

It is noticeable that the prevailing desire for simplicity has produced a marked absence of French styles in the ornate periods of the Louis. Their elaborate coverings and scrolls do not accord with real American taste, which is more than ever demanding furniture designs from our own Colonial times. English period furniture of similar design is finding its place among the Colonial pieces.

INTERESTING COLONIAL DESIGNS.

Bedroom furniture and again that in the dining room is reflecting Colonial lines. Very attractive is a chintz hung room with its canopied twin beds, and quaint old rush seated straight chairs. A Windsor rocker awaits one just a little northeast of an oval rag rug from the days of our forefathers.

Another Colonial bedroom has low four-posted beds, and a severely chairs dresser. Its mirror stands between upright pedestals and looks primarily across toward a handsome highboy, adapted to modern needs. Inlaid wood doors adorn the highboy with a wide drawer below. A vanity table with triple mirrors has a low bench to match, and a cunning sewing table on a high three-legged pedestal stands in a corner. Hooked rugs on the floor, silhouettes in oval frames on the wall and round cushions tossed about, complete this attractive setting.

RAG RUGS LEND ATMOSPHERE.

For the breakfast room

Dining furniture is going through a period of adjustment. In some of the newer smaller houses, there is no dining room at all, and a breakfast alcove serves this purpose. A set for such a corner was well designed in Italian style in dull walnut. With benches, a table, and a small buffet the set was complete. Indeed more could not be fitted into this tiny room.

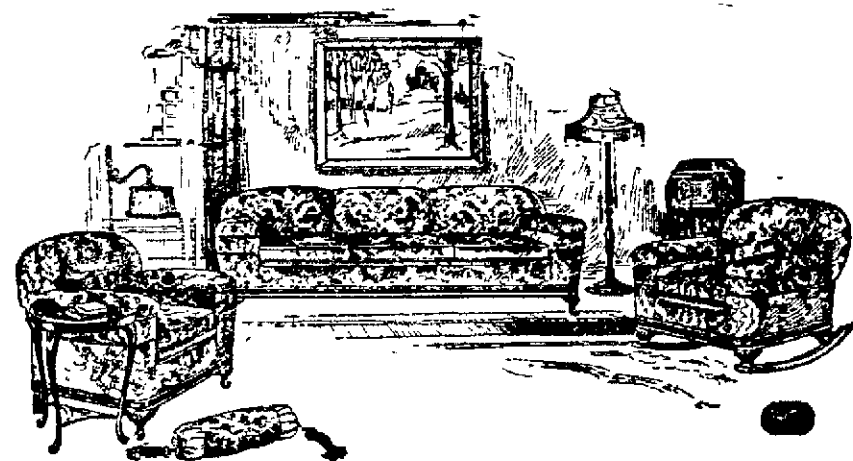

For a slightly larger room, sets are now furnished so that one may select, out of two or three buffets or side tables, the one that will fit in most harmoniously. It is no longer considered necessary to purchase the whole set, and try to jam it uncomfortably into a small room. Dressers with open shelves are popular for the display of one's treasured china or glass.

MORE ELABORATE SUITES.

Among the larger sets is a polychromed Elizabethan dining suite in walnut. A wide handsome buffet with inlays of hurl walnut and carved legs stands across from a high chest of similar excellent designs. The chairs are upholstered in woven tapestry, with a design from the same period. Table legs, chair legs and buffet legs all match with carvings of that period, used with restraint.

Indeed in all the adaptations of old designs to modern uses, a marked restraint is noticeable, in all of our furniture design. This, too, is a good sign of the times.

WHAT'S WHAT IN Men's Haberdashery
By Milton B. Conhaim

Noticeable improvement in the execution of details, meaning better style, better fabrics and better workmanship, will be seen in the fall displays of men's haberdashery. The battle for quality has been waged successfully and once more we are returned to the conditions that featured wearables of pre-war days.

Manufacturers, who in the stress of business caused by shortage of help and inability to get suitable material during the last few years, have turned their attention to the nicety of things. That has resulted in a better finished product—a diverting change to all who seek the distinctive in dress.

WHITE SHIRTS IN DEMAND
Particularly does this apply to shirts in which there will be noticeable better fabrics and detailing. Simplicity, of course, follows. The white shirt has been high in demand by dealers everywhere. Its popularity is ascribed to the natural swing from the high colored silk shirts in which the candy stripes and loud effect predominated.

The trend is toward the solid colors, with tans and grays in the pastel shades dominating. These, of course, apply largely to the finer grades of madras shirts.

The white silk shirt will find its place in the sun, but the plain silks will find as companions the satin stripes and jacquard effects. Colored silk shirts, with variegated stripes and other effects are losing in favor.

TWO-BUTTON BAND CUFFS
One of the newest things in shirts will effect the cuffs. The two-button band cuffs will be worn more than ever, but of course will not supplant the present day French cuffs.

Collar-attached shirts in madras, poplin, chevrons and flannels will be shown more than ever. The reason is found in the improved making of collars for such shirts. Heretofore the makers apparently took little pains in putting good collars on even high shirts.

Neckwear gaudier than ever will make its bow this fall. That means the artillery or college stripes will be the vogue. This is in contrast to the usual somber effects that mark the beginning of the fall and winter season. Many will show the diagonal stripes in combination of two and three colors, featuring such as blue, silver and black, tan, gold and brown, etc.

GRENADINE TIES GOOD
Grenadine ties which reached the height of popularity this last Spring will continue to be worn by good dressers and this season many new combinations of stripes and other effects are to be had. Bow ties also will be in good form, with designs in three different styles, plain, dots or stripes.

Because of the increasing popularity of Oxford for men's footwear we'll find more wool hosiery worn than ever. Featured for this coming season are the fine importations, principally from the English Isles. They have brought to us an exceptionally high grade selection marked by its unusually fine weight, yet having sufficient warmth.

Among other hosiery one can select from camel hair or cashmere. Heather mixture and darker shades of blue, brown and gray—also black—are shown. Fine list and fine hose in fashion's best colors will remain in favor.

The pajama innovations which appeared last season will continue in favor. One is the coat that is buttonless, put on by slipping over the head and the other is the climatic, with the draw string in the trousers. The latter is fitted and stitched to the coat which relieves the aggravation occasioned by slipped strings.

LIGHTER UNDERWEAR FAVORED
In Underwear for fall and winter there is a tendency toward the lighter weight garments. This is due in a measure to the better heated homes and "warmth without weight" Ulsters are the latest of days.

Collars for fall are a trifle higher than they have been recently, still low enough to make them exceedingly comfortable and stylish in appearance. The short, pointed models are preferred.

FANCY FADS IN KERCHIEFS
In handkerchiefs fanciful fads are coming in strong. Colored borders and decorative effects are being displayed. Some silk and fine linen ones are being treated with one, two and three harmonizing colors. Colored initials and monograms are being used, even the white handkerchiefs. Pongee, which is normally a summer fabric, will be found among the fall stocks.

The better dressed men will wear two pairs of gloves. Buckskin or heavy cape is favored for every day service, and kid or suede for evening wear. Dark brown or gray is the preferred color and both plain and embroidered or belted backs are given equal consideration.

THE CONTINENTAL CLOTHING HOUSE

The Home of Hart, Schaffner Marx Clothes

Furs are Designed to Flatter and to Comfort

Every fur that has ever been seen before will be seen again this year and some perhaps that have not been used as wearing apparel, or as a trimming for suits and gowns will be brought forth and fashioned into something to adorn the stylish women for the winter of 1922.

Coats and wraps will vie with one another for first place and both will be shown. For day time wear the coat is perhaps the smarter after several seasons of dolmans, but for the dressy occasion and the evening affairs the cape is the wrap of preference.

LONG FUR CAPES
These capes for evening wear are made of mink, seal, of ermine, kolinsky and other short nap furs trimmed with deep cape like collars or stole shaped reverses. Many of them are gathered full on a yoke that fits snugly about the shoulders and they grow wider and wider as they near the bottom of the garment.

Linings for the capes are all the light shades. Some of them are the soft silks or satins embroidered in large designs, trimmed with contrasting ruffles of narrow ribbons. Others are the brocades with the designs woven into the fabric, shown on some of them in the one color, in others in contrasting colors. The metal fabrics in the delicate shades are also shown trimmed with pleatings of chiffon applied in stripes near the bottom of the garment. At either side of these bands are often shown bands of metal galoon, or narrow metal edged ribbons shirred as a finish.

SLEEVES MUCH ABBREVIATED
Sleeves in these wraps, if they could be called sleeves, are either just slits or are slits cuffed with narrow bands to match the fur of which the cape collar is made.

One lovely coat made of ermine is shaped to fit the shoulders as closely as would a fitted yoke and then falls in circling fullness to the heels of the woman who wears it. The hands protect themselves from the wintry blast in cuffs that band the slits in the sides of the cape and form the semblance of a mitt when the hands are held together at the front.

This lovely cape of fur is lined with turquoise chiffon shirred and puffed in the most fascinating and intricate way.

SQUIRREL FOR EVENING WEAR
Squirrel too is considered very smart for evening wear and a wrap that attains its widest at the elbow is made of this fur and wraps about the figure, giving it a barrel shaped silhouette. There are not even slits for the hands in this model, but the collar stands high about the head without doubling back or crushing. It is lined with jade brocade banded with gold galoon.

The fur is cut and sewed together so that it forms a wide band of striped effect about the middle of the wrap.

Day time wraps of fur are made of the darker pelts, seal, kolinsky, sable and mink. They are both capes and coats, and are particularly attractive in the unusual use of the fur and the workmanship by which it is cut in stripes and sewed together forming squares, fan flares, and other designs.

Many of these garments are trimmed with the longer furs as fox, marten, fish and wolf which form large collars and deep cuffs as well as wide bands about the skirt of the coat or cape.

ELABORATE GIRDLES USED
The fur coats are made with deep arm holes, long waist lines, bugle rolling collars and are girdled with metal girdles, many of which are jeweled and buckled with very pretentious fastenings.

Long heavy silk cords that end with large fancy tassels are also shown on the winter coats and seem to be the most popular of all girdles, though not so individual as some.

Girdles in the bright colors are developed in kid, suede and the leathers in all the high shades. In some of them patent leather is effectively used. They are perforated in interesting designs, lined with contrasting color of heavy silk or metal cloth and many of them are trimmed with the big brass or nickel nail heads. Buckles that close at the front are made of either the metal to match the trimming of the belt, or covered with the same fabric as the belt itself. Some of them hook or loop and fall to long tassels made of the kid or suede.

STRIKING COLOR CONTRASTS

On some of the most unusual models, silk girdles are shown. Some of them are wide and crushed and others are narrow and faced with contrasting color that shows a bit at the edges. The collars of many of these are held close about the throat with corresponding ties that catch at the front or side in small bows that lend a bit of becoming color.

Blousy backs and straight front effects are also shown in the fur coats and a few are fitted closely to the figure to the waist and then permitted to flare in a full circular skirt.

Sleeves too assume a circular fullness and are finished inside the cuff with linings that shir on elastics tightly about the wrist.

FUR COATS FOR SPORTS

For more practical purposes and for the winter motor coats the racoon and the muskrat are still favorites and nothing in the more dressy furs seem able to take their places with the woman who is out a great deal either for business or for pleasure. They are made to hang full from the shoulder with long loose sleeves and deep shawl collars and are made with the belt which may be used or not according to the whim of the wearer.

EGYPTIAN HATS

Blend the Subtle Charm of the Land of the Sphinx with a Delightfully Modern Sophistication

NO matter how conservative a woman may be in her choice of millinery, she will approve these Egyptian Hats; they skillfully blend the savour of things Egyptian with a modern sophistication that strikes a high note of individuality. Jeweled or beaded cabochons and scarabs or those made of aluminum lend charm to Hats of velvet or metal cloth with clever ear tabs.

On a vatican purple toque the crown drapery of silver metal cloth ends in characteristic ear tabs. A cabochon of aluminum decorates the high purple front.

"LADIES' HOME JOURNAL PATTERNS"

Vivid in Color, The New Hats

Sport hats of felt are still good and one with a crushy crown upturns a rolling brim which is edged with an overlapping row of many colored felt disks edged with silver sealing wax. While the interlaced effect described on the mushroom sailor is very popular, felt is often seen cut out in designs and applied flat to the brim and crown of the hat which retains a simple silhouette, and requires no other trimming.

RIBBONS EFFECTIVELY USED

Ribbons are used in many different ways. They are gathered in and put on as facings to the small toques. They are made into flower-like rosettes, and are interlaced through the slashed brims and crowns of the simple hat. In their narrowest version they are used to carry out very interesting embroidery patterns combined with beads, with applied motifs of velvet, felt or kid.

The use of kid, of patent leather and suede is one of the outstanding features in the display for fall and very novel and imaginative effects have been attained by the clever use of them. Perhaps the most novel of them all is the big calla lily that wraps itself about a center of yellow chenille.

FELTS MUCH LIKED

Felt fringes too are good and many of them are tipped with metal, sealing wax or nail heads to lend a sparkle to the winter bonnet. Perforated felt brims are shown either faced with contrasting color and fabric, or left for the narrow metal ribbons to lace themselves through the perforations.

Embroidery has proved its charm by enduring many seasons, and it promises to outdo all its own previous records in color and designs for the coming season. Worked out in chenille, worsted yarn, in narrow ribbons, in metal thread, combined with beads of all kinds, with cutouts of fabric that contrasts with the material of which the hat itself is made, embroidery lends itself most attractively to the winter mode.

Duvetyn in combination with silk or baronette satin in both the high colors and the more somber shades, promises to be good for fall. Bright colors will predominate for street wear, but there will always be the generous number of more dressy hats made on large blocked lines for the more formal occasions and these for the most part will be of black with colorful trimming saving that of self color for popularity.

FEATHERS ARE SMART

Ostrich will claim a place for itself on the winter millinery and will appear in conventionalized novelties rather than in the sweeping plumes.

Pheasant quills will be very popular as will the glycerined ostrich and the burnt peacock.

Trimnings will show great ingenuity of design and flowers made of yarn and angora, of felt, chenille, tinsel, jet and other materials will all make an appearance during the season. One bunch of fruit that is important is made of cork, painted in the pastel shades, in very lovely tones. The fruit and the foliage are both cut from the smooth cork and painted a flat color.

Autumn Millinery

Formal Showing

CHAPEAUX from a galaxy of designers that includes Kibel, Gage, Fisk, Crown, Catalina, Banks, De Marinis, Washauer, Belnord and Rawak make up our Formal Millinery Showing. Such an array of famous names means that this collection is an authentic presentation of the entire Fall mode. In Monday's displays you will find everything that is considered especially correct for the new season. As color plays such an important part in Fashion, every new color is shown here. There are the new Wood-Browns, the new Vatican purple, Akbar red, Frambois and Poinsetta. One hat is of King's blue, another is Tunisian brown; and many are trimmed with the beige tones of toast, tiffin and muffin. Color is worthy of your special attention Monday.

Fabrics contrive to enhance the color-interest of the hats in these showings. Fine velvets and velours, the returning vogue for Hatter's plush, rich metal cloths and soft duvetyns are effectively used. A clever hat of black velvet is trimmed with a smart bow of black gros grain ribbon. Feathers will delight you in new usages. Ostrich plumes are appearing in many new hats. Vulture, oiled ostrich, haeckel, biux and coque are smart. Monkey fur is used in the same manner as feather trimmings—and quite as effectively. The Fall has developed a decided interest in metal flowers for trimmings. Metal ornaments, queer pins and fancies lend an unusual air to hats.

Fall Millinery borrows its shape from everywhere. One hat is a Russian tiara, with the peaked front embroidered in colored silks. Another revives the famous "picture" hat with wide drooping brim. The days of Gainsborough are brought to mind by another Hats of Hatter's plush have straight stiff brims with the under side faced in crushed silk. Cases and tables are filled with brilliant new things that merit a whole afternoon's study from you. These authoritative showings continue throughout next week.

RUSS CAPITALISTS INDULGE IN WILD ORGY OF NIGHT LIFE

Prices Of All Commodities Are Soaring Daily—Money Value Steadily Drops

By Associated Press

Moscow—Moscow's new capitalists are indulging in an orgy of spending that has enlivened the city's night life until restaurants and cabaret scenes resemble the pinkest days before the war when Muscovite merchants spent money freely. The millions of rubles netted by a day's trade or speculation are squandered at night because tomorrow the money will buy less as prices for everything are climbing daily.

When the ruble was quoted recently at nearly 2,500,000 to the dollar, prices for foodstuffs and other commodities were four to five times as much.

The ruble equivalent of a dollar has purchasing powers that are fantastic when compared with American standards but which accurately typify the real value of essentials as compared to knick knacks and superficial adornments.

A dollar will buy only 20 pounds of black bread, two pounds of butter, four pounds of meat, even less in the line of new wearing apparel. But it will buy a bit of antique jewelry, or porcelain that would bring 10 times as much in America. The necessities have leaped so high in price that the people sacrifice the unessentials cheaply to get them.

The rising prices and decreasing value of currency have sharpened the contrast in the life of Moscow's inhabitants. Thousands are unable to buy even bread while hundreds pay the ruble equivalent of $5 for a dinner at the brilliant night restaurants. Imported face powder, at the cost of $5 a box, finds buyers while a pound of potatoes, costing less than two cents American, may be beyond the pocketbook of the next person to pass the market which sells both of them.

A month ago foreigners living in Moscow found life cheap when calculated in American or English currency. The soaring prices, however, have hanged all this and on a comparative scale the cost of living is higher now in Moscow than in Berlin and New York. It is not the foreigner but the Russian speculator who buys the champagne.

LONDON BOBBY IS 'BAWLED OUT' FOR HITTING PRISONER

Copper in English City Has Mighty Little Protection Against Rroughs

Special to Post-Crescent

London—A London police court judge rebuked a policeman the other day for clubbing a prisoner over the head before arresting him. He did not censure the policeman for striking the man with his club, as he was violent but for striking him over the head with it. He said the policeman ought to have hit him over the legs or on some other portion of his anatomy.

The incident serves to illustrate a striking difference between the comparative freedom allowed the police in America in using force in subduing an obstreperous prisoner and the restrictions that are sought to be imposed upon them here under similar circumstances. And some other differences too.

The man who was clubbed was hailed before the police court judge on the charge of assaulting a police man who was trying to get a drunken woman to a police station.

The policeman said he was surrounded by a hostile crowd of about 200. Whitehead—the man who was clubbed—struck him on the face and body. In the struggle both fell to the ground and someone then kicked the policeman in the ribs. The policeman drew his club and hit Whitehead who was still showing fight just where I could reach him easiest.

In many of London's mean streets a hostile crowd baiting a policeman is as common a sight as in the United States it is a rare one.

Here the policeman carries a "truncheon" which is by no means such a formidable weapon. And if he hits a violent prisoner over the head with it when he ought to have hit him somewhere else, he is apt to get into trouble. Only when he is on a very dangerous "beat" does he carry a revolver. The rough who assaults him ordinarily runs no risk whatever of getting shot and very little of getting badly hurt. Therefore he is not afraid of a "scrap" with a policeman especially when drunk.

There is a strong feeling here against arming the police and it must be assumed that those who have authority over them know their own business best and what is best for the protection of the police.

Clothes Do Make a Difference!

Somebody once said, if you don't believe clothes make a difference, try walking down the street without any.

But clothes in themselves are no longer enough, for clothes that merely cover the body do not cover the situation.

They must have character, style, distinction. They must hang easy, fit perfectly, and add to the appearance and importance of the man who wears them.

You are cordially invited to come in awhile Monday evening, or any day thereafter, and let us show you wherein it is to your advantage to be fitted with our quality clothes and to see the New Fall Furnishings, too!

DECORATIVE Glass & Pottery

There is nothing which adds so much to the brightness and cheerfulness to a home as appropriate glass or pottery. The blues, ambers, lavenders and reds of both foreign and domestic glass and pottery, found in our shops, are a joy to behold and possess.

Venetian glass has long been used to give distinctive character to a room which needed its delicate coloring in lemon, yellows, and ultramarine blues. There are few things more enjoyable to have correctly placed than a wisteria compote or perhaps a pair of candlesticks in citron and mauve with an intricate design in fruits and flowers.

DOMESTIC GLASSWARE ARTISTIC
American artisans are now making decorative glass of great beauty. Perhaps we have not developed quite all the skill of the Europeans in the manufacture of elaborate pieces, but our factories in their products are showing simple and graceful lines and in many pieces brilliant color. Our American glass is much more reasonable in price, and on that account may be enjoyed by a greater number of people.

One make of domestic glass has the quality of resisting heat. An entire tea set in gay turquoise creates an unusual picture for a five o'clock tea. The tea pot belonging to this set may be set directly upon the heat. Your guests can watch the water boil.

WELCOME BITS OF COLOR

Other domestic factories are producing interesting candlesticks, scent vases in pairs, flower bowls in wisteria, Chinese blue, sea green and amber, sparkles from which would brighten any gloomy nook, or corner.

Pottery may be skillfully combined with glass for some occasions. Then there is luster which in the form of a plate or a bowl, has the quality of reflecting lights and colors from other objects about it. A Wedgwood vase of soft cream in chaste and classical lines, or a flower basket of Italian faience would make a handsome centerpiece under a mirror, on a table, or perhaps on the mantelpiece. An Italian pottery pitcher of an Alice blue provides a stunning setting for a mass of golden rod, autumn leaves, or olden glow.

VENETIAN GLASS USED

An attractive table setting may be created by using a shallow Venetian plate in wisteria, filled with artificial fruit, as a centerpiece, on hand-embroidered Italian linen. At symmetrical positions one may stand four deep blue pottery vases, filled with glass or parchment flowers. Then provide each guest with a serving plate of Venetian glass in wisteria and see if there are not many exclamations of pleasure and delight.

HUNGRY MOSLEMS WANT RELIEF OF TURKISH SOURCES

Inhabitants of Crimea Are Inclined to Aid From Christian People

Constantinople—Inclined to be indifferent to relief from Christian hands, the Moslem inhabitants of the Crimea, still in want, are appealing for succor to the people of Anatolia, fellow Moslems. "We have hopes that Turkey, Afghanistan and Egypt will help us," they say through their representatives, "for we prefer a mouthful of bread from the Turks to sacks of wheat from other sources."

Nevertheless Christian relief is going into the Crimea, for the American Relief Administration is distributing foodstuffs there, and Moslems also have heeded the call. Though the Red Crescent delegation to the Crimea, Turkey has sent 10,000 sacks of flour into the district.

The Turkish delegation went to Baghela Serai and to Akmezedjed, the Moslem sections of the Crimea. Its members say the famine is not so acute as it was. Relief is arriving from various sources.

The Crimea today is an independent Federal Soviet republic with a ministerial council composed chiefly of Moslems. The people make walking sticks which are sent to Europe and America for sale, the receipts being used for famine relief. The stricken territories have sent a commissioner to Angora, in Anatolia, the headquarters of Turkish Nationalist movement, who is laying emphasis on the desire for help from Moslem sources.

He describes the situation as bad. Only three schools remain open, he says; there has been no sowing of the usual agricultural products, tobacco, cereals, fruit and grapes, and the harvest outlook is far from promising.

AMERICAN HELP RELIEVES PEOPLE IN RUSSIAN CITY

Odesa—American relief has done much for the people of Odesa.

Four months ago their condition was heart rending. In March and April the city streets were unlighted; starvation killed faster than the authorities could remove the bodies of its victims; the hospitals were in unspeakable distress and from them and the Children's Homes the death carts made constant trips day and night to the city cemeteries.

Workers of the American Relief Administration see today wonderful improvement. The people who walked dejectedly through the streets three months ago now smile, and the children have begun again to laugh and sing and enjoy themselves. They are nothing like the careworn and hunger-pinched youngsters who slunk or crawled about in the spring.

Hospitals now conduct visitors through their wards with pride, for they have clean linen and ample medicine to care for their patients.

Knit Wear

Very fine and particularly unusual knit wear from abroad will be shown in the Foreign Fair. Smart English scarfs, sport hose and sweaters will be prominently featured. The interesting colors and designs form an exhibit in themselves.

Laces

Mr. Babcock has used his expert knowledge in selecting a fine group of rare laces. Hand made Cluny and filet laces, exquisite embroideries and interesting Spanish laces are only a part of this group. There will also be lovely Spanish scarfs and shawls.

Blouses

The newest Parisian blouses will be displayed in the exhibits of next week. The exquisite materials, unusual trimmings and colors will be unique in Appleton. The celebrated French lingerie will also be represented in this section of The Fair.

Handkerchiefs

Such a small item as handkerchiefs has received special attention. Mr. Babcock has secured lovely examples of hand embroidered and hand made handkerchiefs. There are Parisian bits of gay colors or lace, as well as fine pieces of Conventual embroideries.

Purses

Rich leathers have been used in making these fine examples of new bags and purses from abroad. Beaded bags from Paris — leather examples from England and Venice are shown. Exquisite tooling and gilding distinguish these exhibits.

Venetian

Fragile glassware and fine leather goods represent Mr. Babcock's Venetian purchases. The glass includes many exquisite colored pieces. Writing sets, portfolios and boudoir fittings are included in the leather examples. From Dresden, there is a group of dainty boudoir lamps.

Jewelry

A revelation awaits you in the displays of Parisian jewelry — including neck chains, beads, ear rings and bracelets. Such other dress accessories as fans, bandeaux for evening wear, and combs will be of interest for they are the newest of Continental styles.

Gloves

Mr. Babcock has paid special attention to fine groups of gloves. There are French kid gloves and gauntlets, decorated with embroidered or novel applique work. The gloves for sport wear are as unusual as are those for dress purposes. A great variety of colors and styles is shown.

Announce Extraordinaire THE FOREIGN FAIR

Displaying Elaborate Collections of Unusual Merchandise Purchased in a Tour of Great Britain and Europe by Our Foreign Buyer and Expert--Mr. Babcock--September 18th--19th--20th

THE MOST IMPORTANT EVENT OF THE YEAR opens in The Foreign Fair on the fourth floor Monday morning, September 18th. For three days, our Mr. Babcock will display a wealth of beautiful things purchased abroad this summer. Mr. Babcock is an importer of wide experience. The Foreign Fair marks the completion of his first European trip as foreign buyer for The Pettibone-Peabody Company and some of the best known stores in the East and Middle West. The Foreign Fair is a gorgeous exposition of every thing that Mr. Babcock has purchased for these stores. The entire fourth floor of the store will be devoted to this display. Accompanying Mr. Babcock, there will be five experts to aid in displaying the various collections.

Not only are these displays arranged for you to see—but you may also place your order for any article shown. We will gladly send to the foreign mill and have your order shipped direct to you. It is scarcely necessary to point out the advantages of direct importation. Prices are especially reasonable. Mr. Babcock's judgment is as practical as his taste is unerring. He has also gained a great price-saving through the depreciated exchange, which makes imported goods cost less to Americans than to the people of the countries that make them. Of this situation we give you the full benefit. The Foreign Fair opens promptly at nine o'clock Monday morning and continues through Wednesday night.

Rue de la Paix-- Unusual Parisian Novelties

ALL THE LITTLE CONCEITS OF PARIS are at your command in the Foreign Fair. Here are the unusual little accessories of dress that you have always imagined the Parisian women wearing. Here is fine French china that is so very unusual in design. Here are new ideas in interior decoration that the French have evolved.

During the Foreign Fair at This Store you may look over the counters of the finest shop of the Rue de la Paix — that wonder street of Paris. You must attend the Foreign Fair if only for the advance information afforded on what is strictly "en-regle" in the great fashion marts of the old world. Should you desire to own any of these fascinating things—we will immediately order it for you.

Exquisite Italian Linens

TABLE LINENS FROM THE FAMOUS LOOMS OF EUROPE will be spread for your inspection Monday. There will be exquisite and unusual luncheon sets and choice examples of Italian cut work. The finest sorts of dinner sets, with real Filet or Cluny inserts, will constitute an entire display. Another collection will be made up of bed spreads of the finest linen.

Some of these linens will be of the grade of museum pieces, qualities that are seldom found in a department store. Should you desire to purchase any of them—we can order the identical grade for you from abroad at a surprisingly reasonable cost. English down comforts will make an interesting display. They are of the handsomest quality.

Bond Street-- Fine Apparel for Men

SMART APPAREL ITEMS FOR MEN AND WOMEN were purchased on that famous old fashion street of London. Here is an English raincoat that can be imported for you at a nominal cost. One table will be loaded with unusual pieces from the great English potteries — another collection will be made up entirely of fine Sheffield ware.

There will be smart English traveling bags — cleverly made. Perhaps you will be interested in a warm sweater from a Bond Street shop. Men should take a peep at the smartest of English neckwear or masculine handkerchiefs. Mr. Babcock attended the famous English mercantile fairs this season and displays the Autumn styles here at the same time they appear in London. He will gladly give any style information desired.

Wax Figures From Vienna

QUAINT WAX FIGURES FROM VIENNA give another hint of the immense variety of curious bits that will be exhibited in the Foreign Fair. London, Paris, Berlin, Milan and other Continental centers yield beautiful merchandise. There is expert handiwork of peasants. From exclusive designers come new weaves in fine fabrics, lovely ornaments, novel dress accessories.

Assembled on this one floor of the Store will be an array of importations that would take several months to find and see in Europe. If you desire—you may have the same opportunity to shop abroad as a tourist. You are invited to spend as much time as possible here in the first three days of next week. There is a great deal to see.
